Stone & Barringer To Move March 1
After Occupying Tryon Street Stand Since 1893 Will Move to Trade Street—Mr. Stone's Reasons—The Firm One of The Best Known in South.

Stone & Barringer, the well-known book store, is to move from Tryon street to Trade street March 1st. The company will occupy the store formerly occupied by Belk Bros. as a shoe store.

"Why are you making the move?" asked the News of Mr. Stone yesterday afternoon. "I think the stand we are going to better for our business, said Mr. Stone. 'The room is larger than this and the location better suited, in every way. We will retain our warehouse here. We do not need this whole building but we need more down stairs space, which the Trade street stand will give us. About 1-3 of our trade is out-of-town, and the local stand does not make any special difference. We will have the new stand overhauled and made very attractive.'

The Stone & Barringer Co. was incorporated six years ago. The officers are: President and treasurer, Mr. Stone; vice-president, Mr. E. A. McCausland; secretary, Mr. John R. Ross.

Directors: Messrs. Stone, McCausland and Ross, and J. M. Harry and Frank Lethco.

New Clothing Store Gibson-Woolley Co.

Before the New Year has drawn the work of has-been across its first month—January, a new mercantile enterprise in the city has been launched.

Announcement was made Friday afternoon by Messrs. Tom Gibson, J. M. Woolley and W. P. Harris, three young men who have been clerking for the Tate-Brown company, mens' clothing, that they had formed a partnership and would open a mens' clothing store in the stand which Stone & Barringer have occupied for many years.

The deal has been pending for several weeks, but only the three concerned in the new enterprise, and Mr. Stone, were aware of the fact. Publicity was given to the new enterprise Friday afternoon, and the friends of all concerned, passed pleasant comment, and predicted for them the success to which they are entitled.

The new store will be opened about March 1, and will cater to the wants of the highest-class of patrons. The proprietors have had long experience in their special line of business.

The company's name will be Gibson-Woolley.

Peg-leg Graham After Brer Fox

Peg-leg Graham dropped in yesterday morning to say that Wade Harris said Iredell county didn't want any more foxes—that it had enough.

"I want you to say," continued Mr. Stone, "that if they'll give us ten days well run all the foxes out of Iredell. We had two big hunts last week in a big crowd of fellers from Waxham and Pineville—and we got one brush and ran another Brer Fox in his hole. We could have dug him out, but left him for another hunt. We had a party of 25 men and 35 dogs and we had a great time."

Home Institution Merits Patronage

A statement showing the condition of the Piedmont Fire Insurance Co. of this city, on January 1st, 1911, is published in this issue of The News and furnish very interesting reading for those who are interested in the growth and prosperity of home institutions that add wealth to the city.

This statement shows that the company owns total assets valued at $296,126.21, a net surplus of $116,437.54, and a surplus, as regards policy holders, of $216,437.54. A comparison of these figures with those in the statement of the preceding year shows that the company has made a splendid growth in the past twelve months and this growth indicates an increased patronage from home people who realize that dollars spent with this company stay in Charlotte besides bringing a maximum amount of protection. It is a fact that the profits arising from this business are loaned to Charlotte people and used to build homes and develop industries and knowing this, it is but natural that the people of this city and section should favor it with a patronage that makes possible such a statement as The News prints.

Street Sweeper Run Over. Chas Odum a colored man employed by the city as a street sweeper, was run over by an automobile, belonging to and driven by Mr. J. P. Sloan of Juno, yesterday about 9 o'clock. The negro was painfully but not seriously hurt. He was struck by the left fender and knocked over the front wheel passed over his body. He was taken to his home on South Poplar street and immediately attended by Dr. Hawley, city physician. His injuries were found to be one ankle sprained, both knees sprained and lacerated, and one hip badly bruised and torn.

The accident occurred in front of Major J. G. Davis' home on South Tryon street. Mr. Sloan was coming up Tryon in his automobile, having left home for the purpose of spending the day in town. He saw three of four negroes ahead of him, sweeping, and blew his horn as he approached.

Odum turned and saw the car. Instead of standing still, he commenced dodging, and as he dodged Mr. Sloan and car dodged, also and the result was the accident as recorded above.

Mr. Sloan was very much distressed over the affair. He took the negro up in his car and drove him to his home, and then 'phoned for Dr. Hawley. Strange to say Odum escaped with no broken bones. At last accounts he was resting comfortably.

Who Betrays the Working Girl?

You have heard a lot about "white slaves." Do you know who really creates them? Some of our wealthiest and most respected citizens—men who donate great sums to charity—men who are quick to deplore conditions through the public press—always seem to turn their backs to looking-glasses when they point their accusing fingers. The chief source of immorality is explained by Richard Barry in PEARSON'S MAGAZINE now on sale, in an article which will certainly be "deplored" by certain "charitable" advertisers. You ought to read it. It explains some things which have perhaps puzzled you. Also, it will make you see some renowned and benevolent persons in a new light. And it is all true. And it presents suggestions which will prevent much immorality.

Forty-three nations have a Parcel Post; our Government agrees that it is a good thing for them but not for us. Why? Read Allan Benson's article in this magazine. How you would be benefited if the Senators of the United States were chosen by popular vote is explained in another article. The story of the men who fly for fun—the American amateur aviators—is the same issue. The tale of the gun man of New York—the Apache of New York—is told by Alfred Henry Lewis, a first-class fighting story. And there is a solid evening of entertainment to

Elegant Fountain And Sign Placed

The remodeling of Bowen's Drug store goes rapidly toward completion. The soda fountain, has been installed and will possibly be on the fizz tomorrow. The fountain is one of the handsomest in the South. It was ordered through Mr. Kuhn, of this city, representing E. M. Green & Sons, of Philadelphia. It extends half the length of the south wall. The back bar is of solid mahogany, enclosing a large plate glass mirror. To each side of the mirror are candy cupboards. Four large onyx columns and art glass furnish the decorative effect. There are 20 syrons, and the fountain has a capacity of 3,000 glasses a day. The fountain is a fac simile of the one in Wanamaker's Philadelphia store. One of the largest and handsomest electric signs in Charlotte has been placed over the two entrances to the store. The word "Bowen's" is over the Trade street door, and "Drug Store" over the Tryon street entrance. The sign was made on street entrance. The sign was made by the Charlotte Sign Company. The illumination from the sign is beautiful.

The Real Source of Power.

The reputation that Mr. Hanna enjoys as a strong speaker to men will insure a large audience to hear his presentation of this important subject.
