MR. BLOUNT LECTURES.

Enjoyable Lecture By The Noted Lecturer Henry Blount, Before Student Body.

Special to The News.

Chapel Hill, N. C., Feb. 26.—Henry Blount, the well-known lecturer of Wilson, lectured to the students of the university Friday night at 8 o'clock in Givens hall. He too for his subject "Wit, Humor, Eloquence and Oratory." Mr. Blount handled his topic in an exceedingly able and interesting manner and delighted the audience with his easy and graceful presentation of it. Henry Blount is a master of English and is widely known as a lecturer and newspaper man.

Can't be perfect health without pure blood. Burdock Blood Bitters makes pure blood. Tones and invigorates the whole system.

"Isn't safe to be a day without Dr. Thomson's Eclectic Oil in the house. Never can tell what moment an accident is going to happen."

"Neglected colds make fat graveyards." Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup helps men and women to a happy and vigorous old age.

It's folly to suffer from that horrible plague of the night, itching piles. Doan's Ointment cures, quickly and permanently. At any drug store, 50 cents.

Mr. Pegram Better. Mr. M. P. Pegram, who is still confined at his home on North College street, is somewhat improved today. Last week he suffered very much from an attack of jaundice. His condition today shows a decided improvement.

Governor Glenn At Gastonia. Governor R. B. Glenn passed through the city this morning en route to Gastonia where he speaks today to the farmers of Gaston county. He will return to Raleigh tonight but will come to Charlotte Saturday for the big forestry convention.

It matters but little what you think of a man provided that you do not think aloud.

in foreign countries for the word of God, that cannot be filled, it is sure and certain to me that God is calling us to answer this cry.

"You have no idea of the demands that are made upon us. Only a little while ago there was an order from Syria for Bibles for that country, where our agents had been and prepared the whole field, and on account of lack of money the society could not fill the demand. And it is the same with other parts of the earth right now, and unless there is help from the outside the society cannot last."

The American Bible Society sells copies of the Bible for about 15 cents, a testament for 5 cents, and a gospel for 2 cents. These are not given away but sold by the society, at the cost of making.

Dr. Law read some figures showing Charlotte's contributions for the last year to the society, which in all amounted to less than forty dollars. "The Presbyterians, with their four churches, have given about $3.50 and the Methodists, with their six churches, have given about the same, and the whole Southern church of both branches has given very small last year."

These figures, as read by Dr. Law, occasioned the remark that if Dr. Law has consulted the ministers and others here, they would have urged that he leave the figures out, but the presentation of them wrought a good effect and on motion of Dr. Howerton, the Mecklenburg Branch of the American Bible Society was organized with Mr. C. W. Tillett, president; Rev. P. H. Gwynn, vice president, and Prof. Geo. B. Hanna, secretary and treasurer.

It was moved by Rev. W. W. Orr that a collection of $500 be taken then and there for the cause, and the collection, which amounted to a handsome sum, was taken before the dismissal of the congregation with the benediction.

WRESTLING MATCH.

In Lively Bout Young Herbert Won in Two Straight Falls.

The Raleigh News and Observer contains a lengthy account of a wrestling match in that city Saturday night in which Geo. Herbert and Walter Elliott, the latter of New York, were the principals. Young Herbert's home is at Richmond, Va., though he lived here nearly a year, being connected with the Brannon Drug Company.

The match was catch-as-catch-can and was won by Herbert in two straight falls, the first in twelve minutes after going on the mat and the second in seventeen.

The first fall resulted from a half-Nelson and scissors on the arm and the other resulted from the same.

Herbert was plainly much the stronger boy of the two and Elliott was forced to be almost constantly on the defensive. The match, however, was hotly fought and the audience had frequent occasion to applaud both contestants. The work was hard and sometimes fierce, but never brutal, and the best of good humor prevailed.

The referee was Mr. Frank Simpson, of Raleigh, and the time-keeper Mr. Fred Herbert, father of one of the contestants.

HEBREW WEDDING.

An Interesting Ceremony Performed in Charlotte Yesterday.

The marriage of Miss Esther Mamie Paul, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Paul, of this city, and Mr. Jacob Lamb, of Atlanta, Ga., took place yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents on West Fifth street. This interesting ceremony was performed by Rabbi Jacob Klein, of Sumner, S. C., and it was witnessed by a large circle of friends.

At the appointed hour Mr. Michael Kirschbaum conducted the groom-into the parlor where awaited the Rabbi and the bride, wearing white with a veil, proceeded to the altar on the arm of her father.

After the ceremony the young couple were tendered a reception at which a large number of Israelites and Gentiles were present.

RAIN EXPECTED TONIGHT.

