CLIFFORD ELLIS SHOT BY YOUNG RALPH MORRISON

Ellis With Two Friends Passed Home of Mr. J. A. Moose on North Graham Street Last Night Cursing and Disorderly.

Morrison Saw Them Knock Mr. Moose, His Uncle Down, and Fired—Freely Admitted it at Station—Ellis in Serious Condition.

Cliff Ellis, a young white man, lies dangerously wounded at the Presbyterian hospital today as the result of a pistol wound which he received last night in front of the home of Mr. J. A. Moose on North Graham street, the shot being fired by Mr. Ralph Morrison, a 19-year-old youth, who lives with Mr. Moose and is an employe of the C. C. Coddington garage on South Church street.

About 10 o'clock last night Ellis in company with ex-policemen W. R. Malcolm and Arthur McWhirter, all of whom were under the influence of liquor, it is said, passed by Mr. Moose's house on North Graham, between Fifth and Sixth streets, cursing loudly. They had been standing around the corner of Fifth and Graham for some time before they proceeded along Graham street toward Sixth. Mr. Moose was sitting on his porch, he says, having just come from his store on West Trade street after working on his books for some time. He went out, he says, and ordered the men to stop swearing.

They had been joined then by Engineer Curlee and Baggage-master Kerr of the Statesville train, says Mr. Moose, and all were quarreling.

When he ordered them away they told him to get out of the way and that they were going home. Ellis shoved against him, Mr. Moose says, and Malcolm knocked him over the embankment into his yard, which is below the level of the street.

When Moose fell a pistol shot rang out, which McWhirter says he thought was the sound of a street car passing over a torpedo. Two more shots followed presently. A little after the first shot Ellis placed his hand on McWhirter's shoulder and said, "I'm shot."

Ellis was taken to the Presbyterian hospital at once, accompanied by his companions, and placed in care of a physician, who pronounced the man seriously wounded. Sergeant Joe Orr and Patrolman Walter Orr were soon at the scene and escorted Malcolm, McWhirter and Moose to the police station for an investigation, where Malcolm stated he was positive Moose did not fire a shot. Suspicion then turned to Ralph Morrison, a nephew of Mr. Moose, who lives in his house and another young man who stays there and who is also a relative. They were brought to the station where Morrison told Sergeant Orr that it was he who fired the shots.

"I saw a man knock Mr. Moose down," he said. "I did not know who he was and don't know who he is, but he is the man I shot at," he continued; there were three against one and drunk at that."

After Morrison had admitted firing the shot, Moose talked more freely and stated that as he rose to his feet, after having been knocked down, a huge rock whistled past him and struck the house. Then it was that the first shot was fired. Morrison had said that he fired two shots at first. Mr. Moose explained that the third shot was fired while he was trying to wrest the pistol from Morrison.

Morrison was locked up and was this morning denied bail by Revolver D. B. Smith until Ellis shows some improvement. Morrison is said by all who know him to be an excellent young man. "He's one of the best boys anywhere," said several people who know him. He was reared by his mother and his uncle, Mr. Moose who lives in the same house. Mr. W. M. Smith and Mr. J. D. McCall have been re-

CROSS, SICK, FEVERISH CHILDREN NEED GENTLE, THOROUGH CASCARETS

Most of the ills of childhood are caused by a sour, disordered stomach, sluggish liver and constipated bowels. They catch cold easily, become cross, listless, irritable, feverish, restless, tongue coated, don't eat or sleep well and need a gentle, thorough, physic—but don't try to force a nauseating dose of oil into the little one's already sick stomach—it is cruel, needless and old-fashioned.

Any child will gladly take Cascarets which act gently—never gripe or produce the slightest uneasiness—though cleanses the little one's system, sweetens the stomach and puts the liver and bowels in a pure, healthy condition.

Full directions for children and grown-ups in each package.
Mothers can rest easy after giving this gentle, thorough laxative, which costs only 10 cents per box.

Benefit of Traffic Manager of City

It has long been the ambition of the active members of the Greater Charlotte Club to secure for the city of Charlotte a means whereby the interests of the shippers might be protected from the great loss which annually occurs from the irregularities in the handling of freight.

In such a mammoth and complex affair as one of the big modern railroad systems mistakes which cause loss are unavoidable. To prevent this loss the shippers need a specialist to keep an eye on the situation and watch for the expensive errors. The railroads naturally can not correct errors until they are pointed out to them.

The secretary of the Greater Charlotte Club, with a strong committee to aid him has for months been gathering facts showing how many of the cities over the country have profited by the employment of a traffic manager.

Business men in these cities have furnished an abundance of evidence of the practical economy to them in having a specialist employed to prevent many losses.

After satisfying themselves that Charlotte can profit by the employment of a traffic manager, the committee set to work to get the business men organized. A plan was carefully matured and several of the business men interviewed on the subject who approved of the scheme and showed their readiness to support it.

A general meeting of the shippers was called and an organization was formed and given the name of the "Charlotte Shippers and Manufacturers Association." Mr. E. W. Thompson was elected president; Mr. P. L. McMahon, vice-president; Mr. C. G. Creighton, secretary-treasurer.

The board of directors consists of the three officers named and the following gentlemen: Messrs. John M. Scott, C. O. Kuester, Willis Brown, W. R. Foreman, J. C. Robinson, C. A. Williams, and V. J. Guthrie, making 10 in all.

The plan of organization includes an obligation to support the organization for a term of three years and to pay a certain sum to help defray the operating expenses of the manager.

For some weeks a still hunt has been going on for the purpose of finding a competent man to fill the position of manager, and at last he has been found and it now only remains for the members of the new organization to get together, secure the additional money needed, close with the man and put him in the field to protect the interests of the shippers of Charlotte.

The sum of $3,000 has already been pledged in support of the work and from $2,000 to $3,000 more is needed.

Every shipper in Charlotte is interested in this move as it is vital to his business. Nothing more nor less than insurance against loss. The man who courts success in his business will take membership in the new organization.

A meeting is to be held on Thursday night at the Selwyn hotel at which time matters are expected to take definite shape for final action, and in the near future Charlotte will have a traffic manager supported by the Charlotte Shippers and Manufacturers Association.

When this has been brought about, the Greater Charlotte Club will have accomplished the greatest achievement in its history and Charlotte provided with a greatly needed economy.
