Special to The News.

Raleigh, June 7.—Oscar O. Cothrell was carried to Washington, D. C., today to answer the charge of desertion from the training ship Franklin in 1909. His record since his desertion is a bad one. He went to Culpeper, Va., and induced a girl to marry him. He took her to Richmond where he undertook to make her support him. He deserted her later, ran on the Seaboard Air Line as some sort of a train man one while, claimed to have sustained an injury to his ankle and took steps for a suit but in the meantime he was convicted here of selling whiskey and given a sentence to the roads. Now before he has finished this sentence there has come the order for his delivery to the government authorities for the punishment entailed by desertion.

Special "Tiger" Term of Court. A special "tiger" term of superior court is ordered by Governor Kitchin for Buncombe county to convene July 3 for the trial of the numerous blind tiger cases that are pending at Asheville. Judge Webb is to preside. Another special term of court ordered is for Edgecombe county to continue one week from June 26 for civil cases. An order is made authorizing Judge O. H. Allen to hold the Lenoir county court beginning July 3, instead of Judge Ward.

Negro Jailed for Murder. Yesterday afternoon Will Weaver, a 17-year-old negro, was committed to jail here on the charge of having fatally injured Ed Pearce, a well-known white man of Zebulon, who died at Rex Hospital from the effect of his injuries. He had been terribly beaten about the head by Weaver, who used a big stick for the purpose while Pearce was quarreling at him in a drunken manner. Pearce leaves a wife and five small children, the oldest 12 years old. He had been drinking several days. The negro has made no statement as to how the quarrel was brought about. It occurred at Gill's saw mill, three miles from Zebulon.

J. J. Lindsay Gets Pardon. On the return of Governor Kitchin to the city from the Georgia State Normal College, where he delivered the address for the graduating exercises, he announced a pardon for J. J. Lindsay, who has served five months of a sentence in Nash county for selling whiskey. He conditions the pardon on good behavior and granted it at the request of the county and the superior court officials.

Nugent Back in the Pen. The state penitentiary authorities have just gotten back Zeb Nugent, who was sentenced to seven years from Stokes county in 1903 and escaped soon after he began his term. Nugent's parents live near Mt. Airy and he had gone back to the neighborhood after all these years to see the old folks when the sheriff of the county arrested him. He tells the officers that since his escape from the Castle Hayne convict camp he has been in many parts of the country and served in the Spanish-American war.

Wake Officers on the Salary Basis Now. The officers of Wake county have just changed from the fee to the salary basis, the law for the change being effective on the first Monday in June. The sheriff and the clerk of the court get $2,700 each and the register of deeds $2,000 and the auditor $1,800. The latter is a new office that was created by the legislature for the county when the salary bill was passed.

Prominent Educators to Hold Summer Institutes. The three days' conference of prominent educators who are to be assigned during the summer to holding teachers' institutes for the public school teachers in various counties scheduled to hold them this season, convened here today in the senate chamber of the state house. State Superintendent J. Y. Joyner made a brief address in which he outlined his ideas of the scope of the work that should characterize the institutes. There are to be about 30 of them this season. The law requires that every county must hold one at least every two years. Probably two-thirds of the counties held institutes last summer, hence the falling of this time. Participants in the program today in the work of presenting ideas for conducting the county institutes were A. J. Barwick, of the state department of education; J. A. Bivens, of the state department of education; Miss Emens, Miss Alma Meade Michaux, Prof. M. C. S. Noble, A. J. Matheson and Mrs. D. W. Peade.

Governor Returns From Georgia. Governor Kitchin returned today from the Georgia State Normal College, where he delivered the address for the graduating exercises Monday.

Death of Lewis Hutzler. By Associated Press. Chicago, Ill., June 7.—State Representative Hutzler, of the 25th senatorial district, died from heart disease here today. He was 66 years of age, and had served two terms in the legislature.

Long Drawth Ended. By Associated Press. Vinita, Okla., June 7.—A light rain fell here yesterday and relieved the country from a drought that had held it since April. There was no benefit to wheat but it was good for corn.

GREENSBORO "BLUE LAWS" ARE REPEALED

Greensboro, N. C., June 7.—There has been much concern felt here over the exact status of the local or municipal laws, since the commission form of government went into effect. It is generally known, and was universally recognized, that the candidates who were successful, let it be understood that they individually did not favor many of the straight-laced ordinances enacted by former boards of aldermen, especially the Sunday law of the last board, which made certain ridiculous regulations about selling ice cream, soft drinks, newspapers, magazines, cigars, tobacco, etc., except on certain hours of a Sunday.

