A very unique and enjoyable affair at Elizabeth College Saturday night was the George Washington dance. The hours were from 8 to 11:30. The dance was held in the gymnasium, which was appropriately decorated in flags, trees and hatchets. Punch was served by Misses Trula Watkins and Margaret Lloyd, who were both dressed in Colonial costume. Ice cream and cake was served also. The Hobo Band, including Misses Nita Bryant, Bessie Perry, Bess Crockett, Marjorie Ashbury, Yida Mauney, Rosalia Hendrix, and Narvis Hagler, furnished music for the occasion. Prof. Zehm also favored the occasion by playing three extra dances.

The dance was led by Miss Margaret Willis (Martha) and Miss Clara Carpenter (George). The others dancing were Miss Mary Taylor Sasser and Miss Margaret Bingham, Miss Sara Mossley and Miss Laura Hearne, Miss Blanche Simmons and Miss Margaret Dewoody, Miss Hazel Allbright and Miss Nita Bryant, Miss Laura Reilly and Miss Rth Richardson, Miss Emily Durham and Miss Nell Saunders, Miss Mary Rhyne and Miss Gretchen Kline, Miss Katherine Pagram and Miss Marie Leutz, Miss Mary King and Miss Hazel MacNeill, Miss Catherine Voliers and Miss Aiten Drew, Miss Caroline Drew and Miss Willie McLaughlin, Miss Miriam Parker and Miss Hilda Conyers, Miss Jessica Vann and Miss M. ATTENDED FUNERAL OF MR. NELSON.

Miss Sarah King and Miss Faye Stearns returned last night from Asheville, where they went last Thursday to attend the funeral of Mr. Charles E. Nelson, who died in Chicago, Tuesday, February 21st, of heart failure.

The sudden death of this much loved young man was a particularly sad one. He was formerly with the Western Union of this city and has a host of friends who mourn his death.

MISS COSBY IS GUEST OF MISS FURGESON.

Miss Elizabeth Cosby, of Milton, N. C., arrived here this morning from Davidson College, where she has been in attendance at the Junior speaking. She will be the guest for several days of Mrs. J. W. Furgeson, at her home on North Church street.

STATE COACH BURNED.

Of all the sights of the unique parade, which will mark the coronation of George V, the crowd will watch for a glimpse of the new king and queen within the great, lumbering state coach, says the Providence Journal. This is the coach pre-eminent the world over. If not the most ancient of the vehicles of its type which appeared in the spectacular procession from Buckingham Palace to Westminster Abbey when Edward was crowned it was, of course, the most magnificent, not to say preposterous. Of stout English ash, with an astonishing area of glass, it was said to weigh three tons. A dispatch from London reports its total destruction by fire in a shop where it was being furnished for the forthcoming occasion. There several remarkable coaches in the last coronation parade that had not seen service since Victoria was crowned, though many peers and peeresses availed themselves of automobiles.

'Heroes Past And Present' by Dr. Robinson

Yesterday was mission Sunday at the boys' department of the Young Men's Christian Association, and Mr. C. C. Robinson delivered a strong address to the boys on "Heroes Past and Present," contrasting the heroes of the Bible with the great men of today who are going to the foreign field and giving up their lives that they may carry the story of Christ to a people who have never heard it. This week will be made mission week among the boys and an effort will be made to get every boy in the department to make a contribution to the work in the foreign field. A very pleasing feature of the meeting was a solo by Miss Mattie McNinch. Miss McNinch has a rich soprano voice and her solo was enjoyed by all present. The following committee have charge of the campaign for missions: Messrs. Shepherd, Elliott, Kessler, Caldwell Young, Uhlman Alexander and Allen Wear.

DALHOUSIE AND THE KOHINOOR.

Lord Curzon, while Viceroy of India, once referred to his predecessors in the government there as men who "worked between an earth like iron and a sky like brass, laying the foundations of empire." None worked more strenuously than the Marquis of Dalhousie, to whom is mainly due the unity of the Indian Empire. As Governor-General Lord Dalhousie introduced the telegraph, built railways, constructed canals, reduced postage, and organized departments of public instruction.

It is to Dalhousie that the English owe their possession of the great Kohinoor diamond, a jewel of famous history. In 1813 Runjeet-Singh, an Indian potentate, extorted it from a political refugee. After the second Sikh war in 1849 Lord Dalhousie confiscated it on account of the heavy debt owed to East India Company by the Lahore state.

It is said that the company imagined it was to become their property, but the Governor-General sent it to Queen Victoria. Those were adventurous times, and it was only by great care that the jewel reached its destination. For weeks the Governor-General wore it on his person night and day. The tassels of the amulet in which the diamond was set had been cut off to diminish its bulk, and Lady Dalhousie had enclosed the amulet with its jewel in a leather bag. The bag was sewed into a cashmere belt lined with chamois, which Lord Dalhousie wore constantly.

