

REPUBLICANS HOLD A BIG CONVENTION

Nominate J. Bryan Schulken to Oppose Mr. Godwin in Sixth District. An Interesting Find On the Beach. New Industrial Establishment.

Special The News. Wilmington, Aug. 30.—The Republicans of this, the Sixth Congressional District, met yesterday at the Seaboard Hotel at Wrightsville Beach to nominate a candidate for Congress to run in opposition to Hon. Hannibal L. Godwin, of Dunn, who was recently nominated by the Democrats at Fayetteville as their representative. After due deliberation the following J. Bryan Schulken, Esq., of Columbus county, as their representative. The convention was presided over by Robt. W. Davis, Esq., postmaster at Southport with C. Ed. Taylor, Esq., of that town acting as secretary. There were about fifty delegates present and like "dogs over a bone" they had several altercations during the progress of the meeting. A personal fistfight between two warring delegates was avoided only by the interference of friends of the two belligerents who separated the would-be fighters before any material damage was done.

Mr. Alfred G. Hankins, one of Wilmington's oldest and most prominent citizens suffered a stroke of paralysis yesterday. He was walking on one of the down town streets when the attack came upon him. Medical attention was rendered in a few minutes after he was stricken and after an examination it was discovered that he had sustained a stroke of facial paralysis, the right side of the face being affected.

A big educational rally was held today at Middle Sound, a few miles from Wilmington, and citizens from all sections of the county attended the celebration.

Wilmington's latest industrial establishment is that of a tremendous wholesale candy manufactory to be known as the Carl B. Rehder Candy Company. Mr. Rehder has been in the dry goods business for many years but he has abandoned it on account of his new enterprise. It is his intention to begin business about Oct. 1st and he will manufacture on an extensive scale various forms of high grade candies and confections. The size of his new business may be estimated from the fact that Mr. Rehder intends to have about two dozen traveling salesmen to cover the Southern States in the interest of his business.

An unusual find was made by Mr. W. E. Yopp, a prominent citizen, while fishing yesterday at Middle Sound Beach, about six miles from this city. He was walking along the seashore and noticed on the beach an empty pint flask which contained some printed matter. His curiosity was aroused by the occurrence so he broke open the flask to see what manner of document was contained therein. He found that the paper was a small pamphlet consisting of eight pages and of a dirty brown cover caused by the long confinement in the bottle. The title of the tract which is printed in the Spanish language and the whole of which can be easily read, is "Testimony of a mortal (or man) for Jesus," by sister Newton Williams. The pamphlet was published by "Sociedad Americana de Tradatos at 160 Nassau street, New York," but no date is named. Mr. Yopp states that a strong order of Jamaica rum came from the bottle so it is very probable that some Spanish sailor in the Southern seas placed the tract in the bottle and drew it into the ocean. The paper must have been in the bottle at least several years, to judge from its appearance.

GOOD NIGHT'S SLEEP.

No Medicine So Beneficial to Brain and Nerves. Lying awake makes it hard to keep awake and do things in day time. To take "tonics and stimulants" under such circumstances is like setting the house on fire to see if you can put it out.

The right kind of food promotes refreshing sleep at night and a wide-awake individual during the day. A lady changed her old way of eating to Grape-Nuts, and says: "For about three years I had been a great sufferer from indigestion. After trying several kinds of medicine the doctor would ask me to drop off potatoes, then meat, and so on, but in a few days that craving, gnawing feeling would start up, and I would vomit everything I had ate and drank. When I started on Grape-Nuts vomiting stopped, and the bloating feeling which was so depressant disappeared entirely. My mother was very much bothered with diarrhoea before commencing the Grape-Nuts, because her stomach was so weak she could not digest her food. Since using Grape-Nuts she is well, and says she don't think she could live without it. It is a great brain restorer and nerve builder for I can sleep as sound and undisturbed after a supper of Grape-Nuts as in the old days when I could not realize what they meant by a "bad stomach." There is no medicine so beneficial to nerves and brain as a good night's sleep, such as you can enjoy after eating Grape-Nuts." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. "There's a reason."

Quite an epidemic of sickness of a malarial type has prevailed among us for the last ten days. At the home of Mr. Frank Culp, eight of his family were in bed at the same time. At Mr. Calthrops there were six quite sick. Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Downs, Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Hair, all of whom reside on Deep street were in bed, with the same prevailing disease. We are glad to say that they are all improving at present.

One town is completely run away with grass and weeds, which sprang up abundantly during the late excessive wet weather. We fondly hope that with the close of the "Dog days" the rain would cease but the down pour still continues.

Hancock had the misfortune of losing two pieces of bed railing belonging to a handsome $25 bedstead, last week while moving from Charlotte to the village. The piece must have fallen from the wagon while en route and was not missed until the furniture was unloaded. It is to be hoped that the railing was found by some one who will be good enough to return them.

Miss Eva Hargett of Charlotte is visiting her aunt Miss Lizzie Traywick. Mrs. M. C. Rone returned from Marvin, and Pleasant Valley last week, at which point she had been visiting relatives and friends.

Mrs. E. W. Younts of Charlotte has purchased the Methodist parsonage and will have it rolled up to the Younts' lot on Main street. The erection of the new Methodist parsonage takes place immediately after the moving of the old one.

Parlor Car Amenities.

From Puck. "Porter," said the fussy lady in the parlor car, "I wish you would open this window." The lady in the seat directly across the car heard the request, and drew a cloak about her. "Porter, if that window is opened," she snapped, testily, "I shall freeze to death." "And if the window is kept closed," returned the other passenger, "I shall surely suffocate."

The porter stood timidly between the two fires.

