

Y. M. C. A. WORKERS GATHERED AT HANNA HALL

Conference on Young Men's Christian Association in Cotton Mill Communities - Interesting Addresses Delivered This Morning.

Messrs. Owen, Speer, Robinson, and Huntington Delivered Addresses This Morning - Round Table Discussion - Interesting Program Tomorrow

The second day's conference on Y. M. C. A. Work in Cotton Mill Communities opened this morning in the local Y. M. C. A. building with an enthusiastic personnel in attendance. The meeting was presided over by Mr. S. A. Ackley. Four addresses were delivered, as follows: "The Association's Relation to the Church Life," by Mr. H. W. Owen; "Spiritual Results to be Expected of the Association," by Mr. A. J. Speer; "Boys' Meetings and Bible Classes," by Mr. C. C. Robinson; "The City Association's Opportunity," by Mr. G. C. Huntington.

Following these addresses there was a round table discussion of them participated in by many of those present, among them Messrs. Towson, Johnston, Lynch, Huntington, Burnett, Probert, Lee, Owen, Martin, Robinson and Mr. Darsey.

Mr. Owen made a stirring address on the "Association's Relation to the Church," saying that they ought to work hand in hand, and that Y. M. C. A. workers and ministers should and could cultivate each other to their mutual advantage.

Mr. C. C. Robinson, whose subject was "Boys' Meetings and Bible Classes," used a part of his address in naming and commenting on a number of books that had been found very valuable in the kind of work which the conference was discussing.

The addresses were listened to with close attention and they, together with the round-table discussion following, contained suggestions which will be of great usefulness in carrying out the work of the association.

Yesterday's Session. Yesterday's and last night's sessions of the conference were marked by able and interesting addresses by Rev. Dr. William E. W. Jordan, president of Trinity College; Mr. Charles S. Towson, who is a well-known Y. M. C. A. worker in New York; Mr. N. C. Schlechter, Mr. D. L. Probert, Mr. G. C. Huntington and others.

Today's Program. The program for today follows: B. A. Ackley, State Secretary of Virginia, presiding. Topic - Religious Work. Devotions. The Association's Relations to the Church Life. H. W. Owen, Spiritual Results to be Expected of the Association. A. J. Speer, Boys' Meetings and Bible Classes. C. C. Robinson, The City Association's Opportunity. G. C. Huntington, Discussion.

Afternoon, 2 to 4. S. A. Ackley, State Secretary Virginia, Presiding. Topic - Physical Work and Health. A Desirable Gymnastic and Athletic Program. W. R. Lynch, The Association and the Community Health. Dr. E. H. T. Foster, Discussion.

Mr. Miller to Address Cotton Manufacturers. Mr. R. M. Miller will leave Saturday night for Manchester, Vt., to attend a convention of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers, of which organization he is a director.

For Indigestion. Bad Dreams, Nervousness, Bloating, and All Stomach Misery. Go to R. H. Jordan & Co. today, don't procrastinate - get a fifty-cent box of M-I-O-N-A stomach tablets and get rid of all that annoying gas, sourness, heartburn, bloating and heaviness. R. H. Jordan & Co. guarantees them.

Mr. Hunter to Locate Here For Law Practice. Mr. Lewis Hunter, who passed the state board of law examiners several days ago, has located at room 310 at the law building. He studied law both at Wake Forest and the University of North Carolina.

For a Cleaner Charlotte, the Slogan. There is much talk about the dirty condition of the sidewalks, the height of grass in some places, etc. etc. The executive committee last night instructed the head of the health department, Dr. Hawley, to see that the ordinance requiring every inch of front of his own property be enforced.

Mr. Lee Helps Them Out Of A Hole. Mayor Bland and City Attorney Brenizer went forth yesterday afternoon in the mayor's car to have a heart to heart talk over the paving matter. They went toward the Country Club. On their return they went too near an open ditch. The car skidded just enough to land the car and its occupants unceremoniously into the ditch.

Big Al Fields On Tour Again Comes to Charlotte With His Burnt Cork Men to Charm the Lovers of Minstrelsy.

On his twenty-sixth tour of the country Al G. Fields, the veteran minstrel man with his splendid aggregation of singers, dancers and comedians reached the city this morning. The company comes from Wilmington where a performance was put on last night before a packed house. From reports received here the minstrels have received a rousing reception in every town yet visited on their route and that the present season promises to be the banner year of the greater minstrelsy.

Fields claims that his performance this year surpasses even the elaborate productions of former years and criticisms from newspapers in the cities visited seem to substantiate the claim. With flags flying, banners waving and drums beating the minstrels paraded the principal streets of the city today. An elaborately costumed band of forty pieces, entertained several hundred citizens at a corner concert during the progress of the parade.

Fields, the veteran producer, who is the favorite minstrel in Charlotte rode at the head of the procession and was greeted on all sides by friends and admirers. He has been touring the south for more than a decade and his collection of black-face stars has always proven of much worth here as gloom-dispellers, always sending their audiences home in a happy mood.

