City Court Happenings

In the Recorder's court this morning, Geo. Berryhill, an old negro, was up charged with obtaining money under false pretense. Berryhill has a way of going over the city asking for money to bury some one. Yesterday, his friend, George Green was dead and he was very anxious to see that George was properly put away. He tackled a man on Tryon street last night and the man recognized Berryhill as an old offender and called the police. Officer Summerrow, who was standing nearby, arrested Berryhill and took him to the toms. Acting Recorder Hilton sent the old man to the chalingang for thirty days. Only yesterday Berryhill completed a sentence of 30 days on the gang for the same offense.

Abe Withers, colored, charged with being drunk and using profanity on the streets, was sent to the gang for 30 days.

Marshall Bailey and Joe Harris were each taxed with the costs for trotting their teams through the square.

SOME HOTEL TALK.

Central to be Rebuilt—The Winter Resort Hotel and Others.

The Central hotel, known far and wide as one of the best hotels in the South, is to be rebuilt. Mr. F. P. Milburn, the well-known architect, is to draw plans for the new Central.

For some time it has been known that a decided change was to be made in the present building. There has been some talk of forming a stock company looking to such improvements. Yesterday afternoon the present owners of the building, Mrs. R. M. Oates and Mrs. M. E. Wriston, decided to rebuild the hotel.

The walls of the building both on Tryon and Trade streets are to be torn down and, in fact, the new Central will be all that the name implies. The interior of the building will also be new throughout, and there will be added about 50 or 60 additional rooms. Elegant rooms with baths attached—something Charlotte hotels have long needed—will be one of the special attractions of the new building. In addition to these the hotel will be equipped with all the modern conveniences of the up-to-date metropolitan hotels.

Mr. Milburn, the architect, thinks he can manage to conduct the improvements without seriously interfering with the business of the hotel or of those who have store rooms rented in the building. To do this he will have to build "blind walls."

It is generally understood that the work of re-building will commence at once. Mr. Milburn will have his men here next week to take measurements and arrange other details preparatory to making plans for the new building. To the News man last night, he stated that he hoped to begin tearing down the walls in a few weeks.

Manager Charles E. Hooper, the clever and affable hotelist, who has a lease on the building, has been receiving congratulations today. Mr. Hooper is one of the best hotel managers in the South and his only handicap has been the present state of the building. That he is to have practically a new house through and through is something his friends feel exceedingly proud of. With the completion of the new Central, Charlotte will have a hotel building that she can justly feel proud to point strangers to.

The news of the rebuilding of the Central has put more hotel talk in the air. A prominent hotel man today informed the News that the big winter resort hotel that the papers have talked so much of, is now practically a certainty. The News informant thinks that it will be located on the Cramer lot on South Tryon street.

And, while talking of hotels, it will be well to remember that Mr. Scoville, of Atlanta, is seriously considering the purchase of the old Mansion House property, with no other idea in view but to build a modern hotel building. In fact a Charlotte contractor is now in correspondence with Mr. Scoville in regard to this.

And, Dr. C. G. McManaway is to shortly begin the erection of a beautiful hotel building on the Rintels' lot on West Trade street. Dr. McManaway says he is going to build and Dr. McManaway will do that very thing.

So, after all, Charlotte will not be very short of comfortable and good hotels. At an rate, we will try and entertain, well, all who come this way.
