

THE KING OF BLIND TIGERS GETS NINE MONTHS ON ROADS

Tom Quinn, After Conducting a Blind Tiger for Many Months Lands on the Chain Gang. He was twice before this Tried for the Same Offense.

Negro Gambler's Trial Warmed up the Court this Morning. The Sequel to the Big Game of "Skin" that was Played Several Sabbaths Past.

Tom Quinn, the King of the Blind Tiger artists, will have to serve nine months on the roads of Mecklenburg county for his numerous violations of the prohibition laws.

Quinn was given a hearing in the Superior Court this morning and after the examination of all the witnesses his counsel, Mr. J. D. McCall, announced to the court that his client would not resist a verdict.

As to the punishment to be inflicted on Quinn, both Solicitor Clarkson and Mr. Cameron Morrison, who represents the Law and Order League, insisted that the negro be given the maximum punishment, which is two years.

Solicitor Clarkson informed the court that Quinn had, on two previous occasions, been before the court, charged with the illegal selling of whiskey. The first time he was allowed to go on the payment of the costs in the case and the second time he was fined $75. Mr. Clarkson added that the negro had persistently violated the law and had indicated by his actions that he did not appreciate the mercy shown him in previous convictions on a similar charge; that since the August term of Mecklenburg Superior Court, Quinn had been indicted in 27 cases for selling liquor and he hoped the court would give him the full punishment, under the statute.

Mr. Cameron Morrison read the statute in the court's hearing and said he thought Quinn should be punished, and that severely.

Mr. J. D. McCall, in defense of his client, said that Quinn was a hard-working negro and he hoped that the court would not visit upon him the extreme penalty of the law.

Judge Bryan said that he did not think Quinn deserved the extreme penalty; that he would sentence him to nine months on the county roads and he hoped this would be a lesson to him.

Jim Burton, colored, one of the famous 13 who were arrested charged with engaging in a game of "skin," out on the Statesville road, several Sabbaths ago, was placed on trial this morning. Mr. J. D. McCall and Mr. Plummer Stewart represented the negro.

The first witness introduced was John McIlwaine who was one of the participants in the game. The negro "beached" on the crowd and, therefore, was not prosecuted. McIlwaine, under the cross examination of Mr. Stewart admitted that he had twice before been caught playing cards and on one occasion had told a falsehood concerning a game in which he was one of the star players. He also said that the police told him that if he would give all the names of the players in the game, he would escape prosecution.

Will Zeigler, a white man, who was also in the game, was the next witness. Zeigler contended that Officers House, Johnston and Pitts, had told him that he might as well tell the gamblers as the facts were known to the police. Zeigler also stated that he was given to understand that he would not be prosecuted. After the evidence was all in, the case was given to the jury and in about 15 or 20 minutes the jury returned and said they found the prisoner not guilty.

The next case taken up was that of Caroline Rosebrough, who is charged with selling whiskey out at Grovaton. The woman is represented by McNinch and Kirpatrick and the Solicitor, assisted by Mr. Cameron Morrison is prosecuting the case.

Burton Jarrell, a negro in Wake county jail for safe keeping pending an appeal to the Supreme Court from a sentence of Warren county of 25 years to the penitentiary for the murder of W. G. King, made his escape at 3 o'clock this morning by sawing out of his cell and through the grated windows.

Garfield Hicks, charged as being an accomplice in the murder, was in the cell with Jarrell, but refused to go. He had a mistrial last December. Jarrell's appeal was argued before the Supreme Court Tuesday. The source of the saw is a mystery. He cut through the heaviest quality of prison cells with remarkable ease.

This afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's father, on Hillsboro street, Miss Eleanor West was united in marriage to Mr. John Dockery, the ceremony being by Dr. I. McK. Pittinger, rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd.

It was a quiet wedding in the presence of the members of the families and invited guests. The West home was prettily decorated with carnations and roses and the ceremony was especially pretty. Miss Julia Lightfoot West, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Mr. A. S. Dockery, of Rockingham, brother of the groom, was best man.

The bride is a pretty and accomplished young woman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. W. West and is quite popular in Raleigh social circles. Mr. Dockery is a son of United States Marshal H. C. Dockery and is himself a deputy marshal in his father's office.

Last night there was an informal reception at the home of the bride for the members of the two families and intimate friends. The array of wedding presents was handsome and varied, attesting the love and esteem of a wide circle of friends of the bride and groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Dockery left this afternoon for a trip South. They will be at home in Raleigh after March 1.

$10,000 FOR APPROACHES.

Southern to Expend This Amount Around New Passenger Station.

The News learns that the Southern Railway will expend about $10,000 on the approaches to the company's new station on West Trade street.

All of the walk-ways will be laid in cement and tiling and the general effect will be decidedly handsome.

There is nothing new in the conflict between the Southern and the Board of Aldermen as to the partition between the white and colored waiting rooms. So far the railroad has given no intimation that it will accede to the demands made through City Attorney Hugh W. Harris. It is still argued by the railroad officials that a partition, such as the city asks for, will greatly mar the interview of the building.

Carl Legler's death occurred December 19, five days after he was found ablaze in his room at his boarding house in Summit Avenue where he lived with Alexander. Death was reported as accidental and chief Murphy did not learn of the case until Friday. He began the investigation which resulted in Alexander Legler's arrest last night.