"Porter," remarked the commercial traveler, "your duty is very plain. Open the window and freeze one lady. Then close it and suffocate the other."

Treason.

From Puck. She would not let you near the door. Of her sweet mouth, so grave and still. Ah, wicked, we conspirator, You feigned submission to her will!

Imagine her dismayed surprise Had she once dreamed how, all the while From the clear window of her eyes I saw you peep ing lithe I saw you peeping, little smile!

SOUTH'S DIVERSIFIED FARMING.

Its cotton Plantations Capable of Producing Many Other Crops.

It is said to be the opinion of the Agricultural Department that diversified farming has come to stay in the cotton region, although it still has obstacles to be overcome. W. J. Spillman, who has charge of farm management investigation for the Department of Agriculture, remarks that the people of the South generally recognize the desirability of growing other crops besides cotton, but with many, it is not a simple matter.

"In the old day," said Mr. Spillman, "when the soil was not exhausted, the demand for cotton exceeded the supply, and the cultivation of the staple was immensely profitable. Consequently a single crop system of farming developed. Furthermore, cotton is an easy crop to grow. Many of the laborers adapted to its cultivation are incapable of the proper management of dairy cows and other classes of live stock. Therefore for several generations the effort has been made to train the farmer and today naturally objects to innovations. It is necessary, therefore, to train the available labor in entirely new channels."

Mr. Spillman says the greatest desideratum in the diversification of farm products in the South is the development of live stock farming. This would give much greater stability to agricultural industries. It helps to supply extensive home markets and thus keeps money at home, and at the same time would add greatly to the fertility of the soil, thus increasing production. It has been fully demonstrated on many farms that one-third of the land now devoted to cotton can be made to produce as much cotton as is grown on all of it, while the other two-thirds of the acreage is capable of producing the effort needed for farm stock, the fruits and vegetables required for home use and local markets, and with few exceptions all other food supplies which are now imported from other sections.

"The beginning of diversification on cotton plantations in the South," said Mr. Spillman, "could be the effort to supply home needs as far as these may be supplied from the farm. After that the aim should be to supply local markets. By the time these demands are met outlets will open for surplus that may be produced, except in the case of the most perishable products."

At Kenilworth.

Kenilworth Inn, Asheville, N. C., Aug. 30.—The natural attractions of this beautiful hotel and surrounding country affords nearly all that a mind seeking rest would desire, but the hotel is delightful, it being said that it is the most handsomely furnished in the South. The various pleasures of such a hotel are combined with the personal management of Mr. Edgar B. Moore, proprietor, and life here is a merry one and yet one of rest. One of the attractions of this week was an old-time cake walk, dancing, music, games, coaching parties over the Biltmore estate, which is in plain view, horseback riding, out-of-door games and various other forms of amusement are engaged in.

The number here at present, 125, is just enough to make life happy. Among these are many North Carolinians and people who are known in this State.

STICKS IN THE STOMACH.

Feeling That Often Comes to People With Weak Digestion. A poor sufferer from indigestion once said that his stomach felt as though it were filled with sticks and as though some of them were on fire and burning him up inside.

When the stomach and the organs of digestion and nutrition are weakened and do not act properly, the symptoms of ill health that follow are many and varied. There is often a feeling of heaviness in the stomach, there is distress and nervousness, dizziness, nausea, a heavy head, heart aches, inability to sleep, well pains in the side and limbs, specks before the eyes and a general peevish, irritable condition.

All these troubles are the direct result of indigestion. Cure this by strengthening the stomach with a digestive system with M-O-N-A stomach tablets and your symptoms of ill-health will vanish like dew before the morning sun; life will be joyous, and digestion will be so natural that you will forget that you have a stomach.

M-O-N-A stomach tablets cost only 50¢ a box and are sold by Woodall & Shepard under an absolute guarantee that will be successful in every case where used according to directions or money will be refunded.

RALEIGH NEWS.

Masons Present Memento to Past Master—Supreme Court Cases. Special to The News. Raleigh, Aug. 29.—William G. Hill lodge of Masons last night presented to Pastmaster S. J. Hindsdale a handsome pastmaster's jewel set with large diamond. The presentation was by Past Grand Master Jno. Nichols. The lodge, at the suggestion of Past Master Hindsdale, set about to organize a crack degree team to exemplify the work before the North Carolina Grand Lodge at their annual sessions here every January.

The Supreme Court took up the hearing of argument of appeals from the First District. Lawyers here from the district are W. M. Bond, Edenton; W. S. Privott, Edenton; E. F. Aydtell, Elizabeth City; H. S. Ward, and G. A. Daniel, Washington and E. S. Simmons, Washington. The cases on appeal are Thompson vs. Silverthorne, Craddock vs. Barnes, Sawyer vs. Railroad; Davis vs. railroad, Newsome vs. Bunch, Lanier vs. Insurance Co., Jennings vs. White, (two cases), Brewster vs. Elizabeth City and Lumber Co. vs. Cedar Co. Court today made orders for commissions to issue from the office of the clerk of the Federal Court to E. H. Cook, Pembroke; Frank L. Ives, Goldsboro; C. M. Faircloth, Clinton; C. D. Gray, Avon and C. Baume, Tarboro as United States commissioners. The commissioners to Faircloth and Gray are re-appointments.

The members of the Corporation Commission returned this morning from High Point where they went to investigate the threatened furniture car famine. Chairman McNeill says there is every indication now that the railroad company will be able to furnish all the cars needed within the next few days. Yesterday the shortage was 45 cars. He don't think it will be necessary for the commission to make any order in the matter as the railroad company seems to be doing all it can to right the wrong.
