GOLD IN THE STATE.

Once North Carolina achieves an enviable reputation as a gold producing state. There were many mines opened up and operations were carried on extensively.

During recent years, however, there has been a revival of interest in mining, and just now several notable mines are being worked successfully on a large scale.

Government figures show that in 1910 we produced a total of 3,291.67 ounces of gold, valued at $68,045, and 9,933 ounces of silver, valued at $4,888.

FIGHTING PELLAGRA.

Tennessee physicians are awaking to the importance of combatting the spread of pellagra. Reports sent out from Washington last week show that there are several hundred cases of infection in the South today.

The Memphis Commercial Appeal prints a story telling of the meeting of Tennessee physicians, which follows:

Dyersburg, Tenn., Sept. 29.—The pellagra symposium held here tonight went well attended by physicians and citizens was well attended by physicians and citizens of this city, and close attention was given to those who spoke upon the subject of pellagra.

Other speakers were Drs. Somerville and Leroy of Memphis and Dr. Krause, chairman of the state pellagra commission. A negro woman who has been a victim of the disease, and treated successfully by a local physician, was shown the public by Dr. Krause to illustrate a part of his remarks on the subject.

"One booster is worth more to Greenville than a dozen kickers" observes the Greenville Daily Piedmont. We had fancied Richard too gallant to make such a base thrust at the chorus girls.

That "Swing around the circle" is assuming the air of a returning unsuccessful trip from the North Pole.

Spartanburg's street car is running again without interruption.

Those boosters will return, not sadder, but wiser men.

GREED AND WAR.

Scarcely had a peace pact between three of the largest nations of the world been signed when war between Turkey and Italy was announced. Just when peace conferences were being held, when international arbitration of disputes was a theme dwelt upon by creators and newspapers, the war cloud appears to upset all plans of universal peace.

When the Italian seizure of Tripoli has been righteously denounced as an act of 'naked pillage' and 'frank brigandage,' the difficulty presents itself of differentiating it from the proceedings of other European powers in North Africa. It has never been difficult to find a pretext for snatching some part of the land that once was Carthage and later Rome from the hands into which it fell.

The Italian pretext is not more flimsy than the successive reasons which were given for the French conquest of Algeria; it is more intelligible than the excuse alleged for the dispatch of German war vessels to the Moroccan port of Agadir as a preliminary to the demand for a slice of the French Congo, and it is almost as respectable as the demand for whose satisfaction England first occupied Egypt. Italy has shown a lively interest in Tripoli for the last fifty years, for among other reasons, Tripoli lies over against Sicily, and the possessor of Sicily could no more be indifferent to the ownership of Tripoli than could the occupant of Gibraltar to the holding of Tangiers.

So did France secure British consent for exercising a free hand in Morocco, when she withdrew her opposition to the continued British occupation of Egypt. Then followed the German reminder that another great power had to be reckoned with, and the process of 'squaring' the disturber of the 'entente' is not yet technically complete. But it has apparently gone far enough to convince Italy that the time had come to strike for Tripoli.

WAKE FOREST OPENS SEASON FOR FOOTBALL

Wake Forest, Oct. 2.—The football season of Wake Forest College for the season of 1911 opened Saturday with a game with Warrenton High School as is the custom. The field was dry and dusty and was so hot as to keep spectators away but the teams went at it in a different spirit and although the game was a little one-sided the interest never lagged.

The Warrenton team weighed about 145 while their opponents had them outweighed by at least 20 pounds. Both teams worked hard and fast and the superior coaching of Coach Thompson showed on every hand. Not only did Wake Forest win but the line up preliminary. Billings, one of the regular half backs was out of the game on account of a wrenched knee while neither Dunn or Gattis were able to play, and Faucett, quarter back, was out on account of sickness. These men alone will be a tower of strength to the team and will be able to play in the Carolina game next Saturday. Gattis is a tackle while Dunn will hold down the center position.

Only twice during the game was Warrenton able to gain the required ten yards and then on forward passes. The visitors were never able to gain through the line and when an end run was attempted they were nearly always thrown for a loss. They attempted the forward pass several times but were unable to work it successfully only twice and then on fakes. Both the defense and offense of the team was remarkable in every play.

The first quarter started off with Warrenton receiving. The ball was returned to the twenty-yard line and after working a forward pass successfully one time it was tried again and failed. Wake Forest then carried the ball over on a forward pass to Joyner. Wake Forest received the ball after the first touchdown and on the kick off it was returned by Holding, B. fifty yards. An inside kick and a tackle around tackle play by Parker gave Wake Forest her second touchdown. The third touchdown in this quarter was the result of Joyner's covering a kick and running thirty yards for a touchdown.

In the second quarter a forward pass to Joyner and a recovered kick by Singletary gave Wake Forest two more touchdowns. After a ten-minute rest the teams came back refreshed and started in earnest. In this quarter Wake Forest scored four touchdowns on two line rushes, a recovered kick, and a 45-yard run after a touchback. The fourth netted two more on a line rush and a forward pass.

At no time during the game was the Wake Forest goal in danger. Only twice were the visitors able to go the required ten yards. Twice Wake Forest lost the ball on account of the quarters being up on the half yard line.

The defense of the team was nearly perfect while the offense was all that one could wish. To have the track of the long runs would have been impossible for they were to be seen on every hand. Wake Forest used twenty men among them being: Holding, R., Joyner, Moss and Rankin, ends; Parker, Holding, Howard, and Jones, tackles; Green, Williams, Rankin, Brittain, guards, Carter and Ramsauer, center; Betts, Capt. quarter; Singletary, Savaze, Faucett, W. Harris and Cates, backs.

Two new men, "Iky" Gattis and Lonnie Dunn formerly of the A. & M. team, will also play on the team this year but were not able to report in yesterday's game. Both intend to take law and go before the supreme court and will both be in next Saturday's game with the university at Chapel Hill.

The basketball team is working hard and are showing up well for this early in the season. The team last year which included Beam and Holding, R., forwards, Holding, B. and center, an U. and Dowd guards are all back and eager to start playing.

The vacant date in the football schedule for the 28th of October has been filled by Catawba college and will be played at Wake Forest.

All You Need is a Cascaret Tonight

No Sick Headache, Bilious Stomach, Coated Tongue or Constipated Bowels By Morning

Turn the rascals out—the headache, the biliousness, the indigestion, the sick, sour stomach and foul gases—turn them out tonight and keep them out with Cascarets.

Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never know the misery caused by a lazy liver, clogged bowels or an upset stomach.

Don't put in another day of distress. Let Cascarets clean and regulate your stomach; remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and that misery-making gas; take the excess bile from your liver and carry out of the system all the decomposed waste matter and poison in the intestines and bowels. Then you will feel great.

A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from any drug store means a clear head and cheerfulness for months. Children love to take Cascarets because they taste good—never gripe or sicken.

The Significance of a Name The Stieff Piano

The instrument par excellence. Uniqueness of mechanical art, giving that which is most desired, durability and elegance of appearance, together with its responsiveness to the most delicate touch; its smooth, rich quality of tone enslaving the most classically trained ear; vibrating in beautiful harmony with human heartstrings and bringing the sweetest melodies to the soul.

These four qualifications, unquestionably, stamp this piano as an unprecedented creation of exquisite completeness. And the Stieff, 'tis true, wears the ribbon blue grandly woven in its fabric of grace. 'Tis the elegance grand from the skilled workman's hand that gives it its merited place.
