FATE.

Two shall be born, the whole wide world apart,
And speak in different tongues and have no thought
Each of the other's being and have no need;
And those o'er unknown seas to unknown lands
Shall cross, escaping wreck, defying death,
And all unconsciously shape every act,
And bend each wandering step to this one end—
That one day out of darkness they shall meet
And read life's meaning in each other's eyes.

And two shall walk some narrow way of life,
So nearly side by side that, should one turn
Ever so little space to right or left,
They needs must stand acknowledged face to face,
And yet with wistful eyes that never meet,
With dropping hands that never clasp, and lips
Calling in vain to ears that never hear,
They seek each other all their weary days
And die unsatisfied — and this is Fate.

—Susan Marr Spaulding.

EFFECTS OF FLIRTING.

Why will girls use wiles in order to bring honest men to their feet, and then laugh them to scorn for their love? For it must be remembered that the girl who flirts does not confine her fascinations to those who can pay her back in her own coin.
She is ready to beguile the first good looking man who comes her way and if he should take her seriously and believe at the tender, endearing expressions of her false eyes and lips, then—let us pity him. Through contact with such girls some of our best and truest men have been spoiled.
The same rule applies the other way—in the wholesale death of faith, through the wicked habits flirting men often adopt. Some of the sweetest and dearest women in the world are those who have once upon a time loved and lost. And who shall say that suffering their poor hearts have endured when they have seen the men whom they thought perfection and truth personified, show suddenly in their false colors and ride away.

Love is our greatest stronghold and the sweetest of all good gifts that have been showered upon us by a generous Creator. Yet love, when abused by the foolish and simple fashion of flirting, becomes even more potent for evil results than the forces of drugs misapplied, for the latter are only capable of harming that body, while flirting can deaden our finest and purer faculties, leaving us very unlovely. Perhaps men flirt more than girls. Perhaps it is the other way. But surely, if our girls set the good example, man would be bound to follow suit, and then this dangerous pastime would be at an end.—From Modern Society.

TO ENJOY THE FESTIVAL.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Andrews left yesterday for Spartanburg to enjoy the Music Festival. While there they will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Tillinghast. Mr. Andrews is a lover of music. Since boyhood he has been connected with only a few years' intermission, with the choir of the First Presbyterian church, of which he was one of the leading tenors. He was a musical contemporary in the choir of the late Frank Wilson, brother of Mr. George Wilson, who had the most exquisite tenor Charlotte has ever known.
Mr. Andrews is not only a singer, but an enthusiastic band man. He is a cornetist of no mean ability. There will be no ear more attuned to the harmonies of the festival than Mr. Andrews'; no nature more responsive.

MRS. REILLEY AND THE STATE FEDERATION.

A card to The News from Mrs. J. E. Reilley, president of the North Carolina Federation of Woman's Clubs, received last night, and dated Asheville, April 26, says:
"Just leaving for Tryon, (N. C.), to attend a house party at Mrs. J. L. Washburn's, former president of the federation; Mrs. Philip Moore, president of the General Federation; Mrs. Welch, secretary of General Federation, and other distinguished women composed the party.
"Asheville clubs report 110 delegates to date to the State Federation and 35 or 40 visiting club women at Battery Park. Everything indicates the best convention on record."

BRIDE HAS VISITED HERE.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. A. Williams are in Richmond, Va., where they went to attend the marriage Tuesday evening of Miss Dora Belle Reinhardt and Mr. W. J. Hudgins.

The Richmond Virginian notes the marriage thus:
"The marriage of Miss Dora Belle Reinhardt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Reinhardt, and Mr. William J. Hudgins, son of Mrs. Hudgins and the late William J. Hudgins, of Norfolk, will be celebrated Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, 1. East Grace street. Palms and Easter lilies will be used for an altar, before which the ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Meade Clarke, rector of St. James Episcopal church. A profusion of pink azaleas with Southern smilax and palms will be under the direction of Mr. Joe C. Kesslich, and during the ceremony 'The Evening Star' from Tannhauser will be played by the string quartet.
"The bride will be exquisitely gowned in white satin, veiled in white silk marquisette and trimmed in princess lace and pearls. She will wear a tulle veil caught with orange blossoms, and will carry a bouquet of white sweet peas and lilies of the valley. Her sister, Miss Anne Louise Reinhardt, will be her maid of honor, and only attendant. She will wear a lovely French frock of pale blue chiffon and satin hand-embroidered, and will carry an arm bouquet of pink sweet peas. Mr. Tom Stevenson will be the groom's best man.
The ceremony will be followed by a reception, after which Mr. Hudgins and his bride will leave for Philadelphia, New York and Boston. They will be at home after May 15 at 416 West Grace street.

MRS. YARBROUGH'S DELIGHTFUL PARTY.

In a lovely lingerie of exquisite pattern, Mrs. J. A. Yarbrough greeted the guests whom she invited to meet her charming visitor, Mrs. Alston Brown, at an informal reception yesterday afternoon.

Assisting in receiving were Mrs. B. H. Yarbrough, in black lace over satin; Mrs. Danney Yarbrough in white batiste; Mrs. Lloyd Withers in white batiste over pink silk underslip.
