

SHE HAD CONSTANT PAIN

Until Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Dewittville, N.Y. — "Before I started to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I suffered nearly all the time with headaches, backaches, and bearing down pains, and had a continuous pain in my left side. It made me sick if I tried to walk much, and my back was so weak that I was obliged to wear corsets all the time. But now I do not have any of these troubles. I have a fine strong baby now, which I did not have before taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound." — Mrs. A. A. JILES, Route 44, Dewittville, N. Y.

The above is only one of the thousands of grateful letters which are constantly being received by the Pinkham Medicine Company of Lynn, Mass., which prove beyond a doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, actually does cure these obstinate diseases of women, and that every such suffering woman owes it to herself to at least give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial before submitting to an operation, or giving up hope of recovery.

Mrs. Pinkham of Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health and her advice is free.

School Board Will Meet To-night

Matter of Pegram-Wadsworth School Site Will be Brought Up—Attorneys for Protesting Belmont Citizens Will be Present.

The board of school commissioners will meet tonight at 8:30 o'clock in the council chamber of the city hall. The most interesting matter for consideration will be the question of locating the new $20,000 school building which has been planned for the benefit of Belmont, Villa Heights, North Charlotte and Sunnyside.

The board some time ago adopted the minority report of Commissioner J. J. Williams, of the committee on buildings and grounds, which provided for the acceptance of the proffered Pegram-Wadsworth Land Company as a site for the new school, with the retention of the school building in Belmont from primary grades. The people of Belmont protested against this and asked the board by petition and delegation to accept the majority report of the committee on buildings and grounds, which recommended that the $20,000 appropriation for a new school building be divided $11,000 to improve and enlarge the present building in Belmont and $9,000 to be used for a new building for the suburbs other than Belmont.

The point made by the Belmont people is that it is an injustice to them to take away the good school they already have and move it away to the Pegram-Wadsworth land site. They say they voted bonds for school purposes and with the understanding and belief that they would have improved school facilities.

They employed counsel and gave notice of injunction to the school board against its carrying out its purpose of building on the Pegram-Wadsworth site. They have retained some of the ablest counsel in the city, and, through them the Belmont people will ask that the board reconsider its action and adopt the majority report instead.

Memory of Jackson Honored by Soldiers

"Our Fencibles" of Philadelphia Honor Memory of Stonewall Jackson And Pay Tribute to His Widow.

Soldiers of every flag lower their colors to the memory of Stonewall Jackson.

Yesterday as the Pennsylvania soldiers, Our Fencibles, the noted battalion of that state, passed the home of Mrs. Stonewall Jackson, on West Trade street, the colors were lowered and every man's cap was removed.

Later in the day the visitors paid a special visit to Mrs. Jackson's home, the battalion band, which included 150 picked men, playing Dixie in front of the house.

Mrs. Jackson was not at home, else her hospitality would have been cordially extended to the soldiers of the Quaker City.

Mr. Chappelle, the right-hand man of Mayor Brazier, spoke of Mrs. Jackson as the widow of that illustrious soldier, Stonewall Jackson.

The Fencibles also saluted when passing the monument of Lieut. William E. Shipley, who was killed in the Spanish-American war, and caps and helmets were raised by each soldier when the big tablet on Independence Square, commemorating the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence, was passed.

The visitors were delighted with Charlotte and the citizens of Charlotte esteemed it an honor and privilege to have them as guests.

Said Mayor Bland this morning: "I do not know when I have met more thoroughly delightful men. They expressed themselves as being greatly pleased with Charlotte."

The stay was very short, but Mayor Bland, the city councilmen, the local military and the Manufacturers' Club did all in their power to make the time pass pleasantly.

The club kept open house for the visitors, and Manager Frick saw that they lacked for nothing.

Captains W. R. Robertson, John A. Parker, W. M. Rober and Lieut. R. M. Johnston, and other military officials, representing the local military were assiduous in every particular.

The march through the streets was a fine exhibition.

The Fencibles are not a part of the state or national militia, but are a special guard, as it were, to the mayor of Philadelphia, he alone having the right to call them out. The men were splendidly equipped, and the band was superb.

The "Old Guard," which was organized in 1812, is a division of the company. This is the highest ranking division of the battalion. To the Old Guard the place of honor was assigned in yesterday's parade. Their uniforms were dark blue. Next came a division of the younger Fencibles, who wore the regular uniform, blue trousers and scarlet coats with the high fur hats. After these came the band, the only difference in their uniforms being in the shape of the hat, and that the members of the band wore white spatts. Then came another division of the Fencibles and last followed the officials of the two cities in automobiles.

