

Mr. Oates' Funeral This Afternoon

The Services Will be Conducted in the Second Presbyterian Church, the Church He Loved And Which He Served.

The funeral services of Mr. David W. Oates, whose death, as recorded, occurred at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon at 4:30 at the Second Presbyterian church, Rev. Dr. McGeachy, pastor of the church, conducting the service, which, in accordance with the request of deceased, will be as simple as possible.

A brief sketch of Mr. Oates' life was given in yesterday's News, an extended one being impossible as the paper was just going to press.

The passing of Mr. Oates removes a prominent figure in the life of Charlotte. For 50 years Mr. Oates had been a citizen of Charlotte, and since 1866 he has been identified with the business interest of the city.

Mr. Oates was the eldest son of Edward White Oates and Mahuida Oates, of Cleveland county. He was born in that county, several miles beyond Cleveland Springs, May 25, 1844. When he came to Charlotte, his uncle, the late Mr. R. M. Oates, had come here to live. Col. Lewis S. Williams was at that time one of the largest merchants of the town. He took Mr. R. M. Oates to business with him, the firm being Williams & Oates.

Mr. Oates received his education first at a boy's school in Lincoln county and then at the University of North Carolina. He attended the Military Academy here under Gen. D. H. Hill. When the war broke out he went as a cadet, being drill master. He was afterward in Lane's brigade, serving as adjutant. He served through the war and was wounded at the Battle of Gravel Hill, captured and imprisoned at Fort Delaware for about ten months.

Returning to Charlotte after the war Mr. Oates entered upon the business career, the main facts of which are given above, and from that time became one of the leading and most influential citizens of the city. He served a number of times on the board of aldermen, on the school board, and was active in whatever concerned the development of the city. The dominant feature of his life, however, was his church work. He was ardently a Presbyterian and from 1875 when the first Second Presbyterian church was built to the day of his death, was one of the leading figures as well as one of the large contributors to that church. The old church, in the building of which such men as the late Col. Thos. Brem, Robt. I. Mc Dowell, Gen. Rufus Barringer, Col. R. M. Oates, Julius Alexander, and others were leading spirits, received liberal contributions from Mr. Oates. When the new church was

Camden Miss Helped by Cardui

Miss Wilson Suffered For Nine Years, but Finally Obtained Relief by Taking Cardui

Camden, Miss.—"About five years ago," says Miss W. E. Wilson, of this place, "I had to undergo an operation, and after that it hurt me to stand on my feet or to walk much. I had suffered, more or less, with womanly troubles, for more than nine years, and I was very weak and nervous. As soon as I commenced to take Cardui, I felt better. Now I am not taking any medicine, for I don't need any. Cardui has done me more good than anything I have ever taken. It is the greatest medicine for women that was ever made."

This remarkable letter, from a lady who has actually tried Cardui, ought surely to convince you of the genuine merit of this successful medicine, and induce you to give it a trial for your own troubles. Cardui is the ideal remedy for all weak, suffering women, young or old. Cardui acts specifically on the womanly constitution, preventing unnecessary pain, and building up strength where it is most needed. During the past 50 years, it has proven itself to be a reliable remedy for weak women. It has helped others, and should certainly help you. At all druggists. Try it.

Indigestion Is Ended Forever

Out-of-Order Stomachs Feel Fine Five Minutes After Taking a Little Diapepsin.

Nothing will remain undigested or sour on your stomach if you will take a little Diapepsin occasionally. This powerful digestive and antacid, though as harmless and pleasant as candy, will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you can eat.

Eat what your stomach craves, without the slightest fear of indigestion or that you will be bothered with sour risings, belching, gas on stomach, heartburn, headaches from stomach, nausea, bad breath, water brash or a feeling like you had swallowed a lump of lead, or other disagreeable miseries. Should you be suffering now from any stomach disorder you can get relief within five minutes.

If you will get from your pharmacist a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin you could always go to the table with hearty appetite, and your meals would taste good, because you would know there would be no indigestion or sleepless nights or headache or stomach misery all the next day; and, besides, you would not need laxatives or liver pills to keep your stomach and bowels clean and fresh.

Pape's Diapepsin can be obtained from your druggist, and contains more than sufficient to thoroughly cure the worst case of indigestion or dyspepsia. There is nothing better for gas on the stomach or sour odors from the stomach or to cure a stomach headache.

You couldn't keep a handier or more useful article in the house.

built Mr. Oates again gave liberally of his substance.

