DR. METCALF'S TREATMENT OF "GLOOMY" SCALE

In his discussion of trees and insects that destroy leaves, at the library night before last, Mr. Z. P. Metcalf of the state agricultural department, said, as noted in yesterday's News, that trees were subject to two kind of diseases—plant disease and insect diseases. Practically there are none of former, but two special classes of the latter—the chewing insect and the sucking insect.

The worst of the former class is the leaf beetle. We can control the chewing insect in one way—by poison. We cannot give the sucking insect such remedy, because the sucking insect has a long, sharp pointed bill that he sticks through the bark and poison and sucks from within the tree, beyond where the poison is.

The beetle can be killed by arsenate of lead. It feeds on the leaves. The average person calls it a worm. It descends from limb to limb, on down, falling off to the ground. There it changes its skin and flies away as a beetle, to return to the tree tops and lay its egg. By piling excelsior or straw around the tree and pouring boiling water on the straw, the beetle can be destroyed for it gets into the straw or excelsior and can be scalded to death.

This beetle belongs to the chewing insects.

Sucking Insects.
Now as to the sucking insect. There is only one that I will speak of. It is a "Chinaman"—coming over to California and from there spread throughout this country, killing millions of dollars worth of fruit trees.

When I came into this state four years ago I found the chin tree suffering from this San Jose scale. I sprayed the trees but it was no good. This set me to thinking: Why was a remedy for one kind of insect not good for another? By investigation I found that the young was laid beyond the part that could be reached by spraying. The female die in the tree, but the male fall off, get wings and fly away. The corrosive substance used for the soft scale insect does not affect the hard scale insect—the gloomy scale, as it is called from its color.

The gloomy scale must be dealt with by a different process from the soft scale. The remedy for this must be oils of certain kind.

Maples.
The gloomy scale we find after careful investigation, does not affect the hard maple as much as the soft maples. I advise you not to plant the silver maple or red maple, but to plant, instead, the Norway maple or sugar maple. After an inspection of 5,000 sugar maples only one was found to be affected by the gloomy scale, while 85 per cent of the silver maple and 70 per cent of the red maple were affected.

Remedy.
The remedy for this gloomy scale is certain soluble oils derived from petroleum. Pure coal oil will not do for the treatment of trees. Spray the trees in the winter taking one kind of oil to 15 parts of water. It is necessary that every limb be touched with this oil. The oil creeps in and suffocates this insect.

Planting.
As to nursery trees and trees from the forest, those from the nursery are generally trimmed as they should be, but take care in the transplanting of forest trees. A tree taken from the deep forest and planted in a city should be shaded.

It is not enough to shade the roots. The whole tree should be shaded. It is best to plant a small tree—not a bushy tree, and it is best to have loose soil. Some people advocate dynamiting to loosen the soil. Trees planted on the sidewalk are deprived by the paving of their surface feeding. In grading around a tree leave a well as deep as your fill. Trees must have necessary breathing surface. any are killed by not having this space.

The agricultural department is always glad to answer questions about trees, but when you wish information don't send a leaf and expect a diagnosis. You wouldn't send a physician one hair out of your head and expect him to tell what was the matter with you if you were sick. So with a diseased tree. Send a large enough sample.

Questions.
Many questions were asked Mr. Metcalf concerning foreign growth on trees, method of culture, etc., to all of which he was ready with an answer which showed exhaustive study and thorough knowledge. He was pleased with the interest shown in the subject.

Mr. Metcalf returned to Raleigh yesterday.

WAREHOUSE STRUCK BY LIGHTNING

Spartanburg, S. C., July 13.—During an electrical storm which swept over the northern part of the county today, lightning struck the warehouse of the Cohannet cotton mill at Finerville, setting fire to the cotton and entailing a loss of over $3000. Gain in Taxable Property in Cabarrus.
Concord, July 13.—The value of taxable property in Cabarrus county has been increased $1,000,000, according to a statement by County Tax Assessor Furr. The board of equalization completed its work yesterday and as soon as all of the changes made by them are correctly entered the exact amount can be had. The board held a two days' session and very few complaints were made and few objections to the new system of listing taxes were heard. The total amount of real and personal property valuation of the county for 1910 was $6,491,791.

RUMOR OF SCHEME TO EMBARRASS HOKE SMITH

Atlanta, July 13.—It is rumored here today that Senator Terrell has some intention, or is at least being urged by his friends, to resign the United States senatorship at once, with a view to embarrassing Hoke Smith and forcing the latter to resign immediately from the governor's chair. What fact may be behind this has not yet been clearly shown. In the event Hoke Smith were forced to resign at once, which seems unlikely, President Slaton of the senate, would act as governor until an election could be called.
