The Brooklyn team of the National League and the Detroit and Cleveland clubs of the American League appear to have been the luckiest in the draw. The following are among the players drafted by major league clubs: National League: Louis, from Norfolk, Block; Columbus, Ga., Radabaugh; by Pittsburgh, from Charleston, Averett; Rome, Ga., Llewellyn; Savannah, Taylor; by Philadelphia, from Bristol, Tenn., Corcoran; by New York, from Columbia, S. Unavoidable Necessity of the immediate removal from the City by the owner of this HOME—not house—places it at our disposal for a short time at considerably less than its real value.

It is right new, has seven rooms, every convenience, beautifully finished, shady lot in the best part of Fourth Ward. One should be comfortable and happy in this place. It was built to please. Investigate it. Offers of this kind are getting rarer every day.

Southern Mill News FROM TEXTILE MANUFACTURER

Augusta, Ga. — King Cotton Mills has resumed operation after a few weeks' idleness.

Greenwood, S. C.—The Grendel Mills are adding to their equipment by the installation of 2000 spindles.

Rockingham, N. C.—All the mills of this place are running on full time. Recent rains have filled the creeks.

Calhoun, Ga.—The Echols Cotton Mills have placed orders for 24 forty-four inch looms for the manufacture of sheetings.

Magnolia, Miss.—The Magnolia Mills have recently spent $9,000 in equipping all their looms with improved stop motions.

Roswell, Ga.—The property of the Laurel Mills Mfg. Co. has been sold to Gen. Jeff Brock. The consideration is reported to be $31,000.

McColl, S. C.—The Marlboro Mfg. Co. Mill No. 1 has recently disposed of some of their old winders, and filled their place with new machines.

Clover, S. C.—The Clover Cotton Mills have recently installed four additional spinning frames. This brings their number of ring spindles up to 20,000.

Warrenville, S. C.—The Warrenville Mills resumed operation last week. The operators are returning, and the town is again regaining its old appearance.

Dalton, Ga. — It is reported that George W. Hamilton, president of the Crown Cotton Mills, is planning the construction of a 15,000-spindle cotton mill.

Lynchburg, Va.—The Lynchburg Cotton Mills, which were closed down several weeks ago on account of existing market conditions will resume operation on the 18th of September.

Lancaster, S. C.—The only mills in this section not on full time now are the Hermitage Mill of Camden and the Wylie Mills of Chester. The mills here have only lost one week this summer and are all now running full time.

Winnabow, S. C.—It is reported that a sufficient amount of stock of the Fairfield Mills has been secured by the Parker Mills Co. and that the control will pass to the Parker Mills Sept. 1st.

Cedartown, Ga.—The Standard Cotton Mills, which have been shut down since July 1 because of a scarcity of cotton and in order that repairs might be made resumed operation August 21st.

Columbia, S. C.—A new mill or practically a new one, will be built at Chester, if the plans of the Parker merger go through. They contemplate erecting a weave shed about 300 by 160 feet, to contain about 600 looms at the Wylie mill.

Rockwood, Tenn.—The Rockwood Mills have decided not to put in an electric power plant, but to continue with steam. They will build a new power plant and install a larger engine in the next 90 days. Their knitting machinery is all ordered and they expect to have it in operation by September 1st.

Haw River, N. C.—The Regina Hosiery Manufacturing Co. has completed arrangements for its recently noted addition. This will be a brick building 150x50 feet, the construction of which has begun. The character of machinery to be installed has not been announced. There are now 55 knitting machines in the plant.

Fort Mill, S. C.—The Pineville Cotton Mill has shut down, it is rumored, for an indefinite time, and while many of the operatives have gone to other parts, where they have obtained employment, there are quite a number principally of the village, who are thrown out of work.

Henderson, N. C.—The Harriet Cotton Mill No. 2 with 8,000 spindles has just been completed and will be in operation as soon as the North State Hydro-Electric Company can make its connections with Raleigh. It is expected that this will be done by December 1. The Henderson and Harriet No. 1 mills will also be operated by electricity generated by this company.

