WEDNESDAY, MARCH 29, 1911.

THE PEACEMAKER.

Two neighbors had an ancient feud. They banded language vain and rude, and threw dead cats across the fence, and seemed to sidestep common sense.

—WALT MASON. (Copyright, 1911, by George Matthew Adams.)

Open season for "deadly parallels."

The Durham Sun never goes into eclipse.

The Hornets are ready to sting their way pennantward.

The Raleigh tightwads are loosening up.

Bob Phillips must certainly be endowed with a wonderfully ravenous appetite.

Cowan will shortly be inditing rhymes to sea nymphs and summer girls.

"Pigs eat peanuts?" asks the Charleston News and Courier. Yes, and drop the hulls on the floor of the meatin' house.

The "Texas" was put up as a target and riddled. It is only necessary to turn the guns upon any of those Texas myths to witness scenes of dissolution.

Since death came to the mile which ate a copy of the Raleigh News and Observer, the "Old Reliable" never appears on the menu of Mecklenburg's mulish population.

A contemporary asserts that there is "red blood in Thackeray." The Dickens!—Charleston News and Courier.

Great Scott!

"They say the greatest love story has never been written."—Charleston News and Courier.

And never will be. There are no hands to spare the pen when "The greatest love story" is being reeled off.

The mountain brooklets will be in tune. To sing for the editors in June. —Greensboro News.

Then give the brook a chance to sing— Why try to "scoop the helpless thing?"

CHARLOTTE-ASHEVILLE INTER URBAN.

News comes that actual work has been started on sections of the proposed Piedmont Interurban Railway.

Before many months have gone by a considerable section of the system will have been completed.

The importance of the completion of these lines to Charlotte cannot be overestimated. Being the hub of the entire system—the center of the proposed network of lines, Charlotte will share many advantages in increased trade opportunities.

Not alone is the city fortunate from this source, but from another interurban system, also, great things are assured.

The roadway which will link Charlotte with Asheville, and bring it into close touch with the great territory intervening is likewise an assured fact. By May it is said actual work of constructing this gigantic road will have commenced.

The Asheville Citizen comments as follows upon the project: "The prospect of an interurban electric road from Charlotte to Asheville, now seems brighter than ever since we have been assured by the promoters of the line that dirt will begin to fly about the middle of May."

There have been many lines built on paper in this neighborhood during the last five or six years, it is reasonable to believe that there is something tangible in the Charlotte-Asheville road.

"The benefits to be derived from the completion of such an electric road, running high-powered cars, modern in every particular, cannot be estimated. Now, in many sections of the country, particularly through the Middle West, the advent of interurban electric roads has wrought wonderful changes along manufacturing and industrial lines in the cities and towns which have been connected 'with lines of steel.'"

More than that, the rates of passenger transportation on steam and other roads have been materially affected.

Cracker Jack Story.

The National News Service story of the great tragedy in New York Saturday afternoon, as carried in Sunday morning's Charlotte News, was one of the best written news stories we have ever read.

Compared with it the Associated Press story of the fire was that of a novice. The one was a well-told connected story of the fire, the other, in comparison, a jumble of stories about the fire.—Raleigh Times.

Slandering the Harem.

The people of the North Carolina communities of Charlotte, Wilmington and Greensboro have never seen a harem skirt yet the editors, or the journalists, in those places persist in writing things about it that is displeasing.

Greenville has seen the harem and is in a position to say things about it but why those communities that have not been granted this privilege will talk about something they don't know anything about we can't understand.

The remarks, however, have been mostly in poetry. The Charlotte News was the one that started it, although it must be said to the credit of The News that it referred to the hobble at the outset. This is what it turned loose:

Mary let at home because She wore it to a ball, And everywhere that Mary danced, She didn't dance at all.

The Wilmington Dispatch, ever naughty, brought in the harem. It attempted to amend The News' bit of verse to make it read this way:

Mary had a harem skirt, She wore it on the street, And eggs were thrown at Mary, That were not fit to eat.

And The Greensboro News spoiled it all. This is the way Bob Phillips wanted it to read:

Mary had a bathing suit— Her hobble and her harem Mary left at home because She didn't want t'oscure 'em.

The whole push ought to be sent to jail, though Patton, of The Charlotte News, is entitled to a lighter sentence than the other two.—Greenville Piedmont.

Care in Advertising.

"If there is any business in the world that demands originality, it is advertising," said Albert L. Green, advertising director of the oEston store, in Milwaukee, in a talk to the advertising class at Marquette University, Milwaukee, recently.

"An advertising campaign of abig store must fit the business just as accurately as a mechanical piano-player fits the piano. If the manager depends entirely on the machine to do the work, he will be woefully disappointed. If he wants the proper results he will have to give close attention to the operation of the machine, working the pedals at the proper instant, regulating the time and expression to fit the conditions."

Company Offers to Haul Away Trash.

The Charlotte Waste Paper & Manufacturing Company has volunteered its services to the city in the interest of "clean-up-day" by offering to haul away all the trash which may be collected on that day without cost to the city.