Mayor Bland and Hon. E. R. Preston made short speeches by welcome. Mr. Chappelle responded for the visitors. He paid high tribute to the people of Mecklenburg, who "set the example for Philadelphia and the nation in signing the first Declaration of Independence."

The visitors left at 4 p. m.

Long Creek Bridge Matter Settled

City and County Officials Conferred Yesterday Afternoon in The Office of County Engineer Stowe—County Will Erect Temporary Bridge.

At a conference held yesterday afternoon at the office of County Engineer Stowe, at the court house, between Chairman of the County Commissioners W. M. Long, the city water board and the officials of the Requarth Construction Company, the Long Creek bridge matter was settled agreeably to the city, the county and the construction company. The agreement was that the county would erect a temporary bridge across the creek in question in order that the city might not be delayed in the laying of the new pipe line to Catawba river, which it appeared would be the case if the county went ahead tearing down the old bridge for the purpose of erecting a newer modern bridge there. The Requarth Company has the contract for the work and had already torn away the old bridge in part for the new structure. At this point it was discovered a bridge was absolutely necessary at this point if the work of extending the city water system to the river was not to be impeded.

Consternation reigned in the hearts of the water board at this prospect of delay and a conference was hastily called. The county officials of course were unwilling to be the cause of any delay in the completion of the waterworks system and therefore agreed to erect a temporary bridge over the creek. By this arrangement the Requarth Company can go ahead with the construction of the new bridge for the county and at the same time the extension of the waterworks system will not be interfered with. The work of erecting a temporary bridge will begin at once.

Mr. Ed. Latta III

The city in general will regret to know that Mr. E. D. Latta is sick. He has been confined to the house for days. He was better today and hopes to be out in a few days.

Carrie Sullivan Given Ninety Days

Carrie Sullivan, a colored woman was sentenced by Recorder Smith this morning to 90 days in the county jail to be hired out at the discretion of the county commissioners for assault and battery upon the person of Emma Boyd, a colored lady who has moved among the ebony "four hundred" of Washington, D. C., Winston-Salem, High Point, Monroe and Charlotte.

Emma returned from Monroe last Friday night and ordered the hackman to drive her to the home of Ella Phifer on Alexander street where Emma had boarded before going to Monroe. She went in the house and picked up one of the Phifer picaninies and was bestowing kisses upon it, while Carrie Sullivan sat at the Phifer table eating supper. Carrie, either from surprise or from the belief that her hated rival was about to fall into her hands, fell on the floor a piece of the china ware of the hotel Phifer. Not a word was uttered by her, but she crept out the door and crept back again. She crept up to Emma with a razor and began carving hieroglyphics on Emma's person. Dr. Davidson put 20-odd stitches in her anatomy, one of the gashes in her neck narrowly missing the jugular vein.

On the stand Emma stated that she had never had any fuss with Carrie and had no idea why Carrie should have wanted to carve her. She was married and her husband lived in High Point and she was expecting to go to him soon.

"You are very fond of your husband, are you not?" Mr. F. M. Reed, attorney for the Sullivan woman asked her. "Yes, sir," she said.

After Forty Years

Camden, S. C. Woman Recovers from Stomach Trouble.

No one who is not well nourished can be good-natured. That is why dyspepsia are always irritable.

But stomach trouble can be cured in nearly all cases, even after years of suffering. Mrs. Sarah C. Ammons, Camden, S. C., says "I suffered from nervous dyspepsia for forty years and feared I should never get over it. It kept me in misery all the time. I was terribly run down, could not sleep—thought my health was ruined."

"Last spring I began taking Vinol and it has no equal. I soon began to improve and now I am a well woman again for the first time in forty years. My appetite is good, I sleep well and have no stomach trouble at all. These are the plain facts."

Take our word for it, when you are weak and run down, cannot eat or sleep, Vinol is what you need for it will build you up and make you strong. We guarantee, Vinol, in plain language, your money back if it does not. R. H. Jordan & Co., Druggists, Charlotte, N. C.

Society

MRS. McCABE'S RECEPTION.

The social event of the afternoon is the reception which Mrs. W. H. McCabe will give at her lovely home on North Church street. Mrs. McCabe will receive in the front parlor and will be assisted by Mrs. George Wadsworth, Mrs. E. V. Finlayson and Mrs. Bee. In the hall will be Mrs. A. J. Haygood, Mrs. C. C. Kennedy, Mrs. Thomson.

In the cross hall Mrs. Edward C. Gassard, at the door Miss Sallie Bethune and Mrs. W. W. Hagood. In the coffee room, Mrs. C. W. Tillett, Mrs. L. B. Newell, Mrs. B. Stark, Mrs. Harry Dixon.

TO VISIT OLD HOME.
Miss Sallie and Blandie Davidson go to their old home in the country tomorrow to spend a week.

