Davidson

Special to The Sunday News.
Davidson, Jan. 7.—About forty of the students have been vaccinated today. This is occasioned by the fact that Andy Pharis, a darkey, who worked at the power house last fall, developed a case of smallpox just before the opening of the college on Wednesday. The negro, however, has been sent to Charlotte, and his home quarantined, so that no danger is anticipated. It is expected, however, that the great majority of the students will be vaccinated today and tomorrow, in order to avoid any possible danger.
The horses, mules, wagons and other effects of the late Mr. Monroe Pease, who died about a month ago in Statesville, are being sold here at auction. The sale began yesterday, but will likely continue a great part of today also. Quite a number of people from the surrounding section are in attendance upon the sale.
Several new men have entered college since the holidays. All of the students have not yet arrived, although a large per cent are already in.
Dr. A. A. McGeachy, of Charlotte, conducted the services in the Y. M. C. last night.
During the holidays some miscreants entered the room of Mr. J. N. Hillhouse, a member of the sophomore class, an article several dollars' worth of athletic goods. Mr. Hillhouse represents some athletic supply house, and very often has on hand quite an supply of such goods, of which the thief no doubt was aware.
Dressy waists are made of the new all-over lace and embroidered nets. Well covered patterns are preferred and are made up with just a few touches of silk or velvet on the girdle or cuffs, and the stock or Dutch neck showing a little white or cream lace or fine net, with buttons either silk covered or jeweled.

High Point

Special to The Sunday News.
High Point, Jan. 6.—Dainty little engraved cards bearing the name of Mrs. Charles Merrimon Houser, date and hours, and in lower left hand corner the name of Mrs. Robert Dalton have been issued. Mrs. Hausser's entire visiting bidding them to an at home next Wednesday afternoon. It is the very first large and very general affair given by this hostess since moving in her new house on North Main street and the preparations are as elaborate as the anticipation is great.

The same afternoon Mrs. S. Halstead Tomlinson was hostess to a round dozen young girls in compliment to Miss Marjorie Cottam, the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Cottam, recently moved here from Burlington, Vt.
The score cards were attractive hand painted New Year bells, and each girl was given a beautiful favor of a blotter calendar of a Christmas girl. Mrs. Charles Hausser assisted Mrs. Tomlinson in serving the choice collation of frozen pudding, cake and salted nuts.
Friday evening the Manufacturers' Club gave their annual reception, which was decidedly the largest and best they have ever given. Over 100 guests were present, many well known out of town visitors being among the number. The pleasures were animated by the presence of many of the college girls and boys. The Blind Boys' Orchestra furnished splendid music. The red and green decorations were very beautiful and added to the warm greeting of the members. Elegant refreshments were served.
Monday afternoon the members of the W. O. T. Club held an important meeting at the home of the president, Miss Berta Ragan, and the final plans for their reception were perfected.
Tuesday afternoon Mrs. J. J. Farris gave a lovely luncheon in honor of the W. O. T. Club.
The courses were perfect in the smallest detail.

Durham

Durham, N. C., Jan. 7.—The schools claim this week. They have given Durham a good time, and made the holiday period one of the liveliest that the city has celebrated in a long time.
Miss Grace Reed of New York, has been one of the most feted of our young visitors in this part of Dixie. She has been constantly the guest of honor since coming here and youthful society finds in her the worthiest object of tribute.
The Y. M. C. A. is preparing in a few days to give one of the most select of receptions, at which time Dr. John E. White, of Atlanta, will be the special guest.
A marriage of interest here Wednesday night, was that of Miss Alma Holland, of Lynchburg, Va., and Mr. Preston Dodson, of Rusburg, Va. The couple came here to circumvent paternal objections and finding enough men to witness the ceremony were married by Justice R. A. Harris, at 10 o'clock in the evening. They left the following day for their new home in Virginia.
Thursday afternoon Mrs. Victor Bryant was hostess to the Senior Bridge Club.