The officials of the company will act as judges and will be assisted by sanitary Chief Roberts and his force. This offer of the Charlotte Waste Paper & Manufacturing Company is greatly appreciated both by the city officials and the Woman's Club, who initiated the plan for a "clean-up-day" day. This means that the purpose for which the day was set apart will be carried out fully.

IF early Spring finds you tired and languid with no appetite, clogged bowels, and impure blood try the successful plan of thousands who really know—a course of HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTER. News comes that actual work has been started on sections of the proposed Piedmont Interurban Railway.

Couldn't Cut Slice Of Bread

Ipswich Lady Tells What Happened When She Decided to Take Advice of Her Friends

Ipswich, S. D.—Mrs. Henry Royle, of this place, says: "I suffered for nearly 10 years, with womanly trouble. The doctors could not help me, but Cardui has made me well and strong. Before I commenced to take Cardui, I could not stand on my feet. I was so weak I could not cut a slice of bread. Now I can stand all day, and I can do most of my work. I think Cardui is the best medicine in the world. I have been feeling fine ever since I began to take it. Cardui was recommended to me by a friend, and I will gladly tell my friends of it. Cardui is a wonderful medicine."

If Cardui will relieve and cure such a stubborn and long-standing trouble as that of Mrs. Royle, then it is only reasonable to believe it will quickly and surely help you, too.

Cardui is a general tonic, for women, improving the appetite, and building up the womanly constitution. You can always depend on Cardui, for its reliability and merit is proven by 50 years of continued success in treating troubles so common to women.

It will help you. Try it.

Our Commission Form.

The Charlotte News, in an interesting article on the commission form of government, discusses the various views of it, including one taken of it as an "undemocratic step." The fact is the commission form is not undemocratic, but represents popular government in a different form, with the power of the people committed to fewer representatives than under the old system.

How Chronic Coughs

Are Being Cured by Vinol—An Account of One Case.

New Haven, Conn.—"I was troubled with a most persistent chronic cough for a long time and had tried so many remedies and prescriptions without benefit that I was discouraged. I was persuaded by my friends to try Vinol. I must say that I had little confidence, but I made up my mind to give it a fair trial. Before I finished my first bottle of Vinol I commenced to notice an improvement in my general condition. After taking the second bottle, my cough left me, and I must say I never felt better in my life,—all due to the use of Vinol. I can also recommend Vinol to any one in a run-down condition as the best possible remedy." (Name furnished on request.)

It is the combined action of the medicinal elements of the cods' livers aided by the blood-making and strength-creating properties of tonic iron which makes Vinol so efficient in curing chronic coughs, colds and bronchitis—at the same time building up the weakened, run-down system. Vinol contains no oil and tastes good.

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you. R. H. Jordan & Co., Druggists, Charlotte.

THE

is the best piano made and acknowledged standard piano of the world. It is the greatest piano value for the price paid, and consequently the cheapest piano relatively. Its market value after having been used depreciates less than that of any other make ever produced.

The mere fact of the possession of a Stieff piano puts the seal of supreme approval upon the musical taste of its owner.

Fishing for Easy Marks

Many are the ways to extract money from "easy marks." Some person has tested the advertising of "sharks" who had bait set for the gullest with this result:

By sending $1 for a cure for drunkenness, it was to "take the pledge and keep it."

He sent 50 cents to find out how to raise turkeys successfully. He found out: "Just take hold of the tops and lift."

He sent stamps to a Chicago firm for information as to how to make an impression. The answer was: "Sit down on a pan of dough."

He learned "How to double your money in six months," being advised to convert his money into bills and fold them."

He sent for "twelve useful household articles" and got a package of needles. He sent $1 to find out "how to get rich." The secret was, "Work hard and never spend a cent."

He wrote to find out how to write without pen and ink. He was told to use a lead pencil.

He paid $1 to learn how to live without work, and was told on a postal card: "Fish for easy marks, as we do."

If he had sent $1 to Insurance Headquarters to know which was the best Insurance Agency in the city, the answer would have been

Another Big

Jewelry Robbery

By Associated Press.

New York, March 29.—There was a great bustle of activity at the New York police headquarters during the early morning hours today. Police officials would only admit that another big jewelry robbery had been discovered and that the home of a wealthy New Yorker had been looted of valuable items worth fully $25,000. The name of the victim could not be obtained and the details of the theft were also closely guarded.

It was unofficially reported that the robbery was the work of a trusted butler who had worked himself into his employer's confidence and had then taken advantage of the temporary absence of the family from town to escape with his plunder. A partial list of the stolen goods showed that a great part of the missing valuables consisted of silver and gold utensils which might be readily melted into bullion.

Quality

If there is one thing that you want when you go into a drug store, it is QUALITY. You want QUALITY in all drugs and chemicals; Quality in all prescription work; Quality in everything that has to do with medicine.

Is It Not So?

Certainly. There can be no question about it. That is why our trade is so large. It is a recognizable fact that our label on a bottle of medicine stamps it with Quality, because it never goes on any bottle or box of medicine that does not possess Quality.