In the parade at noon today were seen many familiar faces, men who have traveled with the aggregation for a number of years. Doc Quigley, who has been with Fields for the past 20 years is still in his old place and other stars recognized were John Heavely, Gov. Bowen and Bert Swow, all entertainers of the high order. It is said that these mirth-dispersers are more funny this year than ever.

The Greater Minstrelsy has played to packed houses in every city along their route and press criticisms have been highly favorable at every place. It would seem that Fields' claim that his show this year is the best of his career is being substantiated.

Two performances will be given here, matinee this afternoon and the regular night performance. It is expected that the veteran producer and his fun-makers will be greeted by two big houses.

Some people are always in too much of a hurry to really accomplish anything. Must Bide Awe! Says the Committee. When Capt. S. B. Alexander, of Mecklenburg Camp, and Capt. W. M. Robey of the artillery company appeared before the board of aldermen Monday night, they requested permission to use part of the auditorium building for their respective purposes, their request was favorably recommended to the executive board.

At Mr. Holly and Lowell the depots will be on a smaller scale than that at Charlotte. The freight and passenger business will be entirely separate. The contract for the erection of the depots at Gastonia, Bessemer City and King's Mountain was let yesterday afternoon to Mr. J. A. Jones, the well-known and skilled contractor, of this city.

Dandierine Society

Grows hair and we can prove it

Hair Becomes Soft, Fluffy, Lustrous and Beautiful Immediately After a Dandierine Hair Cleanse

Get a 25 Cent Bottle Now and Forever Stop Falling Hair, Itching Scalp and Dandruff

A little Dandierine now will immediately double the beauty of your hair - No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Dandierine and carefully draw it through your hair taking one small strand at a time. The effect is immediate and amazing - your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy and have an appearance of abundance, an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair health.

Try as you will after an application of Dandierine, you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or a loose or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use when you will actually see new hair, fine and downy at first - yes - but really new hair - sprouting all over the scalp.

Dandierine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them; its life-producing properties cause the hair to grow abundantly long, strong and beautiful.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Dandierine from any drug store or toilet counter and prove to yourself tonight - now that your hair is as pretty and soft as any - that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment - that's all - you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it, if you will just try a little Dandierine. Real surprise awaits you.

Mr. Jones to Build Interurban Depot in Recorder's Court

Contract Given Yesterday Afternoon for Freight Depot on Mint and Third Streets - Also for Depots at Mt. Holly and Lowell.

The contract for the building of the freight and passenger depots for the Interurban Railway between Charlotte and King's Mountain was let yesterday afternoon to Mr. J. A. Jones, the well-known and skilled contractor, of this city.

The freight depot will be the largest on the line. It will cost $30,000. The design was prepared by Hook & Rogers, the well-known architects' of this city.

The freight station, as known, is to be located on Mint street, beginning at Third. The building will be 210x200 feet. The Interurban Company owns blocks of property on Mint street and contiguous streets, some having been purchased last summer. The buildings will be of the latest design, and up-to-date in every particular.

Aggie Atkins Once More Barely Escapes Being Sent to the County Roads for Retailing

Aggie Atkins, colored, had a very close call this morning in Recorder's court on a charge of retailing. The recorder found her guilty of the charge but suspended judgment on payment of the costs, with a promise from the recorder that if she ever came before him again on the same charge she could expect a road sentence.

Aggie is a lucky individual. She has been in court on the same charge often before but has always "stood from under" just as guilt was about to be established and so has never yet served time. She may to some degree owe her good fortune to deafness. Questions have to be shouted to her and to all of them she replies with a meekness and lamb-like innocence and general air of being imposed upon that the recorder has often been puzzled to know whether she was guilty of being grossly and unjustly accused. The latter she says is the case.

The transaction that brought her into court this morning has to do with an alleged negotiation between Aggie and Tom Saunders an old farmer, who is care-taker and general factotum at the pest house. It is charged that Saunders took a speckled hen, of the variety variety away from her needy brood, she clucking with great indignation in the meantime, and carried her from the pest-house over to Aggie's domicile on West First street, where he offered her to Aggie for a drink, a tolerable good-sized drink of that brand of whiskey which Aggie is said to dispense.

At any rate when the warrant had been drawn, charging Aggie with retailing, Messrs. Johnson and Barnhardt were dispatched to fetch her to the police station together with any evidence found on the premises that might establish the fact of guilt. Arriving at the residence of Aggie the officers found the speckled hen tied to a bush in the yard by the left foot and with a cotton string. She was clucking anxiously and ruffled her feathers threatening manner when the sleuths picked her up. Onward to the station they came, Officer Johnson leading Aggie and his fellow officer carrying the hen. The case was tried this morning with above-named result.

Saunders is the same negro who several years ago was passing a hog pen over near Biddle and saw a silver dollar in the trough that had accidentally been emptied there with the slop. He went over to get the spoon. The hog attacked him and he dealt the porger which was fat, such a blow that it never grunted afterwards. Throwing it would never do to let a good piece of pork spoil, he took the hog with him to the pest house and salted it away against a possible rise in the cost of living. He later related the incident to the municipal court where he was charged with larceny of a hog.
