We do not know under whose advice the President acted in giving out this letter to the public but assuredly the publication of a letter written by Mr. Roosevelt acknowledging that a proposition to foment secession in Panama had been made to him more than a month ago coupled with the movement of our war vessels in that direction for the past month will not be taken as very strong proof that the revolution at Panama and its secession at the proper moment to discount bloodshed were not planned in this country and with the knowledge at least, if nothing more, of those in

THE WATER WORKS BONDS.

Case To Be Argued Before Supreme Court This Week,

An important appeal case comes up this week in Raleigh before the State Supreme Court, involving the right of the board of water commissioners of the city of Charlotte to issue $200,000 water bonds without first submitting the question to the qualified voters of the city. The city will be represented by Mr. Heriot Clarkson and the plaintiffs, Geo. H. Brockenborough and others, by Mr. E. T. Cansler. These attorneys expect to leave tonight for Raleigh to be present when the case in question is called which will be within two or three days. The question of the issuing of $200,-000 water bonds is one of great interest to all citizens of Charlotte. In the Superior Court in this city this case was decided in favor of the board of water commissioners. Among other things the plaintiffs allege: That there has been no vote of a majority of the qualified voters of Point rumors of many changes all said city of Charlotte for the purpose of authorizing the contraction of said debt or the issuance or sale of said bonds or the execution of said proposed or deed of trust, or authorizing said driving suddenly turned the horse Presiding Elder of the Salisbury Dis- city to pledge its faith or lend its credit for the purpose aforesaid; neither has there been any legislative aubut that the change suggested may thority conferred upon said Board to issue said bonds other than that contained in Chapter 196, Private Laws, The girl did not lose her nerve but Session 1903.

WOOD IS SCARCE.

Charlotte is threatened with a serious wood famine and should the weather suddenly turn cold there would be a great deal of inconvenience caused to those who depend on wood for their fuel.

The threatened famine grows out of the action of the Seaboard railway in refusing to furnish cars for hauling wood to the city from the dealers along situation.

The wood dealers of the city are getting into a tight place on account of the action of the railroad and today one or two of them took the matter up with the authorities with a view to getting relief of some kind. The ques-tion is one which the State railroad commission would probably have to handle and decide and the dealers to-day were avised to communicate with the chairman of the railroad commission and state the case to him in detail with the hope of securing the assistnace desired.

Pravent Secession Once. At the present time the wood yards are virtually out of wood and it would result in much suffering should a cold snap arrive at this time for those who use wood as fuel would have nothing to resort to for making their fires. The situation is one that demands atten-tion at once, the wood dealers think, and they will do all they can to relieve the situation. Most of the wood sold in Charlotte comes from down the Sea-board railroad, below Monroe.

Father Cirringione Had Made Himself Obnoxious to the Italians by His Denunciation of Vice---Lured From the Restory.

The Priest was Given a Drug and Then Carried to a Place of Confinement---When Found After Two Days he was Raving.

(By Associated Press.) New York, November 16.-Rev. Joseph Cirringione, Rector of Italian Church, of Immaculate Conception in Williamsbridge, suburb of this city, who disappeared from his home, under mysterious elreumstances last Friday night, was found early to: day by a policeman in east Fifty:First Street raving wildly in Italian and is new in the hospital, Father Cirring ione incurred the enmity of the Italians about Williambridge by his erusade against vice. He received several threatening letters and had reported the matter to the police, who were endeavoring to locate the writers. Late Friday night, two men themselves as detectives asked him to accompany them to the station house. He did not return and it is believed he had been carried off by agents of the Italian Secret Society. When Alexander will also be present and will found today, Father Cirringione fell, exhausted, into the arms of a policeman, crying out repeatedly; have robbed me and they will kill me, protect me." A hurried examination of the Priest's physical condition was made by a physician who found on his wrists two red marks similar to those that would have been made, had the Priest's wrists been bound with rope. Under the influence of soothing drugs Father Cirringione, became calmer and was able to tell something of his

Then he says he lost consciousness and next thing he knew was when he found himself in a "dark and dismal cellar," with his wrists bound. The Priest said he had been free but a few minutes before he was found by a policeman. He said he had been blindfolded and led into the street and then bandages over his eyes were removed and he had been given a push. Father Cirringione, when he left tho house, had a gold-mounted ebony cane, a valuable gold watch and chain and some money. When found today, all were gone. Friends and relatives of Father Cirringione believe the story of the priest, but the police are awaiting further developments before taking any action action for the discovery of the alleged abductors. To Civil Justice Roesch, an old friend of the priest, the latter said there were four men in the gang, which abducted him, and only one was an Italian. The men were very rough to him, and one of them insisted that he be killed. Others objected and managed to get this man intoxicated and the priest's
