Helps the Farmer to Sell

THE FARMER was worried over the market reports. Cotton was rising. When it reached a certain figure he proposed to sell. The day before it had almost reached his price. What would it bring today?

The farmer needed first-hand information at once. He stepped to his Bell Telephone. The Long Distance connection with the buyer in a distant city informed him that cotton had reached the top figure, and he sold his crop at a handsome profit.

The universal Bell System enables the producer in remote rural districts to keep in touch with market conditions without the necessity of leaving home.

By the way, have you a Bell Telephone?

Man Who "Toted" Two Guns Fined $25

Anderson Moore, a young white man from Albermarle, originally and Concord and recently, was fined $25 by Recorder Smith this morning for carrying concealed weapons, said weapons being two in number. They were a 34 calibre Smith & Wesson pistol and a very rusty-looking 22 calibre pistol. The defendant claimed to have gotten them on the train from Concord to Charlotte from an acquaintance who owed him some money, but could not come across with the mags and give him the two pistols instead. He was arrested by Sergeant Orr and Patrolman Hunter as he was making his way up town yesterday afternoon from the Southern depot. He was somewhat under the influence of drink and the officers spied one of the guns protruding from the hip pocket.

Asked if he didn't have a gun he replied that he had two and handed them over to the officers, telling them the story that he told her recorder his morning. The defendant seemed to be an inoffensive kind of fellow, with no idea of going to participate in the Italo-Turkish embroglio, but he nevertheless had the guns and the recorder could not do otherwise than fine him. Fettle Green and Francis Moore, ladies, colored, were up to their old tricks again last night drinking and fighting. The warrant charged them with an affray. "How do you plead, Fettle, to engaging in an affray?" asked the recorder. "Not guilty, judge; I haven't hit a bit."

was soon evident that Francis Moore was still too drunk to tell of the affray in an intelligible manner and the recorder ordered her taken back to the cell to sober up, while Fettle Green was told she could go and come back about 11 o'clock, when he would consider the merits of the case.
