

Uneeda Biscuit never disappoint!

You have never heard anyone say—"The Uneeda Biscuit in that last package were not as good as usual."

You have never said it yourself.

It is one thing to make soda crackers that are occasionally good.

It is quite another thing to make them so that they are not only always better than all other soda crackers, but always of unvarying goodness.

The name "Uneeda"—stamped on every one of them—means that if a million packages of Uneeda Biscuit were placed before you, you could choose any one of them, confident that every soda cracker in that package would be as good as the best Uneeda Biscuit ever baked.

5c a package—never sold in bulk.

Ex-Convict Charged With Counterfeiting

Special to The News. Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 13.—Chas. Johnson, an ex-convict, who was only discharged from the Halifax state farm in September, after serving a sentence, is in the toils of the law again, this time as Uncle Sam's prisoner, on the charge of counterfeiting. Government special agents declare they have absolute proof of his passing eight thousand silver dollars of the stamped mintage of 1904. Furthermore when arrested last night he had in his possession the SAVED HIS MOTHER'S LIFE. "Four doctors had given me up," writes Mrs. Laura Gaines, of Avoca, La., "and my children and all my friends were looking for me to die, when my son insisted that I use Electric Bitters. molds with which he was casting the coins. Some of the coins were passed recently in the city market and the case was reported to United States Commissioner Nichols by Keeper of the Market J. N. McRary. Then the authorities at Washington put Capt. Henry E. Thomas, of Asheville, on the job to ferret out the counterfeiter and his molds with the result that the arrest has just been made, the authorities declaring that they have a complete case against Johnson.

WHITES RALLY TO AID NEGRO. Raise Money to Defend Jim White on Trial for Murder.

Georgetown, Del., Oct. 13.—The trial of Isaac J. Short, colored, of Lewes, for killing Phillip Wilson, another negro, began here, after several hours had been consumed in obtaining a jury. The alleged crime is said to have been started by Wilson, who was from Maryland, and who had been making trouble in the colored section of Lewes all one evening. It was while trying to enter the home of Short he was shot. Short claiming that the killing was in self-defense. White residents of Lewes have raised a considerable sum of money with which to defend Short, and the case is expected to consume several days.

Convocation in Progress. In connection with the special consideration of Diocesan missions in the Convocation of Raleigh in progress here the great advance made by the Southern Diocese of Virginia in missionary work is being held up as a special inspiration for the Diocese of North Carolina. In a stirring address last night by Rev. W. H. Milton, D. D., of Wilmington, who was formerly in the Southern Diocese of Virginia, and had an active part in stirring the diocese to its larger effort for missions, he told of the development of this work, crediting it largely to the use of the Diocesan Mission Journal, which was carefully edited with a view to presenting the "human interest" side of the mission work and the forceful personal work of Dr. Jno. Lloyd, archdeacon of the diocese. The Mission Journal, he said, was circulated in over 4,000 families throughout the diocese whether the subscriptions were paid or not. The first year of this effort cost the diocese $800, but it proved to be money well spent. In the past five years the annual receipts for mission has grown from $6,000 to $11,000, and a special "extension" work has developed a fund of $40,000 for this advanced church work. Much of the session today was devoted to consideration of means of securing more adequate support of diocesan missions, special speakers being Dr. R. H. Lewis, Raleigh; Thomas H. Webb, Duke; Rev. Bertram E. Brown, Tarboro; and Rev. Thomas L. Trott, Durham. The convocation closed last night with a special music service and a powerful sermon by Rev. Homer W. Starr, of Chapel Hill, on "The Power of Individual Consecration."

Kitchin Cannot Attend. Governor Kitchin has telegraphed to Governor Colquitt, of Texas, that he finds it impossible for him to attend the conference of the governors of the cotton states that he has called for Dallas, Texas, October 23rd, but assuring the Texas governor that he has his heartiest co-operation in whatever can be done by the cotton growers the assuring to the cotton growers the highest possible prices for their cotton. There is a possibility that there may be a change of day so that Governor Kitchin can participate in the conference.

Hyde County Drainage. Through a ruling of the supreme court affirming the lower court in refusing an injunction against the issuance of $100,000 supplemental bonds it is made possible for the drainage commissioners of the Mattamuskeet drainage district, Hyde county, to proceed at once with the installation of the drainage machinery for one of the greatest drainage undertakings in this country, the draining of the lake bed and surrounding swamps of Mattamus-

ROBBED DISGUISED BANK

Grandson's Visits to Applebutter Crock Beggared Old Woman. York, Pa., Oct. 13.—York county's meanest thief, related before Alderman Keech here how he had systematically robbed his grandmother of $500, her total savings of years, squandering the money in a few months. The aged woman, Mrs. Kate Beard, of Newberry township, had placed her savings in an apple-butter crock, and tying it shut in careful imitation of others containing preserves, had placed all together up in the garret. Oscar Beard, aged 24, a robust grandson, confessed that he had ferreted out the improvised bank months ago, had taken a little at a time, and finally emptied the crock. On that visit Beard climbed a ladder and broke into the house through a second-story window. When Mrs. Beard discovered the broken window she looked for her savings and discovered her loss. She went this morning as she heard her grandson's confession. "How could you spend all that money in so short a time?" she said, "when it took me so long to save it?" The defendant will go before Court with his story Monday and receive sentence.

Uncle Sam Pays 70-Year Debt.

By Associated Press. Morrice, Mich., Oct. 13.—August Wilcox, the oldest resident of Shiawassee county, who for nearly 70 years has been trying to collect $5.04 from Uncle Sam has at last succeeded—minus the interest.

Mr. Wilcox was postmaster at Bridgewater, Mich., under President Tyler, and some time after he was succeeded in the position he learned he had some money coming to him. Recently the proper identification papers properly reached Washington and the check came back in a hurry.
