OLD AND YOUNG.

They soon grow old who grope for gold in marts where all is bought and sold. Who live for self, and on some shelf in darkened vaults hoard up their gold. Cankered and crusted o'er with mold, For them their youth itself is old.

They ne'er grow old who gather gold Where spring awakes and flowers unfold; Where suns arise in joyous skies, And fill the soul within their eyes. For them the immortal birds have songs, For them old age itself is young. —Christopher Pearse Cranch.

THE CORONATION BIBLE.

When a King is formally crowned, it is probable that, in connection with the ceremonies attending the coronation, there will be used an old manuscript copy of a part of the Bible in Latin, now preserved in the Cottonian library. This volume has been employed at the coronations of British sovereigns for a period going back 50 years before the "Stone of Destiny" was brought from Scotch to Westminster by Edward I. In other words, this use of the Bible in question dates back to the year 1066.

It is a quarto of 217 leaves, containing the four gospels, and seems, from the style of the writing and the illustrations, which are extremely beautiful, to have been made about the end of the ninth century. It narrowly escaped destruction in the fire at Ashburnham house in 1731, of which event it bears evidence in its crumpled leaves and singed margins. It is said that the son of Edward the Elder, Athelstan the Great, who was King of the West Saxons from 925 to 940, owned this Bible and gave it to the church of Dover. —From the Continent.

Charlestonians Wednesday Night

There will be a general meeting of the membership of the Greater Charlotte Club next Wednesday evening in the assembly room of the Selwyn hotel. This meeting is called for the purpose of greeting sixty-odd business men of Charleston, who will arrive here at 6 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon on their annual trade excursion. They will be met at the station by a delegation from the Greater Charlotte Club and will be given a ride over the city, after which they will repair to the Selwyn.

They come here for the purpose of getting into closer relationship with our citizens. They believe a greater spirit of cooperation should exist between the business men of this section and are coming here expecting to meet our citizens for the promotion of that end. They expect some individual benefit from the trip as well as the initiation of a movement that will be of great benefit to the business interests of both cities, and there is no doubt that the event will be profitable to both the visitors and ourselves.

The visitors will be welcomed heartily by the Greater Charlotte Club. Several speeches of welcome will be made by Charlotte business men but the visitors will be given the larger part of the evening's program.

Columbus Team Plays at Home

Columbus, April 3.—The Columbus team of the South Atlantic League opened the season here this afternoon with Macon, under most favorable conditions. The weather was fair and warm with little wind. Just before the game was called all the players, the club officials and a large crowd of "fans" in automobiles marched around the field behind a band. The batteries as announced before the game were: Macon: Schultz and Weems and Kalkoff or Reynolds. Columbus: Radabaugh, or Torrens, and Reynolds, or Krebs.

At least 1200 people were at Bland headquarters Saturday night.

The Statesville Train Hit Teams

Special to The News.—On its journey from Charlotte to Taylorsville last evening Capt. Tom Rowland's train ran into two teams—or rather the teams and the train collided—and as a result one male is dead and Mr. M. P. Nash, who lives six miles west of Statesville, is painfully injured. The first accident occurred just after the train left Charlotte yesterday afternoon when an old horse driven by a negro, in a wagon, ran into the train at a crossing just outside of Charlotte. The train was moving slowly and the horse was not badly hurt.

The second accident occurred as the train was passing through west Statesville on its way to Taylorsville. Mr. Nash was caught under the wagon and received an ugly wound on the side of his head and a gash on one hand.

Transportation Chiefs to Meet.

Pittsburg, April 3.—Following a call for a meeting here next Wednesday of the grand chiefs of the transportation department and officials of the department of the American Federation of Labor, it developed today that grievances of shomen in the employ of the Pennsylvania Railroad were to be considered. The shomen were recently organized and it is alleged by leaders of the men that some of them have been discharged because of their new union affiliations.

