CONDITIONS IN HYDE.
Many Horses Die From Staggers—Crops Ruined By Rain.

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 16.—Assistant State Veterinarian G. A. Roberts has returned from Hyde county, where he went under direction of the state department of agriculture to investigate the epidemic that is causing the death of so many horses in that section. He found that at least one hundred horses have died in two townships, Lake Landing and Currituck, in Hyde county. Of all the causes he found there were only three that gave any promise of recovery.

The disease is what is commonly known as staggers and thought to originate from fungus or mold in the feed of water.
Dr. Roberts says not only the feed on hand for stock is practically ruined by the continued rains but the crops throughout the county are almost a total failure. He will return at once to investigate more fully the situation as to the epidemic and do what he can to check it, carrying with him apparatus and appliances for combating and studying more effectively the disease. He will also go into Craven, Pamlico and Beaufort counties on the same mission, complaints having come in to the department from these sections during the past few days.
Dr. Roberts found that many people have shipped their fine horses away since the disease appeared. He thinks though that a more economical and as safe a course would be to get food for them without the territory infected, or rather rather affected as he is of the opinion that the disease is not contagious.

CATAWBA POWER IN CONCORD.

Line Will Soon Be Surveyed to That Point—Prospect of Trolley Cars.

Special to The News.
Concord, Aug. 16.—Engineers laying off the line for transmission of power for Concord from the Catawba Power Company's plant are within a few miles of this city. Engineer Lee, with eleven men is within four miles of here selecting a route by which this power will be brought into this city, for the purpose of operating machinery, car lines, etc. The survey is direct from Charlotte, cross country to Concord, and will be only about seventeen miles from the power house in Charlotte to the point of driving the machinery for the Concord mills. Definite plans and route are not to be had, but the engineers will soon be here and the power will not be long coming.

Following this line, bringing the power to this city, trolley cars will almost certainly follow very soon. This will mean an increase amount of power for Concord and vicinity, and with the development at Whitney in operation, situated between these two powers, Concord is destined to be a central point in the most rapidly developing section of the entire South. Cars are not far in the future, a trolley system for Concord as well as running into the surrounding country connecting all the small places in one great chain of commercial activity and making of this section the center of Southern manufacturing supremacy.

The Young-Hartsell cotton mill has been set going, the power was turned on yesterday and the machinery is now running and turning out cotton yarns. This new mill is driven by electric power.
Mr. O. L. Wagstaff is the superintendent of the mill. This mill makes eighteen cotton mills for Concord.

Abolition of Canteen.

The most important meeting to be taken up during the meeting is abolition of canteen from the old soldiers homes, and the proposed erection of the monument to Henry Wirse, by the women of the South. To the question of a monument to Wirse, there was considerable opposition. The report of Commander Tanner makes no mention of the canteen question, but considerable space is given to Wirse and recommendation is made that the Grand Army enter a dignified and emphatic protest against the erection of the monument.

100 Prostrations.

The decisions during the year by Judge Advocate General Clarke is one that a citizen who was pressed into the Confederate army, deserted, joined the Union forces and received honorable discharge from the war department, is not illegible for membership in the Grand Army because he has at one time borne arms against the United States. The band of citizens who gathered around a swamp near Greenwood where it was thought the negro was hiding, has so far been unsuccessful in the efforts to find him.
In case the negro is found there is little doubt but what the crowd will make short work of him.
The sheriff of Greenville is on the spot, also Governor Heyward has arrived and they are both doing all in their power to prevent a lynching, but there is little chance of saving the negro in case he is apprehended. HEAT IS CAUSED BY HUMIDITY

Five Per Cent Higher than Average Humidity has Caused Sweltering Heat for the Past Ten Days. Maximum Temperatures.

The sweltering heat of the past ten days has succeeded in driving to the seaside and mountain resorts a large number of the inhabitants from the inland towns and cities. An exodus of Charlotte people has been noticed within the limits of the past two weeks, and the papers in neighboring towns and cities have made mention of the same tendency among their residents.
Observer Bennett stated today to a News representative that the depression was not altogether due to high temperatures, the mean temperature being 80 degrees, only two degrees higher than for the same date last year and three degrees higher than normal.
The minimum temperature for the past ten days was 70 which was registered last Sunday and also yesterday. The maximum registration was 91 on three days Friday, Sunday and Monday. It will be seen that the maximum temperature has not been unusually high as 98 and 100 degrees have been recorded a number of years during the month of August, the highest being 100 in 1888.