Gaffney

Special to Sunday News.
Gaffney, S. C., Jan. 7.—A most enjoyable meeting of the Woman's Club was held at the home of Mrs. G. G. Byers on Frederick Street last Thursday afternoon. The regular hour for the meeting was 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon but on this occasion the hour was changed to 7:30 in the evening which was a more convenient hour for those present.
At this meeting the husbands of the members were present and as a Christmas treat was one of the love-lit features of the programme the joyful Christmas feeling prevailed and lent cheer and good will to the meeting. Another pleasurable feature of the event and one that afforded much interest and amusement was the presentation of many useful presents to the gentlemen present by Santa Claus, each one of whom was required to show how usefully he could handle the article given him.
Mr. J. C. Jeffries in his own inimitable style acted the part of Santa and he outdid any other jolly old gentleman both in appearance and the manner of distributing his wares.
Dainty souvenirs of the happy event were distributed among the ladies present. These were likewise useful as well as ornamental as they consisted of beautiful Japanese cups and saucers. Souvenirs to the gentlemen were cute little pencils in the shape of brooms. During the course of the evening pleasures (ootsome and dainty refreshments were served to the guests by the hostess and it is needless to say that this feature was heartily enjoyed by the guests in toto.
This meeting of the Woman's Club was a most pleasant affair in its every detail and memories of it will linger long in the bosoms of the attendants all of whom voted Mrs. Byers one of the most graceful and lavish of Gaffney's hostesses.
Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Garrett gave a delightful "announcement" party to a large number of their friends at their charming home on Limestone street last Wednesday evening at which time they announced the approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Lula Olivia Garrett to Mr. Douglas Claude Anderson of Dayton, Ohio. The affair will take place at the home on February 1st, and only a few friends of the family will be present. Immediately following the ceremony a brilliant reception will be tendered to about two hundred friends of the family. The affair promises to be very brilliant indeed.
Senator and Mrs. W. S. Hall entertained a number of their friends at their home on Johnson street on Tuesday afternoon at four o'clock. The repast consisted of an abundance of tempting viands prepared in the most approved fashion of the culinary art. The afternoon was so delightful for those present that the time slipped away in a remarkable manner. All were mindful of its rapid flight until the shades of evening reminded the guests that the time for departure was at hand. Miss Lila Boulware served in a most graceful and charming manner.

Misses Eloise Hawthorn and Madeline Brawley have returned to the Presbyterian College at Charlotte, after spending the holidays here with their parents.
From here quite a number of people will go to Charlotte Monday to see the "Merry Widow."

WOMAN'S INFLUENCE.

Prof. Leslie J. Tompkins, of the New York University, writing of woman's influence says:
"The trouble is that women do not realize the powerful influence they wield without the ballot! In an indirect way every woman whose husband loves her controls a vote, with out the disagreeable and often degrading experience of going to the polls. He may laugh at her views, and say she talks in ignorance of the issue, but he casts a vote that means in effect that his wife is doing the voting.
"Isn't this indirect influence worth more to you women than the very uncertain power that would come with the ballot, you are ill-prepared for! I mean ill-prepared in the sense that the vast majority of women have but little conception of the functions of government."
Quite a number of coat and skirt street frocks are of good quality velvet—some bordered with a narrow band of fur others trimmed with silk braids, while others are devoid of trimming of any kind.
The use of dark fur edging is very effective.
The most expensive umbrellas have tortoise shell tops.
Bead bags and purses are shown in great profusion.

HARRISON FISHER

Harrison Fisher, the New York artist known the world over, and his picture of Miss Laurine Rasmussen, his latest creation. Mr. Fisher recently left San Francisco on his return home. His aim in going to that city was to search for a new type of beauty for his portrayal. Miss Rasmussen, who is a San Francisco girl, has been picked by the artist as the typical American beauty of the Golden West.
Mr. Fisher left San Francisco with Miss Rasmussen's promise to go to New York early in the new year and pose for the picture of the new "Fischer girl."
Miss Rasmussen, is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rasmussen and is an artist of more than local note. It was perhaps this latter fact that aroused her sympathy with Mr. Fisher in his hunt for a heroine for his paintings. She is five feet, eight inches tall and twenty-five years of age.
