WADE BUILDING ON W. TRADE ST. CONTRACT LET.

Mr. T. W. Wade, owner of the vacant lot on West Trade street, just east of the Southern Hardware store, is to add to the material advantage as well as beauty of Charlotte by erecting a handsome building on the property. The plans as drawn by Mr. Louis Ashbury, a chitect, show a two-story brick building with modern basement.
The building will be the entire length and breadth of the lot which is 100 feet long and 35 in depth. It will be a steel frame, pressed brick with granite trimmings and copper coping.
The basement will be as elegantly fitted up as the ground floor. The building will be divided into two stores. Both will have the most modern electrical fixtures, the system of lighting being the finest that can be secured. The second floor of each building will be fitted up for offices, all with modern conveniences and appliances.
The stores will be among the handsomest in the city.

Completed, the building will represent an outlay of $15,000, or more. The Goode Mfg. Company has the contract. Work will be commenced at once.

Deed For Colored Reformatory Filed

Deed for the historic Alexander lands in Hopewell township, near Cor-nellius, was today recorded, and the colored reformatory for the state is assured. The land was purchased some time ago from Mr. W. D. Rook, the deed being consummated by the real estate firm of W. T. Wilkinson & Company. The Reformatory Association, which owes to a large extent its formation to the energetic efforts of Business Manager Watson, agrees to pay $10,250 for the property. There is now $3,000 on hand and this fund will be used in remodeling the present buildings on the land for the accommodation of incorrigibles who are forwarded from various courts.
The lands referred to were the property of Dr. J. B. Alexander.

Judge Boyd Delivers Forceful Charge To Federal Grand Jury

The April term of the federal court convened this morning with Judge James E. Boyd presiding, and with Judge A. L. Coble as an associate. Mr.
A. E. Holton is the district attorney here and Mr. William E. Logan is marshal.
Immediately after the opening of court Judge Boyd delivered an able charge to the jury, dwelling at length upon the reformatory question.
Only one case was heard before recess for lunch, this being the charge against Rufus Felmer, for illicit distilling. He was adjudged guilty, but sentence was not passed. The court took a recess until 2:20 o'clock, when the jury will return any indictments it may have.
Through the courtesy of Mrs. S. W.
Summers, court stenographer, and president of the North Carolina Steno-graphers' Association, a splendid resume of the charge delivered by the court can be given to the readers of The News. In part, it follows:

The Charge.
Judge Boyd delivered an excellent charge to the grand jury in which he discussed distilling, robbery, false entries, postoffice robbery, fraudulent papers, postal law, anti-trust law, unwholesome food and the white slave law, and last but not least, he went very fully into the reformatory.
The idea of reformatory has grown and is still growing.
The important thing before the people of North Carolina today is to secure the proper places where youthful criminals can be sent, so as to make better citizens.
It would be the best investment that the people of North Carolina could make today to require the legislature to make a rule, so that the fund of the taxes of North Carolina should go toward the establishment of a reformatory for criminals. You would save much in court, and in the cost of the legislature and would save it in the character of citizenship that would in many instances be ruined.
The federal government has provided several of these places which are useful. The government maintains in Washington, D. C., a National Training School. Every youth convicted 16 years' old and under is sent to that school and not to the penitentiary. If you could only go there and see those happy little fellows. There is scarcely an element of imprisonment. Such a home-like place—workshops, schools, Sunday school, good teachers; everything provided so you would think you were present at a well ordered school.
The children are taught useful trades, and sent away impressed with the idea that a man's place is on earth is for some important purpose, and it is his duty to follow some upright occupation.
Stonewall Jackson Institute.
There is a most creditable institution in Concord, N. C., "The Stonewall Jackson Training School." It is struggling along, doing the best it can, and it is the duty of every citizen of North Carolina to uphold it and encourage it. The people of North Carolina ought to take hold of this question. It is much more important than many that have discussed and many that their legislature has taken in hand. It is much more important in our day than many of those that are to come after us, or follow us.

New Democratic

Then there will come the necessity of encountering a republican president who will have the veto power. It is likely that the demomats of the house will pass some bills which the president will reject, and others which the senate will not stand for. This will be, from their standpoint, good politics, for it will enable them to go to the country, plead for full control of the government and a sap that to enact all of the remedial legislation which they desire, there must be elected not only a democratic house, but a democratic senate and president as well.

The Canadian reciprocity agreement, which precipitated the special session, will, it is believed, go through without much trouble. The house has put itself on record as being in favor of it, and as the old guard in the senate is very much depleted, the president will, unthinkingly, muster sufficient democratic and republican votes to pass the measure.
The trouble will come, however, when the demomats tackle the Payne-Aldrich tariff law. According to present plans, it is their intention to revise the tariff schedule by schedule.
This president, however, is opposed to any tariff revision at this session.
He has admitted the injustice of several of the schedules in the Payne-Aldrich bill, but he wants to give the tariff board an opportunity to investigate and report on these schedules.
This report, of course, will not be forthcoming before the next session of congress, and the democratic leaders do not propose to wait that long.
Their tariff legislation will undoubtedly get through the senate. In its event, however, it is believed that the president would use his veto power.

Clean-Up-Day Was a Success

Reports from clean-up day in Charlotte are gratifying to the ladies of the Woman's Club who made the day possible. Children from Dilworth school collected 177 barrels of trash; the South School raked up 395 barrels; in the Second ward 646 barrels were scrapped together; in the Fourth ward 133 barrels were collected, making a grand total of 1,351 barrels. First ward, Belmont and all other side schools to her from Belmont came in later with 183 barrels.
