The Bond Question, Fellow Citizens

is of vast moment, but if you neglect your household; if you permit Susan and innocent little Dorothy, who meet "Daddy" with kisses and caresses, the elixir of life, if you allow these sources of your joy and happiness to suffer, to shed one unnecessary tear, to live in daily fear of your sickness or death whereby they would be thrown upon the cold clarity of the world; then it makes but little difference to you whether we have water, streets, school houses and auditorium. If you sit supinely by and fail to provide your companion in life's journey and your own flesh and blood with a home and a reasonable fund for the cloudy, and, perhaps, for the stormy days, then you'll need an ice plant, and when you reach your well-earned home below, you'll need all the ice plants of earth together with all the fans which can be operated by all the energy of the Southern Power Co. to give you one moment's ease.

WAKE UP AND SAVE YOURSELF by getting aboard this ship. She sails Saturday, July 1st, and her destination is comfort, satisfaction, happiness. She lands passengers at all these ports, and the voyage is replete with smiles and sunshine.

REMEMBER THE DATE, JULY 1ST.

CHURCH DESTROYED BY LIGHTNING

By Associated Press. Fredericton, N. B., July 4.—During a severe electrical storm last night the Church of England Cathedral was struck by lightning and destroyed by fire which followed. The loss is about $140,000. The church was considered one of the finest in existence.

That Terrible Census.
 The census had thrown the ladies into a state of pandemonium. "It's perfectly ridiculous," declared the elderly Lady Sliptruth, at her popular third Thursday gathering. "What the government wants to know our ages for is more than I can say. Still," she added as she artlessly tapped her much-rouged cheek with her fan, "if all the world wants to know, I'm 37—well, I suppose they must."
 "Will they believe me, I wonder," asked Mrs. Tooshore, "when I admit to having lived 27 long years?"
 "My own twenty-second birthday," stammered the Hon. Ninan Twenty, "falls during census week. How old are you, my dear?"
 "I'm not sure," replied the youthful and truthful Miss Candour. "According to the present rate of reckoning, you see, I don't think I can be born yet."—Tit-Bits.

The man who has a seat in a crowded car doesn't always rise to the occasion.

When you stop to consider the scores of new houses that are erected in Charlotte each month, and at least half of them are erected in the suburbs, you will understand how Charlotte is growing, and why property is steadily advancing in value, and why we venture the remark that we do not think that the prices now prevailing will ever be lower. There are possibly not twenty modern houses vacant in this city at the present time. Folks must have houses; there is no "boom"—the growth is natural and out "activity way" which is "Elizabethward" the growth is intense, especially in bungalow building. Have you seen our two new ones on East Eighth Street and Hawthorne Lane?
