

GLIDDEN TOUR-NO CHANGE OF SCHEDULE

Local Entertainment Committee Has Received no Notification That the Glidden Tourists Will be Delayed on Account of The Rain.

It is Likely That They Will Reach Charlotte on Schedule Time—Committee Has Been Expecting Message All Day.

The Glidden tourists, 300 strong, will arrive in the city tomorrow afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock if nothing untoward happens and the whole city will likely turn out to greet them. While the heavy rains of yesterday caught the tourists in Roanoke and caused some discussion as to whether they should continue according to schedule or wait a little while till the roads improved it is likely that they will reach Charlotte tomorrow afternoon between 4 and 5 o'clock.

The foundation for this belief is the fact that the local entertainment committee has received notification today to the effect that there will not be any delay in the program. They have been expecting all day that some announcement of change in schedule would be forthcoming, but up to 2:30 o'clock nothing of the kind had been received. The tourists reached Roanoke last night in a terrific downpour of rain and of there is any decision to wait awhile the wait will be at Roanoke, where they spent last night. The continuance or postponement of the schedule was conditioned on the report of Referee Walker, who was to make an examination of the roads this morning.

The fact that the report of delay was sent to the local entertainment committee today inclines the committee to believe that the tourists will come on to Charlotte on schedule time. The sunshine of the early morning, which has continued all day will go far toward drying up the roads and the belief, until announcement to the contrary is made, is that the tourists will reach Charlotte tomorrow afternoon according to schedule.

Leave Roanoke.

Roanoke, Va., Oct. 15.—The Glidden tourists left Roanoke at 11:45 o'clock this morning, having been delayed by bad roads south of here. Winston-Salem is the official stop tonight though the way not reach further than Martinsville, Va.

GREAT CIRCUS SEEN UNDER DIFFICULTIES

The date of Barnum & Bailey's show here in this year 1911 is worthy of a niche in the wall along with the date of President Taft's 20th of May visit—i. e. as far as weather is concerned.

Ye gods and little fishes! Was there anything odd about the experience of yesterday?

That mud! Oh, that mud! From the end of the car tracks to the fair ground gate, and from the gate to the entrance of the show!

The side walk—if it could be called such from the car line, was knee deep in mud—mud made of red clay. On thinking of it—on looking at shoes, rubbers, skirts—undershirts and over-skirts—that are entirely out of commission by reason of having been to the circus, one need not be reminded of the fact that the Yankees couldn't get to Charlotte during the war on account of the mud.

The highway is macadamized—but oh! you sidewalk and the intervening ditch! And from the gateway to the tent! Were you there? If so, when were you rescued? The mud would have been enough without the rain. The rain would have been enough without the mud, but together! Well, unless you were there you can't conceive of the height and depth of it. Visions of white shoes with red clay on it, of dresses with broad bands of red clay as a hobble; of a dripping and soaked populace.

The circus was all that the bills and readers promised. It was fine. Every performer was an artist; the animals were splendid, and splendidly kept; the exhibition was great from the grand entrance to the final act. Thousands braved the rain and waded through the river of red clay to see it.

—The Winning Widow has the boards. The sale of seats for the night performance went on sale at Hawley's today. The matinee seats will go on sale in the morning.

Long Session of Recorder's Court Many Who Came to See the Circus Yesterday Remained Over Till Morning to Tell Recorder Smith About It—Many $10 Contributions.

As an aftermath of the visit of the circus to the city yesterday Recorder D. B. Smith presided at a prolonged matinee performance today, the list of performers being the largest that the new quarters has known. White and black, youthful and decrepit, large and small, handsome and otherwise, the defendants appeared. One phrase fell from the lips of Solicitor Parker from half-past nine o'clock until nearly eleven o'clock. That phrase was: "You are charged with being drunk yesterday; how do you plead?" In a vast majority of cases the answer was the single word, "guilty."

His honor, the recorder, was in a mood to place fines that would better enable the celebrants to remember the 1911 visit of the Barnum & Bailey circus than the terrible rain and consequent mud at the show ground.

Will Harwood, white, was fined $10 and the costs. After him came John Leach, colored; John Wilson, colored; Tom Leach, colored; C. W. Matthews, white; Ephraim Alexander, white; Abram Mullis, white; Andy Houston, colored; J. D. Abernethy, white; Austin Thompson, white; John Tiger, colored; John Ross, colored; W. T. Efrid, white; all of whom paid $10 and the costs for the great luxury of getting into various stages of inebriety yesterday and planting through the rain and mud all day.

Robert Sutton, a colored hack driver, was fined $25 and costs for his drunk, which was not a plain, ordinary and unembellished drunk, but was adorned with considerable cussin' and disorder. E. A. Kirkpatrick, a Cabarrus county man, came to see the circus in his best togs and did not forget his pistol. He was having the time of his life at Independence Square when a vigilant policeman detected that he was drunk and arresting him, discovered that he had a pistol.

Postmaster John B. Spence indicted

TO MAKE YOUR HAIR SOFT, BRIGHT AND FLUFFY

(Fashion's Guide.) The reason many women find it difficult to arrange the coiffure pleasingly is because of the too-free use of wet shampoos, which make hair dull, brittle and "stringy."

One of the most pleasing things with which to cleanse the scalp of impurities and keep the hair clean, dainty and silky, is 4 ounces of either ovine root or corn meal and 4 ounces of thorax. Mix together and sprinkle a tablespoonful on the scalp, then brush thoroughly through the hair. This rids the air and scalp of dust and dandruff, and a few times using rosea to scalp and hair roots, causing the hair to grow soft, brilliant and easy to manage."