Whitmire, S. C.—The Glenn-Lowry Mfg. Co. has been given the right to increase its capital stock from $750,000 to $1,250,000, by the secretary of state. This step, which was announced as under consideration several weeks ago, is for the purpose of financing the additional 50,000 spindles and complementary looms, which have been ordered. It is the present plan of the stockholders that all additions to the plant be paid up as added. The capital stock will consist of 12,500 shares, $100 par value; 5,000 to be common stock and the remaining 7,500 preferred. No mortgage is to be placed on the plant until all the preferred stock, of all classes, shall have been retired.

Greenville, S. C.—The contract for the erection of 100 new cottages at the Westervelt Mills has been awarded. The houses will be excellently constructed, and equipped for water supply, electric lights, etc. Some will contain four rooms, some five and others six.

Henrietta, N. C.—Last week was rest week for the Henrietta mills and the operatives because of low water power and the instalment of two large high pressure boilers in B. F. Dobbins' use. Superintendents for water supply, electric lights, etc. Some will contain four rooms, some five and others six.

Henderson, N. C.—Several months ago the bagging storage room of the Carolina Bagging Company's plant in South Henderson was destroyed by fire. This is now being rebuilt and also another addition is being made and when the work is completed Henderson will have one of the largest bagging mills in the world.

Rockingham, N. C.—Pee Dee Mills are preparing to install seventy-five new Whitten Bobby looms. The new looms will be run on colored goods. The mills have been running on straight time this summer, but after the big rains of the last few days and new cotton coming in all the machinery will go on full time again.

High Point, N. C.—The big plant of the Pickett Cotton Mill is nearing completion. Its latest methods in labor-saving devices, conveniences, as well as fireproof construction, are in perfect keeping, if not far ahead of any similar plant in the south. The machinery has been shipped, will be placed early in September. The formal opening will follow shortly.

Spartanburg, S. C.—Small support has been given by the trustees of the mill schools to the efforts of the fair association to have a textile exhibit at the approaching fair. Only one mill school director responded to Mr. Camak's request that a conference of all trustees of such schools be held with him last Saturday afternoon. Accordingly, several of the directors of the county fair association met here Monday to discuss means of stirring up interest in the textile exhibit. It is hoped to have a first-class exhibit at the fair, but in order to accomplish this the support of all mill school trustees is necessary.

Chattanooga, Tenn.—The Davis Hosiery Mills at Avondale, will make improvements of considerable extent, extending about $50,000. This company has mills at Avondale, Winchester and South Pittsburg, in Tennessee, beside Fort Payne, Ala., and its Avondale addition will be erected and equipped to finish the product of those plants.

Rockingham, N. C.—Great Falls Mills started up Monday, August 14th, after a shut down of two months. The company took advantage of the stop and installed a new 500 horse power Rice-Gardner engine. With their old engine it was necessary to run part of the machinery with water power, but the new engine pulls all the machinery.

Birmingham, Ala.—The Davis Hosiery Mills of Fort Payne are preparing to install additional new machinery and have awarded contracts for the new equipment. This company has already added about $10,000 worth of machinery during the past two years. The plant now contains 100 knitting machines and accompanying apparatus driven by steam power and employing 200 operatives.

Anniston, Ala.—The United Hosiery Mills which the Textile Manufacture maintained in last week's issue has ordered equipment to manufacture silk hosiery. This company was reported some time ago as organizing with $100,000 authorized capital stock to manufacture 250 dozen pairs of hose per day. It has abrick structure 65x100 feet, equipped with 65 knitting machines and employing 25 operatives.

Durham, N. C.—All of the Durham mills went to work last Monday after their suspension for another curtailment, and as the Textile Manufacture stated last week there is nothing to indicate upon what basis they are to operate, it is altogether a promising outlook for the immediate present. The West Durham Erwin mill was shut down last week, but it had previously run one week, when a lean six-days had immediately preceded the work-days. This puts all of the factories in Durham in full operation and the conditions are very good.

New Orleans, La.—The National Hosiery Mills have purchased the cotton-felt machinery of the Kohlmann Moss & Cotton Felt Manufacturing Co. The hosiery mills will hereafter manufacture cotton felting and commercial batting, in addition to their regular output of cotton seamless hosiery.