CHARMING BRIDE.
Yesterday and today Mrs. F. D. Gatchell charmingly entertained at bridge, the guests of yesterday being Mrs. O. D. Wheeler and mother, Mrs. Carter, Mesdames C. E. Platt, E. W. Thompson, C. C. Hook, Franklin Gordon, Frank Purcell, and W. R. Tallafiero, Sr.

Today's hospitality included Mesdames J. F. York, W. H. Lambeth, J. B. Bowen, W. G. Rogers, E. W. Meison, A. M. Spong, Isaac Hardman, and Misses Evelyn Wailes, Vannie, Charlton and Nell Dixon.

MISS SARAH HOUSTON SICK.
The host of friends of Miss Sarah Houston, throughout the city, will regret exceedingly to know that she is quite sick at her home on West Eighth street. She has been confined to her bed for a week, and will not be able to be up for possibly several weeks yet.

She has malarial fever. Miss Houston is so essential to the feminine world of Charlotte, that her illness closely affects the personal interests—sartorially—the "women of Marble Head." Friends upon friends call or phone to inquire for her. She was resting more comfortable today.

Mrs. John Allison, of Concord, spent today in the city. She visited the new emporium of fashion, the Liles-Nix Company, and was charmed with its beauty and elegance.

Miss Bays Presented With Lot at Montreat

One of the expressions of appreciation to Miss Mamie Bays, on account of her newspaper work at Montreat the past season, from Mountain Retreat Association, was the gift of a lot at Montreat, upon which to erect a summer home.

Miss Bays' correspondence from Montreat included leading papers in every southern state and several publications in northern cities. When her work was over the Montreat Association waited upon Miss Bays and presented her with a deed to one of the choicest lots at Montreat.

Miss Bays is known throughout the church courts of the Presbyterian, as well as the Methodist conference for her exceptional ability as a reporter. She has judgment as well as ability, and is a clear and concise writer.

Superior Court Riding a Mule

In the superior court this morning the case of J. D. Wells vs. W. R. Stroupe came up. The testimony was varied. It seems that the death of a mule, exchanged for a broken-down plug horse with the distemper was the cause of action. The testimony was that the man who sold the mule to the last owner valued him at only about $30, though the owner of the departed animal valued him at $200, when he was dead and gone.

The animal was taken to the blacksmith shop of Mr. W. R. Stroupe to be shod. The negro who does the shoeing for Mr. Stroupe testified that the animal, of his own free will and accord, committed suicide by butting his head against a post in a fit of unreasonable anger. When the negro tried to shoe the mule, so the testimony went, the mule backed off and charged for the post. The shock was too much for even a mule's head and constitution. He sat back on his haunches, gazed at the post in an astonished way, and then fell over, departing this land of blacksmiths and coming into the realm of North Carolina law.

On the other hand a negro who cooks just across the street, testified that she saw Mr. Stroupe hit the mule across the head with a pair of tongs. Mr. Stroupe testified that he was not near the mule at the time of the animal's decease.

When the negro who did the shoeing was asked if he had ever been in court he answered promptly, "Yes, sir!"

"Have you ever been on the chain-gang?"

"Yes, sir; fo' or five times."

Yesterday afternoon, the case of the Southern Pants Co. and the American Trust Co. vs. the Rochester German Fire Insurance Co. was decided by the jury yesterday at cure constipation, biliousness and all liver ills. Do not gripe or irritate. 25c.

noon, fixing the claim on the insurance company. The suit was for the amount of $5,000 which the plaintiffs claim is due them as the insurance on their property which was destroyed last June by fire.

The insurance company refused to honor the policy held by the plaintiff because the holdings of the pants company had been taken over by the American Trust Company, as receiver of the insolvent pants company, without giving the insurance company notice. This violated a clause in the contract between the defendant and the plaintiff, but the plaintiff claims that this violation was not enough to call for the nullification of the policy.

The jury decided in favor of the plaintiff. The case will be appealed.

Mrs. Jackson, of Augusta Dead

Miss Sallie Davidson received a telegram last night announcing the death of Mrs. J. K. Jackson, widow of Gen. J. K. Jackson, of the Confederate army. Mrs. Jackson was a cousin of the late Mrs. Baxter Springs, mother of Mrs. J. M. Scott. She was one of the most prominent and popular women of Georgia. Throughout her long life—80 years—she had been a dominant social influence in the state. She was a lifelong member of the First Presbyterian church of Augusta, and an earnest, consecrated woman.

Mrs. Jackson and Miss Davidson were devoted friends.

Surviving the deceased is one child—a son—Mr. W. H. Jackson, well known in Charlotte.