Observer Bennett accounts for the oppressiveness of the heat on the ground of the humidity that has centered over the South Atlantic States for the past several days. The humidity has been 5 per cent. higher than the average for this time of the year, 83 per cent. being the mean relative registration.

The maximum temperature for the past ten years for August follows:
1896 99
1897 95
1898 92
1899 98
1900 99
1901 90
1902 95
1903 96
1904 92
1905 96

A "big meeting" had just been started by Rev. C. H. Lee and A. A. Sims, principal of the colored school here, and report has it that with others did fast running when the firing began.

There are just 14 teachers standing an examination today for the fourth and seventh grade vacancies created by the resignation of Misses Ward and Miller. The examination is being held at the South Graded school by Prof. Alexander Graham, superintendent of the city schools.
The fact that there are 14 applicants for these two positions shows that there are plenty of teachers in Charlotte and, no doubt, the result of the examination will show that all of those are splendidly equipped for teaching school.

Mrs. Arnold M. Shaw, who has been at the Mercy Hospital for the past six weeks with typhoid fever was taken home today.

CRIMINAL COURT TODAY.

Negro Gets 12 Months—True Bill Likely in Murder Case.

The operations of the second regular day's work of the criminal court for Mecklenburg county consisted largely in the disposing of pistol cases and a few assaults.
The court convened at the usual hour this morning and the docket was at once taken up at the point where it was left when the court closed Wednesday.

Cases disposed of today are as follows:
A. P. Hill, assault, sentence not passed, defendant having plead guilty.

John W. Thomas plead guilty to a charge of carrying a pistol, and was fined $20 and costs, and was fined $20 and costs.

Mamie Etheredge, charged with assault, was fined 5 cents and costs.
Bob Gilmer, for disturbing religious worship, was sentenced by the court to a term of 12 months on the roads.

The grand jury returned several true bills in a number of not very important cases. It is also understood that the grand jury will return a true bill this afternoon in the murder case of John Bailey, charged with shooting John Miller, both colored, the tragedy taking place on South Mint street about two months ago, at 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

The alleged murderer in this case John Bailey, has not been located.
This is the only murder case in the present term of court, and this of course cannot be tried until the defendant is found, which may never be.
The docket is unusually free from crimes of the more serious sort this term and indicates that there has been a decrease of lawlessness during the past few months.

AMERICAN PEOPLE TOO EXTRAVAGANT SAYS MR. INGALLS

Mr. Melville E. Ingalls Created Stir Among Bankers by Declaring that Greatest Menace to Country was the Various Trade Laws in Effect.

Specifies Hepburn and Sherman Acts. As to Extravagance he Points to Report Showing that $400,000,000 has Recently been Spent for Automobiles.

By Associated Press.
Put-in-Bay, O., Aug. 16.—Melville E. Ingalls, president of the Merchants' National Bank of Cincinnati, and chairman of the Big Four Railway, in addressing the Ohio Bankers' Convention, created something of a stir by declaring that the greatest menace to American business and banking interests today is the various trade laws, particularly the Hepburn and Sherman acts.

Under the construction placed upon the Sherman act by courts he said the business man who comes to any agreement with his competitors is guilty of an act in restraint of trade, and is liable to punishment.
Mr. Ingalls believed the common people would suffer more from such suppression of business as a result of this law than any one else.

Mr. Ingalls describing the new Hepburn bill, said it was the shippers who tempted the railroads. He thought the laws recently passed by Congress and the State legislatures ought to be entered: "Laws in restraint of the commerce of the country."

Mr. Ingalls predicted that within two years the halls of Congress would be filled with shippers demanding a change in the recently enacted statutes.

He sounded a note of warning against the growing tendency of extravagance among the American people. As an illustration, he pointed to the fact that $400,000,000 had been spent in automobiles in the past three or four years, and this was but one item.
