"BILLY" RYAN HERE FOR MATCH

Mr. Billy Ryan arrived in the city last night for his sparring match to which at Young Hachenschmidt's school reports in the best of condition. He is a likely looking chap and by his cleverness and skill with the gloves has gained a good reputation for himself in the national capital. Ryan is in the light-weight class or rather the featherweight, and will weigh in at the ringside about 120 pounds. Much of his success in the ring can be accounted for by the coolness of his work and the complete mastery he has over his temper at all times. He is very scientific and this will come into good use in the sparring exhibition where he will have more occasion to use it than he would in a regular fight where he would go to a finish.

while there will be no effort made to secure a knockout the fans will be given a good exhibition of boxing. The match will be given in two divisions and in the rest period will be staged some pretty wrestling. There are other attractions that will appeal to the lover of this kind of sports and the present indications are that a great crowd will gather in the school to see the contests.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 2.—John Alden Dix, a democrat, was formerly inaugurated governor of New York state at noon today. He succeeded Governor Horace White, who became chief executive last October when Governor Charles E. Hughes, resigned to become an associate justice of the United States supreme court.

Surrounded by a brilliant gathering in the great assembly chamber which had been appropriately decorated for the occasion, Governor White relinquished the office of chief magistrate to Governor Dix, the first democratic governor to assume the office in 18 years. The governor then delivered his inaugural address after the oath of office had been publicly administered by Edward Lazansky, secretary of state. ## Aviators Hamilton And Garros Talk Of Moisant's Work

By Associated Press.

New Orleans, La., Jan. 2.—"The world of aviation lost two of its best men when John B. Moisant and Arch Hoxsey were killed Saturday," said Charles K. Hamilton, the well-known aviator last night. "We always told Moisant that he would come to grief sooner or later if he did not stop making those sudden dives to earth."

"It's all right to make a sharp dive in a biplane, but never in a monoplane. With a biplane it is an easy matter to navigate on account of the front control, while on a monoplane there is no such apparatus," continued Hamilton. "Hoxsey, who was killed shortly after Moisant went down to his death, was a wonderful air man and he entered the game only in February, 1910. He and Moisant were friends, having competed against each other at Belmont Park recently."

"It's hard luck, two of the best aviators to go, and on the same day," Hamilton stated that he would continue to fly, but would never enter a contest like the Michelin cup distance event. "There is not enough money in it for the work necessary," he said. Roland G. Garros said: "To have known John B. Moisant, either as a man or a navigator, was a privilege, and to have been his associate was an honor."

Moisant, according to Garros, made his first ascent in a monoplane of his own design and construction, a machine capable of 90 miles an hour. Garros likened Moisant's daring on that trip to that of a man who had never been in an automobile and would try to perform a difficult drive in Oldfield's 200 horsepower racer.

"When Moisant ascended he found himself going up so fast that he could not control his machine so he shut off the power and tumbled back to earth, a distance of 90 feet, preferring to take his chance in this fall than a trip to the clouds in a monoplane he could not control," said Garros. "The same white flag which was used by M. G. F. Campbell-Wood, then official starter at the Belmont Park meet, to send Moisant off on his race around the Statue of Liberty, was used here to guide him to the field where he met his untimely end."

Moisant was unusually cheerful his last day of life and was assisted by newspaper men and his brother, Alfred J. Moisant in wrapping his body in papers to protect him against chilling in the long flight he expected to make.

Laughing and joking with those about him at the city park race track grounds, Moisant exhibited not the slightest nervousness, although he was going on a journey which, had it been successful, would have been a severe physical strain. Next to his skin he placed flannels, over which he wrapped two layers of newspapers. He then donned two sweaters and two suits of overalls while on his feet he had silk hose, a layer of newspaper, woollens, shoes, overshoes, more newspapers and another pair of heavy woolen socks.

After the machine in which he was to attempt the flight was wheeled out to the far end of the grounds for the start from the aviation field to the trial course, Moisant was light-hearted while he made a careful inspection of every wire and stay in the machine. Moisant was inventive by nature. Long before he took to aviation he discovered the use of the rubber band.

TOWN OF BATOPILAS HAS BEEN TAKEN.

Chihuahua, Mexico, Jan. 2.—(Via El Paso, Texas, Jan. 2.)—An official report tonight states that the town of Batopilas, recently occupied by the revolutionists, was taken by 500 federalists this afternoon without casualties. The insurgents force was small and most of them, it is said, were taken as prisoners.

The report telegraphed a week ago that the insurgents, as a retaliatory measure, recently executed 10 prisoners, is confirmed by Americans arriving tonight. Volunteers from Casas Grandes, it is officially reported, have met and defeated the insurgent band under the leadership of a chief named Guerrero.

This is said to have been the outfit which destroyed the bridges between Casas Grandes and Juarez.

GOOD, HONEST, SQUARE-DEAL

Medicines like those of Dr. R. V. Pierce of Buffalo, warrant their makers in printing their every ingredient, which they do, upon their outside wrappers, verifying the correctness of the same under oath. This open publicity places these medicines in a class all by themselves. Furthermore, it warrants physicians in prescribing them largely as they do in their worst cases.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

Is a most potent alterative or blood-purifier, and tonic or invigorator and acts especially favorably in a curative way upon all the mucous lining surfaces, as of the nasal passages, throat, bronchial tubes, stomach and bowels, curing a large per cent. of catarrhal cases whether the disease affects the nasal passages, the throat, larynx, bronchia, stomach (as catarrhal dyspepsia), liver, bowels (as mucous diarrhea), or other organs.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Is advised for the cure of one class of diseases only—those peculiar weaknesses, derangements and irregularities peculiar to women. It is a powerful yet gently acting invigorating tonic and nerve.

For weak, worn-out, over-worked women—no matter what has caused the break-down, "Favorite Prescription" will be found most effective in building up the strength, regulating the womanly functions, subduing pain and bringing about a healthy, vigorous condition of the whole system.

A book of particulars wraps each bottle giving the formulæ of both medicines and quoting what scores of eminent medical authors, whose works are consulted by physicians of all the schools of practice as guides in prescribing, say of each ingredient entering into these medicines.

Both medicines are non-alcoholic, non-secret, and contain no harmful habit-forming drugs, being composed of glyceric extracts of the roots of native, American, medicinal, forest plants. They are both sold by dealers in medicine. You can't afford to accept as a substitute for one of these medicines of known composition, any secret nostrum. Don't do it.