DEDICATION OF BELMONT PARK CH. YESTERDAY

(By C. W. HUNT.)

It was, I think, the year 1897 that the old church at Belmont Park was opened, it being during the pastorate of Dr. W. W. Bays, at Tryon Street Methodist church, he being one of the moving spirits in organizing in that city the organization was a success from the start and has grown in keeping with the growth of that section, which is marvelous and the present new church is the outcome of the special need for a house in keeping with the times, fit for any one, be he fastidious or easy, to please as to where he prays, and yesterday marked a new era in church circles at Belmont Park, it being the date of the formal opening of Belmont Park Methodist church, which Rev. L. A. Falls, the hard working pastor has so builded, and which News readers are familiar with, having been mentioned often in these columns. The special occasion being the formal opening of the new church, the formal season being the dedication, which was held at Belmont Park, Tenn. Dr. Detwiler, D. D., pastor of West End Methodist church, Nashville, Tenn. Dr. Detwiler being so well known and loved here, having served both Trinity and Tryon Street Methodist churches, drew largely from the city churches, adding to the already overflowing house. The day was ideal, a fit day for a new springing church, and the people of that section of the city, proud of the handsome new house of worship, filled all the available space, even to standing room.

Special preparation had been made in every particular, especially the music, the choir being accompanied by a seven piece orchestra. The exercises proper were opened by the congregation standing and singing "Praise God From Whom all Blessings Flow," which was followed by the choir and orchestra leading, "Onward Christian Soldiers." Rev. J. A. Baldwin announced hymn 660, which was sung by the choir, and was followed by Dr. Detwiler in a most touching and tender prayer and thanksgiving for the past, present and future, following with the Scripture lessons from Psalms and Ephesians, fifth chapter, Song, "Twilight," was most pleasingly rendered by the choir, which was followed by the singing of hymn 298, "I'll sing praises," which was announced by the pastor, Rev. L. A. Falls; this being followed by the orchestra rendering an arrangement of "Able Will We," as an offering and this by a quartette by Mr. Bright Ogburn, Hoyle, Miss Maud Hoyle and Messrs. Peirce and Wood, entitled, "That Will Be Glory for Me."

The sermon—"The Miracle." Rev. L. A. Falls, the pastor, then took occasion to refer briefly to the struggle the congregation had passed through to reach the happy hour and introduced Dr. Detwiler, but that he needed any introduction, but that he was here at the very throes of the birth of the new building and that it was fitting that Dr. Detwiler be present on this occasion. Then thanking Dr. Detwiler for his invaluable help and all of Charlotte for his help in making the day possible.

Dr. Detwiler said he needed no thanks, the privileges of being present was enough, and that he came to these people when no church "cover" could have been used better. He felt honored to be invited. The text was from Matthew 23:8, "To what purpose is this waste?" It being the incident of Mary anointing the Master and the complaint of the disciples, the doctor saying he selected the text as suited to the occasion.

building the house of God which brings the hospital, the park, better homes, better and cleaner streets.

In the closing prayer the minister thanked God for the economy and trials of these people who made the Belmont Park church possible.

A balance of $700 was raised at the close of the sermon.

Smoke, But No Fire.

Burning soot from a flue falling on the roof of West Avenue Presbyterian church threatened a blaze last evening just as people were assembling for evening worship. The congregation gathered in the street and watched the firemen use the chemical engine a few minutes, then fled into the church and the service was held as usual. No women screamed, no children cried, no firemen swore, no excitement, and little damage done.

"Thanks to the fire boys for their promptness and efficient service."

FUNERAL THIS AFTERNOON.

A big bunch of Easter lilies, tied with white chiffon, on the door at Mr. A. H. Washburn's home on North Church street, yesterday, told that a little life had flickered out; that a baby missioner, Sunday morning's News noted with sorrow, in the death of Ruth, the 11-weeks-old baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Washburn. All day yesterday the Washburn home was filled with friends and inquisitive floral tributes lined the room where the baby lay. The little one had never been strong, and each day of her baby life saw her strength lessen. She was taken suddenly ill Saturday morning and never rallied.