His devotion to his church was one of the strongest points of his life. He gave his time, his money his very heart to the Second church. From the time the first church was built in 1875 to within a few years of his death Mr. Oates was the leading bass singer in the choir. He had a beautiful voice—soft melodious, of beautiful quality and superb richness. He was a ruling elder in the church, often superintendent of the Sunday school, and for years chairman of the music committee. There was never a call of the church to which Mr. Oates did not respond; never a service that he was not willing to perform.

Mr. Oates was a man of fine sense, clear and astute judgment. He was as wise in counsel as he was exemplary in conduct. He was charitable in judging his fellowman, charitable in deed and thought; a man of great strength of character, and the bent of his character was toward the right. He had a strong will, but it was always bent to the Divine will. Even those who differed with him admired him for his convictions. His principles were of the highest, his life was in all points correct, his record clean.

For several years before his death he had been in failing health, and had practically retired from active business life. Personally, he was exceptionally handsome, tall, erect, of fine features and commanding presence. The writer was associated with him for years in the old Second church. In his work, and recalls that one of his favorite hymns was one of the two chosen for the service this afternoon: "How Firm a Foundation Ye Saints of the Lord."

A Family That Can Pick Some Cotton

The family of Mr. J. D. McCorkle, of Steel Creek, stands unchallenged as the champion cotton-picking family of the county, and, perhaps, of the state. The other day four members of the family picked 1,528 pounds of cotton, enough to make a heavy bale. The above amount was picked in one day by four of Mr. McCorkle's sons, namely, Roy, Ben, Cecil and Harvey. The quantity picked by each one was as follows: Roy, 429; Ben, 394; Cecil, 368, and Harvey 337 pounds.

Ten Days' Limit For Boys Enrollment

But ten days remain to enroll for the boys' night school, which is to be conducted by the Young Men's Christian Association.

Boys who are planning to attend this school, and who have not already done so, should hand in their names at once, in order that they may receive the advertising matter, which will be sent out, and also an invitation to the banquet and educational rally, which will be held on the opening night of the school, and for which plans are nearly completed. This opportunity offered to the employed boys of the city is one which no boy who has been obliged to leave school before he has finished his education, can afford to miss. Already a large number have enrolled, but there is still room for more, as the association will provide for all who wish to take the course, even if it becomes necessary to secure the services of an additional teacher.

Full information may be obtained from the boys' secretary regarding the school, or will be mailed upon receipt of request.

Baseball at McAdenville. Special to the News.

There will be a double header game played at McAdenville on Saturday, September 23rd, beginning at 2:30, between McAdenville and Concord.

These two teams played an exciting game on Saturday, September 9th, McAdenville winning by a margin of only one run. The next two games will be more exciting, as both teams have strengthened, and as this is the final game of the season at McAdenville a large crowd is expected. McAdenville will use Bentley, Polie Jenkins and other league players. Concord will most likely pitch Swearingen, who has made an enviable record this year. McAdenville hopes to see a large crowd from its neighboring towns and promises two good games. Mr. Ruben Jenkins, of Mount Holly, will umpire the games.

NOTARY PUBLIC

During my 16 or 18 years' experience as a PUBLIC NOTARY, I have represented bankers, lawyers and leading financiers in Charlotte, where a Notary Public was required in the final closing of big business deals. IT has often happened that the entire settlement for all parties concerned, representing thousands of dollars in money, checks, notes, etc., passed through my hands with me acting as "middle man" in the deal. There is a reason for this, i. e.,—I give all business entrusted to me as a Notary Public, prompt, courteous, confidential, and intelligent attention. If you have any such deals to be closed, give me your business, and you will be properly represented, and every detail of the matter properly executed. I command business as a Notary Public on business merit, and handle all such matters on a strictly first-class high-toned business manner. Phone me any time you need a Notary Public. Incidentally—give me your business—My time is my own—have horse and buggy, and will go anywhere—any time—day or night—to act as Notary. Office Phone 243—Residence Phone 1270-J. FRANK F. That Hendersonville Murder

The two physicians intended to aid the coroner's jury make a farce of its action. Why was this? Why did her family not make known her strange absence sooner? This charming mountain city has more than one peculiar citizen within her gates. Send them away, good people, but not to Charlotte, if you please.

THE MAN OR MEN COMMITTING this crime should be hung. If the law doesn't provide just punishment, the next legislature should correct it. The state is watching Hendersonville. We take off our hat to Virginia. The conclusion of the Bishop case is Charlotte was a disgrace to North Carolina.
