

They Chased Him Into His Own House

C. B. Hasty And Three Companions Run Luther Adams Into His Own Residence on 14th Street When He Orders Them to Get Away.

Patrolman R. C. Gardner laid a detaining hand on C. B. Hasty, a white man, last night, as the said Hasty and three bellicose friends were marching across the square. The complaint for Hasty's arrest was lodged by Luther Adams, white, who lives on East Fourteenth street.

Hasty and three friends were walking on East Fourteenth street and stopped before Adams' house to wait on a friend for a few minutes, they said. They maintained a lively line of conversation in the meantime and Adams went out and told them in language more forcible than dignified, it was stated, to move on. This stirred the belligerency of the conversationists and they with one accord made for him Adams, remembering that every man's house is his castle, has followed within Hasty and his friends following, so Adams said, pummeled him on the head for some time and left bumps like those found on the cranium of Jim Jeffries shortly after 4 o'clock on July 4, 1910. One member of the party attempted also to land on Adams with a violent left jab through the window and suffered a cut on the hand.

The merits of the case will be looked into by Recorder D. B. Smith Monday morning.

STEWART'S CREEK WATER FLOWING INTO RESERVOIR

Superintendent Vest and his first assistant, Mr. McKean Maftit and a big force of hands at the pumping station yesterday afternoon the starting up of the pumps at the new Stewart's Creek pumping station.

The launching of a big ship could not have aroused more anxious interest in the crowd who stood to the pumps.

"Let her go" was the command, and in a minute the pumps at the new station were in motion, and the Stewart's Creek's water had their first water-tink. The pumps started at 4 o'clock and continued in operation until 6:30. At that hour the report was: "A pretty good supply of water flowing in."

The water was pumped to the regular pumping station.

"We can not say positively as to the amount of water," said Mr. Maftit, "but it would be at the rate of about 600,000 gallons a day."

The next pumps which will be set in motion to pump water into Charlotte will be at the river.

None Too Soon.

The supply from Stewart's creek did not come a minute too soon, for Irwin's creek stopped short yesterday. The amount of water in the pond fell off 1.3 of the pond's depth between the hours from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.

As Stewart and Irwin's creek combined will not furnish more than 60 per cent or 70 per cent of the demand, economy in the use of water is necessary.

Superintendent Vest asks that until there is rain on the water sheds that water consumers be as economical as possible.

The situation is serious.

CITY HOSPITAL COULD BE MADE SCHOOL B'LDG.

Until Mr. Hirschinger's ultimatum in regard to the South school building appeared in the News, some suggestions that the building be abandoned as a school and converted into a city hospital.

Mr. Hirschinger, who is high authority on the school board, puts a quietus on this proposition, by saying that the board has no idea of abandoning or tearing down the old building, but will, instead, spend $10,000, giving it the light ventilation and heat that it lacks.

Speaking of the building being converted into a hospital, a physician of the city said:

"The building would make a fine city hospital. The galleries are there, the rooms are accessible, could easily be divided and made comfortable. Beside, each church could have a ward, if it so desired. It would be an ideal place for a city hospital."

Many of the older citizens will remember that as far back as the 70's the late Dr. Joseph Graham urged the city having a hospital and each church having a ward in it.

Perhaps the day is not far distant when Dr. Graham's idea, re-expressed by a prominent doctor of today, will be realized.

Work on Bank Building to Be Resumed Tomorrow

Major A. G. Brenizer and Mr. W. S. Alexander, of the building committee of the Commercial Bank building returned yesterday morning from New York, where as noted Thursday they had gone on business connected with the new building. The striking of the water level and the trouble arising therefrom delayed the work, and necessitated the committee seeing the general contractors. These Messrs. Brenizer and Alexander did. Work on the foundation will be resumed tomorrow and pushed rapidly.

Picnic on The 27th.

The Sunday school of Trinity Methodist church, on the Beattie's Ford road, will have a big picnic on the 27th of this month.

Amiety Farmers Had Enjoyable Picnic

Amiety Local of Farmers' Union were Hosts to Officials of County Officials of The Organization—Capt. S. B. Alexander the Speaker.

The Amity local of the North Carolina Farmers' Union were hosts last Wednesday to the county officials of the Farmers' Union and an enjoyable picnic was the form of entertainment. It was held at the residence of Mr. P. C. Harkey on the Monroe road.

Capt. S. B. Alexander, who is an honorary member of the county organization, made an interesting address, as did also Mr. J. W. Phillips, county organizer. An elegant dinner was served and delicious refreshments were dispensed throughout the day.

The Amity local is the youngest in the county and one of the most progressive. It has a membership of between 35 and 60, perhaps the largest of any in the county. It was organized last March and has given a good account of itself ever since. Mr. John Walker is president of the organization and Mr. Bruce Miller is secretary.

Real Estate Deal Of $50,000 Closed

S. W. Dandridge & Co. Sell 10,000 Acres of Land in Wayne County, Tenn., to Southern Real Estate Loan and Trust Co.

The S. W. Dandridge Real Estate and Insurance Company of this city has sold to the Southern Real Estate Loan & Trust Company of the Carolina Realty Company of this city, several tracts of real estate in Wayne county, Tenn., aggregating 10,000 acres. The deal has just been negotiated by representatives of the two purchasing companies and Mr. S. W. Dandridge, of S. W. Dandridge & Co.

