

KING MANUEL AND MOTHER

Latest portraits of ex-King Manuel and his mother, the former Queen Amelia, from a snapshot taken at Richmond, near London. There have been many rumors of late to the effect that a great plot is being fostered to restore the deposed monarch to the throne. It is reported that the whole of north of Portugal appears to be eager for the restoration of the monarchy, while a great part of the army is affected with the same royalist spirit. That the ex-King Manuel is kept fully informed of the royalist activity in Portugal there can be no doubt, but he certainly fails to show any responsive seriousness. He and his mother are living in quiet seclusion at Richmond, one of London's most charming suburbs.

The Capital City News Department

Special to The News. Raleigh, April 27.—Adjutant General Leinster, of the North Carolina National Guard, has located with in 24 hours the Lieutenant C. A. Boone, for whom inquiry was made by Chas. Leland, of Salem, Mass., in order that he might restore to him a Bible that was picked up on the battle field around New Bern during the civil war and had on the fly-leaf the name of Lt. Boone and the inscription: "Presented by Mrs. C. K. Caldwell." Lt. Boone is now a retired Christian minister at Elon College. He has a son, Dr. W. H. Boone, who is a practicing physician at Durham.

Esq. As briefly stated on the inscription on the tablet Bloomsburg, or Wake court house was founded in 1771 when Wake county was founded. It was the rendezvous of Governor Tryon's army when he marched against the Regulators in 1771; here met the state revolution assembly in 1781 and to this vicinity was removed the seat of state government when the Capital City of Raleigh was incorporated in 1792. The ceremonies today were witnessed by an immense crowd.

Tablet Unveiled at Raleigh. This took place this morning the unveiling of the tablet marking the site of the old town of Bloomsburg, one of the best residential sections of Raleigh, by the local chapter daughters of the Revolution and the presentation of it to the city. The presentation was by Miss Mary Hilliard Hinton, regent of the North Carolina Society, and the acceptance was by Mayor J. Stan. Wynne. The principal address reviewing the founding of Bloomsburg and its place in Colonial history was by W. B. Snow.

ONE CONDUCTOR HELPED BACK TO WORK. Mr. Wilford Adams is his name, and he writes: "I was confined to my bed with chronic rheumatism and used two bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy with good effect. The third bottle put me on my feet and I resumed work as conductor on the Lexington Ky. Street Railway. It will do all you claim in cases of rheumatism by eliminating the uric acid from the blood. Specially recommended for elderly people. Bowen Drug Store on North Square."

N. C. STATE SUNDAY SCHOOL ASSOCIATION

Special to The News. High Point, April 26.—This city is hostess already to quite a number of delegates from different parts of the state who are here to attend the meeting of the North Carolina State Sunday School Association. Scores of other delegates will arrive today, and it is probable the number will reach several hundred before the evening session.

The opening session will be held this afternoon, and the program will consist of a song and devotional service which Mr. and Mrs. Charles Butler, of Springfield, Ill., will conduct; an address of welcome from Hon. F. N. Tate, mayor of High Point; a response to this address, from E. S. W. Dameron, of Burlington; and the annual address of the president of the State Sunday School Association, Rev. R. M. Anderson, of Henderson. The subject of Mr. Anderson's address will be "The Value of a Vision."

The Salisbury-Monroe Railroad. (From Concord Tribune.) Mr. N. B. McCaless, vice-president and moving spirit of the Salisbury-Monroe railroad, is here today with the street car people. In conversation with a reporter of this paper Mr. McCaless stated that the prospects were exceedingly bright for the new road. "That the election in Goose Creek and Buford townships in Union county would be held May 13 and he had every assurance that the bonds would carry."

BOOKER T. ON PROGRESS OF EDUCATION By Associated Press. Boston, April 27.—Dr. Booker T. Washington, president of Tuskegee Institute, was one of the speakers at "Fisk University Day" of the "World in Boston Missionary Exposition." In urging support for the negro college at Nashville, Tenn., Dr. Washington said: "Forty-five years of Fisk University means forty-five years of progress for the negro race. Perhaps it is true that the life of few institutions in the south are more closely linked with the progress of the black people than is Fisk University. It was among the pioneer institutions planted in the south for the benefit of our people. During forty-five years it has done its work wisely and successfully through the graduates and ex-students who are now at work for the uplifting of humanity in every part of the south."

people, of white people from the north and white people at the south. It will require the combined effort of those three groups to bring about the satisfactory solution of the problem in which we are so vitally interested. "Few people realize to what an extent the nation is indebted to the educated colored man for the maintenance of peace between the races. While many race wars have been predicted, no serious and prolonged racial conflict has taken place in recent years in the south. It has been in a very large degree the influence of the educated negro who has counseled patience, forbearance and sympathetic co-operation between the races that has prevented disgraceful outbreaks and has resulted in securing and maintaining a large degree of peace and harmony between the races. "The people of this nation should remember that the negro is not a beggar so far as his personal needs are concerned. He supports himself in clothes and in shelter and has done so for 45 years. The only call that he has made upon the public has been for aid in the direction of education, moral and religious training; that call I believe we have the right to make through Fisk University and such a call will be answered."
