WHEN MARGARET LAUGHS.

A tender curve of Cupid's choicest bow,
A dart of fun in sylvan violet eyes,
Two rounded clefts in cheeks of purest snow,
Where red and warm a bed of roses lies—
When Margaret laughs,

A tempting tilt to gracious hearts of gold,
And straight beneath the frank brow's high disdain,
The flash of treasures that the mind can hold—
The golden glance remote from bliss or bane—
When Margaret laughs,

There chimes the silver tinkle of a bell,
In maze of melody surpassing sweet;
There runs a joyous brook through quiet dell,
The perfume of old gardens at its feet—
When Margaret laughs,

One greets that careless ring of girlish glee
As he would hear a sudden bird-song start;
More wondrous strains were never borne to me,
I only know content is in my heart.
When Margaret laughs,

HATS IN CHURCH OR THEATRE.

The query appointed for debate at the meeting of the Tryon Street Methodist Church Literary Society tomorrow night in the ladies' parlor, is, "Resolved, that all ladies should be required to remove their hats in church." The speakers will be Messrs. Peter Ezzell, Jasper O'Connor and Easton Ware, for the affirmative, and for the negative, Messrs. Ernest Thomas, Will Moring, Wall, Peter Ezzell, Souta Mangum and Herbert Townsend.

It is suggested that the next debate be same as the first, substituting in the query the word "theatre" for church.

For a woman to keep her hat on at the theatre is not only evidence of extreme selfishness but it is provincial and bad form. However much the feminine nature may tolerate the former—selfishness—it can not overlook bad manners and provincialism. In the Metropolitan theatres the management protects the ticket holders from being prevented from seeing the stage by a woman and a hat, by handing said woman a slip of paper on which is printed: "Please remove your hat. You are obstructing the view." Said lady does not wait for a second request.

The Charlotte theatre management would do well to adopt this rule.

D. A. R. MEETINGS YESTERDAY.

The Charlotte Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution met yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth L. Bussy, on Garland Court. The regent and vice-regent being absent, Mrs. I. W. Faison presided. The most important business transacted during the afternoon was the election of delegates and alternates to the Continental Congress, to be held in Washington on April 19th. The Continental Congress is the national convention of all the separate chapters of this organization. Miss Laura Orr, regent, is the official delegate. Miss Sara Kelly was elected as alternate to Miss Orr. Mrs. I. W. Faison was elected delegate, with Mrs. Laura Brown her alternate.

The business part of the meeting finished, an able paper on "The Huguenots and the Carolinas" was read by Mrs. H. L. Hunter, which was very interesting to all who heard it.

The next meeting will be held on February 22nd, Washington's birthday, with Mrs. W. A. Zweier.

The Mecklenburg Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution held their meeting yesterday afternoon with Mrs. H. A. London. Mrs. Latta C. Johnston, regent, presided. "The State of Franklin," a paper written by Mrs. C. N. G. Butt, who could not be present, was read by Mrs. B. D. Heath. The subject matter was very interesting and was written in a most pleasing style. At the meeting next month delegates and alternates to the Continental Congress, which meets in Washington on April 19th, will be chosen.

The Liberty Hall Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution met yesterday afternoon with Mrs. E. P. Pingley. After the business in hand was transacted a paper, "Winter of '76-'77 From Long Island Operation to Germantown," was read by Mrs. J. Arthur Henderson. This paper was heartily enjoyed by all present. Mrs. G. O. Doggett read her article on the "Loyalty of the American Revolutionists," a reading most interesting and entertaining. The social features of the meeting were especially attractive. Mrs. Tiney serving delicious refreshments. Altogether this was one of the most pleasant meetings ever held by the chapter.

VIRGINIA DARE.

Mrs. H. M. Victor and Mrs. Fred Laxton will furnish the literary program this afternoon at Mrs. J. C. McNeely's. The program was given in "The News" several days ago.

The many friends of Miss Ella Dowd will regret to know that she has been quite sick for several weeks. She is at her home on North Tryon street.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Clonts, of Salisbury, who came to attend the funeral of Mrs. P. C. Harkey left this morning after spending a day with her brother, Mr. S. W. Culp at his home on North Pine street.

COL. AND MRS. KIRKPATRICK ENTERTAIN CHURCHMEN.

Col. and Mrs. T. L. Kirkpatrick entertained the pastor, elders and trustees of Chalmers Memorial church last night at their home, 1701 South Boulevard, from 8 to 10 o'clock, the affair being quite informal and mainly for the purpose of discussing matters pertaining to the welfare of the church. A pleasant evening was spent in social intercourse and a very profitable one, in which the following subjects were discussed by the officers, whose names precede the subject:

Mr. J. W. McClung—Subject: Why Officers of the Church Should be Faithful in Their Attendance Upon the Sabbath School.