The exact consideration for the land is not stated, but is said to be slightly in excess of $50,000. The land is all in Wayne county, middle Tennessee, and is in contour much like Mecklenburg county. It is farming land of a fine quality and much of it is still heavily timbered in primeval forests. It is one of only a few such areas that are still to be had in that section at such figures so reasonable.

This constitutes probably the largest real estate deal ever made between two Charlotte firms, and is also no doubt the largest area of real estate ever purchased by any group of Charlotteans. The purchasing companies, it is understood, will offer the land for sale and development at once.

"The Last Shep" is Dr. McGeachy's Subject

Rev. D. A. A. McGeachy, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, is to this morning preach from a suggestive subject rich with suggestive and beautiful thought: "The Lost Sheep." Dr. McGeachy's sermons are always able, logical and clear. The one of this morning will be replete in beauty of thought and diction.

Dr. Caldwell Comes Home For Sunday

Dr. John L. Caldwell, president of the Presbyterian College for Women, who has been traveling up the state and down the state in the interest of the college, returned to the city Friday night, and is at the Central hotel. His family leave Switzerland Wednesday for Montreal.

Picnic Crowd From Pegram Street S. S.

The Sunday school of Pegram Street Presbyterian church had a fine picnic Friday at Sugar Creek and Lakewood. The forenoon was spent at Sugar Creek, where dinner was had on the big rock tables, which have served the purpose of several generations of picnickers. The afternoon was spent enjoying the many and varied attractions at Lakewood.

Mr. D. A. Johnson was the man at the helm. Every one had a good time and no accidents occurred.

Mrs. J. A. McLaughlin and daughter leave today to visit friends and relatives in Columbia, S. C.

Miss Fannie Jones leaves this morning for Augusta and Columbia for a month's visit.

THE BAREFOOT SEASON Suggests

Mr. A. Thies, Charlotte, N. C.: Dear Sir—For more than ten years we have been users of your salve and have no hesitancy in recommending it as a most excellent household medicine; in fact, my wife says she could not keep house through the barefoot season without it. We have found it especially useful for cuts and all other hurts from pin scratch to a nail wound. Several neighbors have tried the salve on our recommendation and are fully as well pleased as we are with its splendid curative properties.

Yours truly,
J. F. SHINN.

Mrs. Baskerville Scared By Negro

A negro named Avery Hill, who says he works for Mr. J. M. Darsey, was arrested by Officer Neal Elliott this morning and taken to the lock-up, after he had given Mrs. J. G. Baskerville and family at 902 North Tryon street, a great fright.

He walked or stumbled into the Baskerville home, went in the parlor and lay down. The police were phoned to rat once and Officer Elliott responded at once and placed the negro under arrest. He was evidently very drunk. He scarcely knew what he was doing after he reached the station.

The officers believe he was drunk on cocaine.

He made no attempt to create a disturbance at Mrs. Baskerville's, but merely wandered in and lay down. He stated to the officers that he had been drinking since last Friday, but stoutly denied that he had any cocaine.

A Good Market, This, For Native Products

As evidence that Charlotte is a good market for home raised vegetables and that the farmers of the county are wide-awake to that fact, the experience of Mr. Al Alexander, of Sharon, may be cited. Yesterday he brought a load of tomatoes to town with him in his buggy. He made no special effort to sell his produce as he drove through the Elizabeth Heights section and on up-town toward the square, but before he reached the square he had sold twelve dollars worth of tomatoes.

Many other farmers have had similar experiences this season and the demand for home-raised vegetables and farm products in preference to imported articles of the same nature is constantly growing.

Dr. Patterson Returns To the Springs Tomorrow

Rev. Dr. Robert L. Patterson, who came home from Misener Springs on account of the death of young Earl Rock, a member of his church, returns to the springs tomorrow. Dr. Patterson was on his way to attend a meeting of the conference of the Lutheran church, nine miles from the Springs, when he was overtaken with the message announcing the drowning of young Rock. He returned to the Springs and took the first train for Charlotte.

Fever at The Orphanage.

There are several cases of fever at the orphanage at Barium Springs. "Our Fatherless Ones," the orphanage paper says:

"Miss Atkins, of Charlotte, and Miss Hawkins, of Davidson College, both professional nurses, have charge of our fever patients and are giving them the best attention."

Mr. Johnson Here.

The hand of welcome from old friends is extended Mr. Harry Johnson, of Floral, Fla., who arrived yesterday to spend several weeks in his former home. Mr. Johnson sees little difference in the temperature, he says, between Florida and North Carolina.

Are You a Business Man?

You would not take a trip without knowing who was going to manage your business while you were away. Do you know who is going to manage your business affairs when you pass off the stage of action? You answer: "Why, certainly, I have appointed my best friend, and a man of great ability, the executor of my will." Suppose he should die or become incompetent—Then what?

THERE IS A LITTLE GIRL in North Carolina—not a hundred miles from Charlotte—whose father died four years ago. Since then she has had three guardians—first, an uncle, who did not live very long; then another, who died also. Now she has her third guardian. She says: "It looks like every one I love dies."

THE AMERICAN TRUST CO. DOES NOT DIE. That is one reason why so many of the best men in North Carolina are appointing the American Trust Co. Executor, Guardian and Trustee.