Two dogs, Baron and Bendar, were chained to the Governor-General's bed. The safety of the jewel was insured while he slept. As an additional precaution, no one save his wife and one near relative knew its whereabouts, and it was finally safely conveyed to Queen Victoria.

Robbed in Georgia, Came to Charlotte

Claiming the Blue Ridge mountains as his home, and offering as an excuse for being drunk yesterday that he had met an old friend here who sympathized with him in his recent misfortune when he was robbed by bandits in Georgia, LaFayette Hawkins, 72 years of age, a typical "Southern Colonel," was a recorder this morning and told an interesting story. He was allowed to go with the payment of the costs, and said he would soon be on his way to Georgia again.

A little goatee, long, curling mustache, waving white hair, and a rich and eloquent drawl, made for the gentleman an interesting character. "I came from the Blue Ridge mountains, sub," he began, addressing the recorder, "and I have had some misfortune. While traveling through the good state of Georgia, I was robbed, sub! Bold men held me at a pistol's point while stealing filthy lucre from my person. But when I arrived in the magnificent city of Charlotte, Sub, I met an acquaintance—Nay, I may say a friend, I am 72 years of age, Sub, and this friend and I exchanged many reminiscences of the halcyon days of long ago."

"It was clever of him to offer his bottle and I say without hesitation, Sub, that I partook of its contents. The fiery fluid made me just a little tipsy, but Sub, a gentleman, and I ask this honorable court for treatment usually accorded a gentleman. I believe you will allow me to wend my weary way down life's path." This was too much for Recorder Smith and he did not impose a fine.

Fire Destroys Barn On East Ninth Street

Fire which was discovered yesterday morning about 3:30 o'clock destroyed the barn of Dr. J. W. Summers and also the barn of Policeman J. E. Hunter. The two barns were on adjoining premises at 608 and 700 E. Ninth street. Dr. Summers' Ford automobile was destroyed in the flames. A heavy fire in the Summers' stable was removed from the building before the fire had made much headway. The auto was not insured and is a total loss.

—The many friends of Mr. John J. Adams, who has been in Asheville several months in search of health, will be glad to hear that he is much improved and hopes to return to Charlotte soon.

What Is Vinol?

It Represents Twenty Years' Work of Two Eminent Chemists.

After twenty years of study two eminent French chemists discovered a method by which the alkaloids or medicinal elements of the cod's liver might be separated from the useless oil or grease, retaining all the good of cod liver oil and dispensing with the bad, as the oil has no medicinal value. These medicinal elements blended with tonic iron and a mild medicinal wine—make Vinol.

Vinol is not a secret medicine, as its ingredients are printed on every bottle, and in all cases where the healing, strengthening influence of cod liver oil is needed, Vinol will give better results, for it contains all the curative, medicinal properties of cod liver oil, but without the oil, and it is easily assimilated and acceptable to the weakest stomach.

For all run-down, weakened conditions, and to cure chronic coughs, colds and bronchial troubles, Vinol is unequalled. We sell it always with the understanding that if it does not do all we claim for it, we will refund the money. R. H. Jordan & Co., Druggists, Charlotte.

Capital City News Briefs

Special to The News. Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 27.—The corporation commission is hearing today the arguments for and against the Raleigh-Hamlet shoo-fly and require the Raleigh-Norlina shoo-fly to continue its daily run to Weldon, what is really wanted is an order from the commission for the shoo-fly to start each morning from Weldon and run through to Hamlet and return each day instead of at present having only a shoo-fly service from Norlina to Raleigh and return.

There is a very general protest among the people of the city against the recent action of the city authorities in allowing children of the city to use their roller skates on the asphalt pavements of the streets around Capital Square and up Fayetteville street. The demand is for an ordinance that will put a stop to this as the children have come to make a practice of getting hold of vehicles, trams, automobiles and street cars to have themselves carried along with less effort. Any serious accidents have already been narrowly averted.

The state school for the blind here observed Bill Nye Day and raised a contribution for the Bill Nye building at the Stonewall Jackson Training School, representing a real sacrifice by the children for this noble undertaking. In the package of coin raised by the children and the faculty there were 94 pennies, 31 nickels, 9 dimes, 7 quarters, 1 half-dollar and one dollar piece.

State Senator Davis, of Beaufort county, rendered a special solo for the service at Edenton Street Methodist church Sunday morning. He won many compliments.

Brother of Dr. Bomar Died Saturday Night

Mr. Elsha Bomar, a brother of Dr. E. E. Bomar, pastor of Pritchard Memorial church, this city, died Saturday night at 12 o'clock at his home in Spartanburg. Erysipelas complicated with pneumonia was the cause of death.

The children are Veron, a student in Baltimore; Miss May Vernon, a student in Converse College, and two smaller children, Ernest and Virginia. Dr. Bomar left yesterday for Spartanburg, and will be present at the funeral which occurs today.