Mr. Bennett Says We Are To Have Falling Weather.

The weather man says we may expect rain in this vicinity tonight and Tuesday. In his remarks today Mr. Bennett says:

The low pressure area central Sunday morning over the Lake region, has drifted eastward over New England, having caused snow over the Lake region and rain over New England and the middle Atlantic coast. Another low pressure area is central this morning over Arkansas, and has caused rain over the middle Mississippi valley. With its probable eastward movement, cloudy weather with occasional rain may be expected in this vicinity tonight and Tuesday.

WANT AND NEED.

There's a big difference between what a baby wants and what he needs. Deny him the one, give him the other. Most babies need Scott's Emulsion—it's the right thing for a baby. It contains a lot of strength-building qualities that their food may not contain. After a while they get to want it. Why? Because it makes them comfortable. Those dimples and round cheeks mean health and ease. Scott's Emulsion makes children easy; keeps them so, too. SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl St., New York.

Heard and Seen Here and There

Out in beautiful Elmwood one catches the first real breath of spring. The sunshine lies warm upon the dry leaves and in the first perfume of vernal bloom is caught as it is wafted on the breezes. It is faint and delicate, but unmistakable—it is a token of bloom somewhere.

One throws up his head and sniffs it and searches for it, as he would bend his ear for some faint far-off strain of music.

Is it a breath of the opening buds or has the south wind brought it from warmer climes?

No! It is the violet. One goes here and there through the beautiful city of the dead and he sees these little, modest, unassuming flowers, fairly pulsing certain places. Here they form the only flower decorations of an entire square. Yonder they nestle lovingly over the mound that contains the remains of somebody's little darling. Everywhere, the sweet, tender, little purple flower sheds its fragrance on the early spring air.

What a volume of violet—literature there is! More violet—poems than any other flower kind. And yet, somehow, those who love the little flower, feel that there remains something unsaid that should be said. Something, if possible, to commend more forcibly the sweetness of the dear, little blossom.

Perhaps the name—violet—in a measure explains the popularity of the flower. Perhaps it is the simple beauty of the blossom.

Then, too, it is the first flower to brave the chilly atmosphere and peep its little head out to drink in the first warm rays of an early spring sun. This makes its appearance thrice welcome and draws all lovers of nature and nature's sweetness, to it.

The violet—the common, but ever uncommon "blue violet"—nature's first breath of sweetness to a sleeping world—the first gentle reminder that winter's chilly breezes will soon be merged into spring's balmy air.

So few people appreciate kindnesses and there are so many who are seeking after such acts. I am reminded of a case that came before Judge James L. Webb, during the December court, for the trial of criminal cases.

There was a young white boy who was charged with carrying a concealed weapon. He was first given a hearing in the Recorder's Court and was bound over under a $25 bond.

Failing to give the required bond, he went to jail, to await a hearing at the higher court.

The young man was clearly guilty of the charge made in the bill of indictment and deserved the punishment usually inflicted in such cases. But, just as Judge Webb was about to pass sentence, a letter was handed him. It was from that boy's mother who now lives in Savannah. Judge Webb glanced at the rudely written note and his tender heart was touched. He read on and ascertained that a mother's heart had been broken because her son had been lying in Mecklenburg jail, charged with a crime.

After reading the letter, Judge Webb looked at the prisoner and said "This letter I hold in my hand is from your mother and she is suffering because of your disgrace. It is a difficult matter for me to turn aside from the pleadings of a good mother and for this reason I am going to give you a chance to correct this fall. Now go out from here and make a man of yourself."

All the time Judge Webb was talking, tears were streaming down the cheeks of the prisoner. He promised that he would appreciate the kindness shown him.

Has he done it? "No, he is an occupant of a cell in the county jail right now. And the charge against him is a graver one than that of carrying a concealed weapon. He is indicted for selling liquor."

Judge Webb did right in giving Ed. Krimminger a chance. The boy has utterly failed to appreciate the kind act of one who wanted to help him, make a man of him.

Really, the Southern's new passenger station is a thing of beauty. It is such a vast improvement over anything in the way of a railroad station Charlotte has ever had that comparisons are odious. One has to go through the building to fully realize the magnitude of the work that has been done by the Southern on West Trade street.

I went through the building yesterday morning and I must confess that if the Charlotte board of aldermen has the faintest reason for not accepting the building, I am unable to see it.

That railing that divides the general waiting room is just as the City Attorney, Mr. Harris, says it is. But, where do you find any up-to-date station that is not constructed on this plan? In all fairness that kick should not have been registered. Since it has been, the only thing to do is to withdraw it for really, there was no harm intended and no harm has been done.