Dr. A. A. Barron—Subject: The Call of the Church to Young Men for Service.

Mr. J. Lloyd Ranson—Subject: How to Cultivate the Grace of Giving.

Mr. L. M. McAllister—Subject: The Duty of the Elders to the People and Pastor.

Mr. W. M. Beatty—Subject: The Best Method of Collecting Church Subscriptions.

Mr. H. D. Kirkpatrick—Subject: The Necessity of Church Members Bearing Their Part of the Expense and Why They Should Pay Same Promptly.

Rev. R. E. Hough, pastor—Subject: The Duties of the Officers to Attend the Mid-Week Prayer Meeting.

GUEST FROM NORFOLK.

Mrs. Brevard D. Miller and sister, Miss Reid, have as their guest, their very charming sister from Norfolk, Mrs. T. L. Bogert.

COMPLIMENT TO MRS. OLIVE.

A pretty hospitality is being extended Mrs. Wade W. Olive of Durham, this afternoon by Mrs. E. V. Finlayson, who is entertaining at bridge in honor of the charming bride from Durham. The guests are Mesdames Olive, J. M. Harry, W. R. Foreman, E. C. Marshall, P. M. and John Bass Brown, Ralph Van Landingham, W. A. Graham, M. M. Murphy, James Van Ness, J. H. Howell, Herbert Miller, Ralph Miller, John York, Chas. Palmer, Hugh Montgomery, O. W. Lovins, P. B. Ketcham, C. B. Bryant, A. M. Shaw, Walter Annette, C. M. Davis and W. E. Shaw.

Mrs. Dr. Ingram, of Wadesboro, came up this morning and is the guest of Mrs. Dr. Misenheimer.

HOUSEHOLD ECONOMICS MEETS.

The Department of Household Economics of the Woman's Club held their meeting yesterday at 11 o'clock in the ladies' parlors of the Manufacturers' Club.

In the absence of Mrs. Rush T. Wray, the chairman of this department, who is in New York, Mrs. W. G. Rogers filled the chair.

Mrs. E. M. Bell read a most interesting paper on Rural Hygiene. Mrs. H. C. Long was kept away on account of illness, and her assigned topic on "Sanitation of a Country Home," had to be omitted. "Healthful Surroundings on the Farm," by Mrs. H. D. Burkheimer was one of the most instructive papers read at the meeting. Several days ago and notice of the meeting, Mrs. G. O. Doggett, instead of reading "Labor Saving Devices for the Woman on the Farm," that was absolutely pleasing, to say nothing of the pointedness of it. Mrs. O. J. Thies started a general discussion on the subject of her assignment, "Pleasures of Country Life," her salient idea being the freedom which country folk obtain. Walks here and there through the country, absence of the rush and noise of the city, and the closeness to nature, were ideas well expressed by other members. Mrs. A. M. Spong read a delightful paper on "A Twentieth Century Farm House," and all agreed that if this could always be carried out, they all wouldn't mind being rural dames, at least part of the time.

The meeting, as seen, was strictly concerning the farm and its connections, and it were a great pity that the women who actually love the "Country Life in America" could not have such a meeting, and real often, so helpful and full of instruction and information.

AT THE TORRANCES.

The Torrance family are having a very happy family reunion. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Torrance and little daughter of Lincoln, Neb., arrived several days ago and were joined at Capt. and Mrs. R. A. Torrance's, last night by Mrs. L. L. Moore and children, from Clarksville, Va. Mr. Moore was recently called to the Presbyterian church at Taylorsville, and Mrs. Moore and children are en route thither.

SCHUMANN RECITAL.

The Treble Clef has not enjoyed any event this winter any more than it did the Schumann recital given Wednesday afternoon at the Presbyterian College by Mr. Henry Anderson, assisted by Mrs. Anderson, violin, and Miss Mary Forman, voice. Mr. Anderson's paper on the great composer was charming from both a literary and musical standpoint. The organ expression, by Mr. Anderson, of the works of Schumann also that, by violin and voice, of Mrs. Anderson and Miss Forman, was exceptionally fine.

The News was in error in stating that Mr. and Mrs. Don Richardson and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cope occupied the same flat in the Elmore flats. Mr. and Mrs. Cope have rented their flat, but the Richardson's have not. The date of Mr. Richardson's going to New York to study will be decided later.

Mr. R. A. Leonard, of Tryon, is at the Central today.