Soda Shakers Heart.

Ever hear of the soda shaker heart? according to the New York Sun, it's a disease developed among fountain attendants and is due to the exertion of mixing eggs and malted drinks. A rapid, jerky movement of the arms greatly accelerates the heart action and soon brings on a permanent high pulse.

"It takes about 300 shakes to mix an egg drink properly, said a fountain attendant, and it is not unusual for a man to mix 100 such drinks in a day. That makes 30,000 motions in a day or 180,000 in a week. The arm muscles get used to it, but the heart can't stand it."

To meet this situation, as well as to increase the homogeneity of the drink many of the larger soda fountains have been equipped with a newly devised electrical mixer, on the order of a revolving egg beater, that makes 3,000 revolutions a minute and puts out a better drink in one-fourth the time consumed by a hand shaker.

Row of Buildings Burned.

By Associated Press. Clinton, Ky., April 3.—Fire early today burned down a row of business buildings and residences on the West Side of the public square. The total loss is estimated at $30,000. The principal losers are the owners of the Reid opera house block, the Richmond office building and the Johnson Furniture warehouse. The blaze is supposed to have started from cigarette stubs left by careless crap shooters gaming in one of the buildings.

Mrs. Gates Sure of Divorce.

By Associated Press. New York, April 3.—Mrs. Melville E. Martin, a sister-in-law of Mrs. Charles G. Gates, said today that Mrs. Gates had brought suit in this state for divorce. Her husband is a son of John W. Gates, the millionaire. The couple were married thirteen years ago in St. Louis and have no children.

Convalescents

After a long wasting illness, convalescents require nourishing food that will not overtax the digestive functions, and in this way of a strengthening and vitality-making tonic, we know of nothing that equals Vinol, our reliable cod liver and iron tonic (without oil).

Vinol creates an appetite, re-establishes good digestion and helps the daily food to make rich blood, form flesh, strengthen muscles and impart new life and vitality to every organ in the body. We ask those who need a strength and flesh building tonic restorative to call at our store and get a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that if it does not help them we will refund their money without question. Why Mayor Thomas W. Hawkins Will Be Re-Elected Mayor of Charlotte

1. He has demonstrated his ability to fill the office by two years of faithful and efficient service, having shown a thorough grasp of the situation and a wonderful comprehension of the details of city affairs. His legal learning, practical business judgment and broad experience have enabled him in two years to master the city's financial affairs and get them in fine shape.

2. His conservatism along all lines has convinced the people that his taxes are safe in his hands and will be used wisely and discreetly.

3. His progressive ideas have been demonstrated by the comprehensive plans for permanent improvements that have been submitted by him, those plans covering the much-needed extension and enlargement of the city's water system; the improvement of school facilities, which are badly needed, especially in the outlying sections of the city; the extension of the sewer system and improvement of streets, also imperatively needed by the outlying wards.

These plans, if carried out and guided by a safe and conservative administration will mean a great deal to the city, especially to those sections of the city which have hitherto received so little in return for what they have been paying in the way of taxes.

4. His agitation of the question of equalization of assessments for taxation has brought to the attention of the people the fact that the burdens of taxation have been grossly unequal in Charlotte. The efforts Mr. Hawkins has made and is still making to bring about equalization deserve the hearty commendation of the people. A striking illustration of the force and effect of Mr. Hawkins' activity in this matter is the fact that although no mayor heretofore has deemed it his duty to speak out about this important matter, yet since Mr. Hawkins has had the hardihood to agitate the question and call attention to the discrimination and seek to remedy it, now comes his opponent and endorses Mr. Hawkins' position by adopting it as one of the planks of his platform. If Mr. Hawkins had not fought for equalization it is safe to say the question would not have been involved in this campaign.