The building, throughout, has been constructed with a keen eye to convenience and durability. It is a wonderfully attractive building and one Charlotte should feel proud of. The front sheds are a little low but that is a mistake, not of the road, but of the architect who conceived the plans, and, can be easily remedied.

Will the idle negroes of Charlotte continue to sell whiskey contrary to law?

Will the punishment inflicted on those convicted at the last term of the court deter others from engaging in this unlawful practice?

These are questions the future holds the answers to. If those who have a weakness for this crime will remember Tom Quinn and his nine-months sentence, there will be few blind tigers in Charlotte for some days to come.

On the other hand, if they conceive the idea that they will fare like some of the others—Ed. Caton, for instance—they will go right on in their unlawful business. Caton had been twice convicted of selling whiskey across the line and had paid on the chain-gang once and had paid out nearly $1,

THE IDEAL WIFE

Shapes the Destiny of Men—The Influence of a Healthy Woman Cannot Be Overestimated.

Seven-eighths of the men in this world marry a woman because she is beautiful in their eyes—because she has the qualities which inspire admiration, respect and love.

There is a beauty in health which is more attractive to men than mere regularity of feature. The influence of women glorious in the possession of perfect physical health upon men and upon the civilization of the world could never be measured. Because of them men have attained the very heights of ambition; because of them even thrones have been established and destroyed.

What a disappointment, then, to see the fair young wife's beauty fading away before a year passes over her head! A sickly, half-dead-and-alive woman, especially when she is the mother of a family, is a damper to all joyousness in the home, and a drag upon her husband.

The cost of a wife's constant illness is a serious drain upon the funds of a household, and too often all the doctoring does no good.

If a woman finds her energies are flagging, and that everything tires her, dark shadows appear under her eyes, her sleep is disturbed by horrible dreams; if she has backache, headaches, bearing-down pains, nervousness, irregularities, or despondency, she should take means to build her system up at once by a tonic with specific powers, such as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

This great remedy for women has done more in the way of restoring health to the women of America than all other medicines put together. It is the safeguard of woman's health.

Following we publish, by request, a letter from a young wife.

Mrs. Bessie Ainsley, of 611 South 10th Street, Tacoma, Wash., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham— "Ever since my child was born I have suffered, as I hope few women ever have, with inflammation, female weakness, bearing-down pains, backache and wretched headaches. It affected my stomach so that I could not enjoy my meals, and half my time was spent in bed.

000 to escape the gang the second time. A Charlotte court fined him $50 and requires him to come from court to court to show that he has been behaving himself.

I repeat that if the would-be-blind-tiger-artist remembers Tom Quinn, he will desert—if he remembers Ed. Caton and his sentence, I hardly think he will. C. A. MATTHEWS.

Found Another Watch.

Col. C. B. Sykes, the depot policeman is gaining quite a reputation for his efficiency in locating lost watches. He had in his possession this morning a valuable gold watch that was lost at the station last November by a Mrs. T. H. Wilson, who at that time lived at Rock Hill but now of Cuba.

Although the dignified man may not know much, he has to be very careful of what little he does know.

A GUARANTEED CURE FOR PILES.

Itching, Blind, Bleeding, Protuding Piles. Druggists are authorized to refund money if PIAZO OINTMENT fails to cure in 6 to 14 days. 50c.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance, kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles most always result from derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sized bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both Home of Swamp-Root, sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Mrs. Bessie Ainsley

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me a well woman, and I feel so grateful that I am glad to write and tell you of my marvelous recovery. It brought me health, new life and vitality."

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Ainsley it will do for other women who are in poor health and ailing.

Its benefits begin when its use begins. It gives strength and vigor from the start, and surely makes sick women well and robust.

Remember Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound holds the record for the greatest number of actual cures of woman's ills. This fact is attested to by the thousands of letters from grateful women which are on file in the Pinkham laboratory.

Women should remember that a cure for all female diseases actually exists, and that cure is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you have symptoms you don't understand write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for special advice. The present Mrs. Pinkham is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, her assistant before her decease, and for twenty-five years since her advice has been freely given to sick women.

Dear Mrs. Pinkham— "Ever since my child was born I have suffered, as I hope few women ever have, with inflammation, female weakness, bearing-down pains, backache and wretched headaches. It affected my stomach so that I could not enjoy my meals, and half my time was spent in bed.

A Breakfast Food Tragedy. A Kansas man's wife left him to run the house and get his own meals for a week or two. He cooked as he thought, the breakfast food every morning. When the wife returned she noticed that her husband twittered and he himself acknowledged an inclination to warble. It was found that he had cooked and eaten a whole package of canary seed.—Indianapolis Journal.