Commissioner of Safety Brown immediately gave notice that in future the "blue laws" would be rigidly enforced on Sundays until they were amended or repealed. Yesterday afternoon at its regular session, the board of commissioners, by a unanimous vote, practically repealed the alleged "blue law" by enacting the following: "That it shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to sell, expose or offer for sale on Sunday goods, wares or merchandise, provided: that this section shall not be construed as prohibiting the sale of any article or thing of necessity. Provided, also, that ice cream, cigars, tobacco, newspapers and periodicals shall be construed as necessities; provided, further that soft drinks, when sold at soda fountains, restaurants or cafes, shall also be construed as necessities.

Under the commission form this ordinance cannot go into effect until the expiration of 20 days. Should 25 per cent of the voters who balloted for mayor, sign petition for referendum or repeal of law, it stands suspended until election on same day, qualified voters, a majority voting to repeal being necessary to nullify it. The general feeling here is one of great satisfaction at the action of the board in repealing the former law, which was a medley of inconsistencies if not a monument of hypocrisy.

Ware-Kramer Suit Is Commenced

Raleigh, June 7.—The suit of the Ware-Kramer Tobacco Co. against the American Tobacco Co. for $1,200,000 damages under the Sherman anti-trust act was begun here yesterday before Judge Connor in the federal court. Matters argued were concerning production of books, records and papers and exceptions to depositions by both parties. The jury trial of the case is set for next Tuesday and is expected to continue for about a month. About four thousand pages of depositions have been taken from all parts of the country, from Atlanta to Boston and many witnesses are to be examined in person.

Old Hostelry Under Hammer

Louisville, June 7.—After serving as a hostelry for over three quarters of a century, the old Galt house, famous in the history of the South, went under the auctioneer's hammer today, bringing only $81,000. The original cost of the building and its contents is said to have been upwards of $1,000,000. It was sold by order of a referee in bankruptcy. The purchaser was the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company of Newark, N. J. The old Galt house was first opened in 1824 and was the scene of many social events in the antebellum days of the South. It was destroyed by fire shortly after the war but was immediately rebuilt.

On the Shady Side of a pretty paved street, in a very choice residential section and commanded by the beautiful residences of Charlotte's most progressive citizens, is a modern home, we can sell at a bargain.

It is situated on a large level lot, 65x150 feet, and the house contains eight large rooms, with plenty of closets, cheerful open grates, cabinet mantels, hot and cold water, open plumbing, electricity and all the conveniences that make for comfortable living. The car passes the door.

It is such a home as is not often found on the market and will especially appeal to a man of taste and comfortable circumstances. The price is low.

INVESTMENTS THAT ARE SAFE

"The Investment of My Savings is a Solemn Kind of Job." This is the rather unique way in which one of our patrons who is known throughout the South as an educator and a great man referred to the matter of investments in a letter to us asking advice and suggestion. He wanted to place his savings where the principal would be safe and the yield satisfactory.

His letter affords us the opportunity to say that the only kind of investments we offer for sale are such as we believe would suit him, and other men like him. Nothing speculative about them, but simply safe and secure. Investments such as first mortgages on real estate in the shape of coupon bonds, in which, after careful investigation, we first place our own money, later to be sold to conservative investors.

Small Depositors Charlotte National Bank

The management of the Small Depositors Charlotte National Bank would feel that this is his business, that its success is, in some degree, his success, and speak a word of sound advice along this line to his friend and neighbor, how much happier this old world would be, and what a magnificent instrument for good to Sallie and her interesting children this would become.

The Annual Meeting of this the oldest Building & Loan Association in North Carolina will be held in the rooms of the Commercial National Bank, Tryon and 4th Sts., at 8:30 p. m., Thursday, May 25th, 1911. The meeting of April 11th was adjourned to this date.

NOW, YOU STOCKHOLDERS, who have heard a good deal of puffing and blowing at the hands of your secretary and treasurer as to what great things your child, the object of much of your attention and interest (The Old Mutual), HAS DONE and IS DOING for Charlotte, and for this dear old state, come to the above meeting, it's your meeting, and hear the reports and statements of your officers, and you will feel proud that you have had a part in the great work.

FIGURES, CHECKED AND PROVEN, tell no lies, and these will be given for your information and edification. IF EVERY SHAREHOLDER would feel that this is his business, that its success is, in some degree, his success, and speak a word of sound advice along this line to his friend and neighbor, how much happier this old world would be, and what a magnificent instrument for good to Sallie and her interesting children this would become.

YOU DIRECTORS, TOO, HEAR ME. I congratulate you, for you have added to your laurels, during this year of grace, 1910-11, more "bright-eyed Susans" and "Sunny Jims," and that's something to be proud of.