5. Mr. Hawkins' absolute impartiality has been so marked that with all their diligence his opponents have not yet charged that he has favored one section of the city discriminatorily against others.

It might be well to answer here the charge that a street fund of $7,696.28, which was turned over to the city by the county has lain idle in the bank, while it was needed on the streets of the city.

As a matter of fact this street fund was tied up by a resolution by the board of aldermen, introduced by the resident of East avenue, which directed the first street improvement to be done on East avenue. And the member who introduced the resolution is now opposing Mr. Hawkins' election and supporting Dr. Bland. If this resolution had been carried out, require property owners to pay for permanent street improvement it would have saved many thousands of dollars to the property owners of the few blocks involved, but would have been a discrimination against other sections of the city needing improvements as badly as East avenue.

THE RESOLUTION.

Minutes Board of Aldermen, Jan. 2nd, 1910. "On motion of Mr. Plummer Stewart, seconded and carried, the petitions for bitulithic pavement on East avenue from Brevard street to McDowell street, and on West avenue both recommended by the Executive Board, were favorably considered, and the work ordered to be done as soon as the finance committee can finance same, and said work to be done in the order in which the petitions were filed.

Under this resolution, the petition from East avenue having been filed first, the first street to have been paved would have been East avenue. The finance committee never felt able to finance the pavement, without borrowing the money, which contrary to the policy of the administration, and the work was not done.

6. An attempt has been made to show that Mr. Hawkins has opposed modern and up-to-date health laws. A prominent physician of this city said:

"The medical society some months ago appointed a committee of three to appear before the board of aldermen asking for certain ordinances regulating quarantine and the prevention of contagious diseases."

"This committee was appointed by Dr. A. J. Crowell, who was then president of the county medical society. The committee was introduced by Mayor Hawkins. The mayor appointed a committee to confer with a committee from the medical society. The chairman of the committee from the board of aldermen was Mr. Plummer Stewart, who is now a conspicuous supporter of Dr. Bland. Mr. Stewart met with the committee from the medical society, consisting of eight prominent physicians. Though not a physician himself, Mr. Stewart objected to many features in the proposed health regulations. The committee from the medical society asked him to eliminate all features that he could not endorse. He marked out many of the most vital parts of the proposed regulations. He then said the regulations as amended would be satisfactory to him and that he would recommend them to the board of aldermen. The committee of the medical society never heard of it any more."

"Mr. Hawkins did not oppose the recommendations of this particular society, but received them very courteously. The two members of the board of aldermen who were most conspicuous in their opposition to the regulations recommended by the committee from the medical society and most responsible for their defeat, are two of the most pronounced supporters of the candidacy of Dr. Bland."

Mr. Hawkins has always stood, on now stands, for up-to-date health laws, and should not be charged by Dr. Bland's supporters with being opposed to health regulations, especially as some of Dr. Bland's strongest advocates themselves were largely responsible for the failure of the board of aldermen to adopt the measures proposed by the medical society.

The attitude of the physicians of the city should be given great weight in considering this particular subject. Out of the physicians of the city whose attitude is known, 13 are supporting Dr. Bland and 33 Mr. Hawkins.

7. In their desperation, it is said that some of those opposing Mr. Hawkins have charged that he is a Catholic. It is deplorable that a man should be attacked on religious grounds. Mr. Hawkins is a Presbyterian.

The trust, evidently by some simple-minded person, is aimed not at Mr. Hawkins in reality, but at a member of the executive board, whose character and standing in the community is as high as any man's in it, and who, when he was appointed by the board of aldermen, received the vote of every man on the board at that time who is now opposing Mr. Hawkins, and was elected unanimously.

These are some of the reasons why Mr. Hawkins is receiving the support of a large majority of the doctors of the city, 75 per cent of the lawyers, a majority of the bankers, merchants, newspaper men, manufacturers and laboring men of all classes.
