News Notes About the State.

The Enquirer estimates that $60,000 have been spent in building purposes in Monroe, in the past 12 months.

Durham Sun: News reached the city last evening of a sad accident which happened near Rogers' Store, in Wake county, yesterday morning. Tommie, the little three year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Vaughan Ray, was burned to death. Mrs. Ray left her little son in the house, where there was a small fire in one of the fire places, while she went out to attend to some duties. She soon returned and found the little fellow burned to death; at least he died in a few minutes after she reached him. It is not known how the accident happened, but it is supposed the child was playing in the fire when his clothing ignited. The mother is almost wild with grief over the sad death of her her little son.

The Salisbury Herald says: It is reported here to-day that Mr. W. A. Winburn, formerly assistant passenger agent of the R. & D. road, was yesterday appointed general passenger agent of the Georgia Central.

Asheville Citizen: Miss Viola Boddie, of the Asheville city schools, has been offered, at a salary of $700, the chair of Latin and French in the new woman's college at Greensboro, N. C. —Powell Cobb, who for some time past has so successfully conducted the Swannanoa hotel in Asheville has added another hotel to his list. Mr. Cobb has just purchased from a stock company, headed by C. M. Peace, the new hotel building, and grounds at Hendersonville.

Monroe Inquirer: Mr. W. P. Broom, who lives near Norwood, in Stanly county, was plowing in his field and plowed over a burnt log. Noticing something bright he stooped and stooped and picked it up and found a silver quarter. His wife, who was with him, at the same time found a silver half dollar. They then began a diligent search in the dirt where the log had lain, their search was rewarded by a find of $32.50 in gold, eight $2.50 pieces, and $12 in silver, halves and quarters.

Queen Victoria 73 Years Old

London, May 24. The loyal town of Windsor pays very little attention to the official designation of the day on which the Queen's birthday is to be celebrated. Windsor insists on celebrating the day that her Majesty was born. So all the houses in Windsor were gay with flags this morning. The bells rang in the churches, and the soldiers fired salutes at the Castle. Wine was served out to the household to drink the health of her absent Majesty and the tradesmen honored with royal favor were invited to the usual dinner, presided over by the Mayor. As the Queen was born in 1819, she is 73 years old today.

As usual on the royal birthday, the bestowal of honors by Queen Victoria on favored subjects is made public. Prince George of Wales received the titles of Duke of York. Earl of Inverness, and Baron Killarney. Sir Julian Pauncefote, British Minister at Washington, received the Grand Cross of the Bath, and Chief Justice Lacoste of Quebec was promoted to knighthood.

THE EYE, EAR AND THROA

Eye May Be Dim and Beard Be Gray.

For Tax Payers by Old Fogydll.

Eye may be dim and beard be gray,
No matter in what clime,
Age may have pleasures just as gay,
As when in boyhood's time.

If sorrow has not cast a shade
Of sadness o'er the brow,
Life may as happy then be made,
As 'twas in youth I trow.

Youth's pleasures in the future lie,
Age in the glorious past.
The brightest hopes of youth may die,
With age her pleasures last.

Age has the present future past,
Youth but the present see,
Age has a joy time cannot blast,
While youth's may blasted be.

Well, then as time glides swift along,
While youth and beauty's gay,
In mem'ry store her sweetest song,
To sing when you are gray.

FOR THE CHILDREN.

My little girl suffered for three years from a severe Abscess on her hip, the result of a fall and dislocation. The Abscess was large, and discharged pus. I was induced by friends to give her S. S. S., and by the time the first bottle was finished the Abscess was entirely healed, and the child was well and happy. Mrs. J. A. Wimmer, Lexington, Va.

I had three little girls who were afflicted with abscesses. [illegible] Trouble, which at first resembled heat but soon grew to yellow scabs, some of them quite large. One of the children died from the effects of [illegible] Swift's Specific and gave to the other two, and they soon got well. S. S. S. destroyed the poison promptly. The cure was wonderful. [illegible] Mayfield, Ga.

S. S. S. has no equal for children. It destroys the poison promptly, and assists nature in developing the child's health. Our Book is mailed free.

Cottonseed Hulls and Meal

From experiments made by the North Carolina Agricultural Experiment Station, Bulletin No. 81, "FEEDING COTTONSEED HULLS AND MEAL FOR THE PRODUCTION OF BEEF," the following are some of the results obtained: All animals in these experiments remained in a healthy condition, and at no time did their digestion seem impaired, except with two steers in the first trial. Cottonseed hulls and meal are unquestionably very cheap and valuable articles of cattle food for fattening purposes. The most suitable time to fatten stock on cottonseed hulls and meal is during the fall and winter months, but stock thin in flesh may be profitably stall-fed on them during the hot weather, if managed with proper care. All animals that are stall-fed during warm weather should have well aired quarters which can be cheaply darkened to check attacks of flies. The manure is worth enough to pay for feeding and caring for the animals. Give 1 lb meal to 4 to 6 lbs hulls, and feed as much as the animals will eat up clean. Below is given the average composition of each ingredient taken from published results of Stations in Tennessee, Texas, Arkansas, Mississippi, New York and North Carolina:

	Cottonseed meal	Cottonseed hulls
Fat	11.16	1.60
Crude fiber	5.18	46.00
Nitrogen, free extract	25.07	43.13
Protein	43.97	4.19

REAL HAIR RESTORER

Is now prepared only by herself, (a mistake in transferring the formula having ruined it in the hands of its late clever proprietors, Anthony & Williams).

The REAL HAIR RESTORER is not recommended for old baldness, but is an infallible remedy for falling hair, dryness, dandruff, dust, itching, and eruptions peculiar to the hair and beard. It is a perfectly harmless, cool, cleansing sham poon wash.

One bottle sent by a stranger to her friend in New York City, has brought orders for 18 bottles. Here is one of three testimonials offered them: "Mrs. Grier, I have tried many preparations to prevent my hair falling and to remove dandruff, but your RESTORER is the first to prove beneficial. As it contains no oil, it is most agreeable, rendering the hair as soft and clean as after a shampoon—Mrs. A. G. Williams, 35 W. 10th st. N Y City.

Our sales in Millinery doubles any previous season, elegant work, low prices, and careful attention has moved this department to the front. Who could have made the crowns for the tournament as beautiful as Miss Cramer. They are certainly gems of art. This department under her management has grown and grown until we are sending hats and bonnets all over the State. The great throngs of buyers that crowded our house during the celebration has drawn on our stock so heavy our buyer will be forced to make his third visit this year to the markets at an early day. Thousands of dollars in all lines of merchandise went out at wholesale to merchants in all parts of the Carolinas. Carpets, Rugs and Matting went out in every direction. Hard times and money scarce? Oh, no. You are mistaken or at any rate it is not the case with us. We are selling more goods than we ever did. All through the store in every department we are making sweeping reductions to close out all the goods possible before our buyer goes to the markets. Now is the great semi-annual break in merchantile circles and the merchant with ready dollars gathers in big game.
