Social and Personal

NIGHT.

When it is day and traffic roars around me in the street I need no guidance to elude the snares about my feet; When it is day I go my way among the haunts of men. Nor care who holds the stars in space; no fear assails me then; My only purpose is to learn to make my ventures pay; My only dread is of the ones who pass me on the way. When it is day.

When it is night, and I, alone, walk down the quiet lane I hear the rustling blades of grass make God's great purpose plain; When it is night the gleaming stars that through the distance roll Send messages of hope to me and wake my sleeping soul; I hear the distant chimes that tell of time's unceasing flight. And feel my littleness, with all the universe in sight. When it is night.

When I have finished all my tasks, and when the pall is spread, Will splendid constellations still be gleaming overhead? When I shall put away the hopes that cheered me at the dawn, When after all the dreams and schemes, the chill of night comes on, Will only empty darkness wrap a pulseless lump of clay, Or will the sun again send forth a glad effulgent ray. To wake the day? —S. E. WISER.

MR. LATTA'S MEMORIAL PRIZE TO WIFE'S MEMORY

The 1911-1912 catalogue of the Southern Industrial Institute is just off the press and is being distributed widely throughout this section. This is the first catalogue that the Institute has issued and is full of interesting facts about the school.

It gives an enrollment for 1910-1911 of 118 boarding pupils and 255 day pupils. This shows a decided increase over last year.

Several changes in the faculty are noted, due to the resignation of Mrs. Carrie P. Herndon, and Miss Leach, who have been with the Institute during the past three years, and of Miss Pierce, who has been teacher of domestic science for two years. The new additions to the faculty are, Mr. Jesse T. Yoder of Lebanon Valley College, Pennsylvania; Miss Oeta Hall of the University of Michigan; Miss Ruth Cole of Charlotte; Miss Laura Lazenby of Statesville; Mr. A. E. Escott of Charlotte and Dr. E. H. T. Foster of the International Committee of the Y. M. C. A. The last two mentioned are to give only part of their time to the Institute. The entire list of faculty and officers numbers sixteen.

Among the prizes and medals is noted "The Harriet N. Latta Memorial Prize of one hundred dollars in gold recently established by Mr. E. D. Latta in memory of his wife, the late Mrs. Harriet Nisbet Latta. This is given to the student who, in scholarship, character, efficiency and promise, is in the opinion of the faculty, most worthy."

SENATOR GORE TALKS OF FUTURE OF DEMOCRACY

By Associated Press.

Louisville, Ky., July 5.—Passing through Louisville en route to Lebanon, Ky., where he will speak today, United States Senator Thomas P. Gore, of Oklahoma, was optimistic over the outlook for the democratic party in 1912.

"All that the democrats have to do," he said, "is to behave well in the house and senate, organize and win the presidency."

"The democrats are fortunately situated with regard to the presidential nomination. They could hardly make a mistake were they to try. They have three or four or five forceful men to select from, who are in every way fitted for the position. I think at this time that Woodrow Wilson will be the nominee, though the situation was different five months ago and may be different five months from now."

"Thirty-four democrats and 23 republicans are for the reciprocity measure," said he, "and it will be passed without any material amendment, perhaps without any amendment at all. Certainly there will be no such amendment that the house will refuse to concur in or that will jeopardize the approval of the bill by the president."
