THE BLOOM OF YOUTH TO THE AGED CHEEKS

By Associated Press Omaha, Neb., Oct. 18 .- In the battles of economic forces for supremacy, the law must be obeyed, even though it seems to favor one class as against another. This view was expressed by Attorney General Wickersham in speech before the American Prison Association here tonight. Punishment in some form, declared the attorney general, is still necessary to prevent crime. "This is especially the case," he added, "in a community and at a time, when divers economic forces are struggling with each other for the masters in the state, and where laws are enacted through the influence of one class or classes to control the action of another class who are unwilling to accept them as rules of action, because unconvinced of the wisdom or justice of the legisla tive policy which they embody. Yet a consideration of the nature of socia organisation will demonstrate the ab olute necessity of all classes of society conforming to requirements pre-scribed by the duly constituted au-thorities—however wise or unwise those regulations may appear to those trolled by them.

But within its constitutional scope, the acts of the legislature stand until repealed as the mandate of organize society, and the continued effective-ness of organized society requires that obedience to such laws be compelled."

The attorney general lengthily discussed the broad question of punishment for crime and the administration of the federal parole law.

Modern penal legislation, he said, is based on a recognition of the expediency of endeavoring to reform the criminal, and so great a stress has been laid on that feature in dealing een laid on that feature in dealing with criminals, that "we sometime forget that in order that punishment may act as a deterrent upon others it must remain in prison for life. If the lawmaking power, continued Mr. Wickersham, considers reforma-tion, conditional liberation and reinty possible in these cases, "it is diffi-cult to say on what principle the same possibility and hope of reformation, liberation and forgiveness should not be extended to one suilty of murder under circumstances not punishable by death. While there is life there should be hope. It may be far off, de-layed, a dim, distant possibility, but it would seem that that hope should be held out as a posible attainment to the meanest wretch who is allowed to live. The justice of man should aim at the perfection of divine justice, and though finite wisdom not knowing the hearts of men, may not always deal justly with offenders, yet it should not shut the gates of mercy' against the meanest of God's creatures."

Since the parole was placed in operation last autumn, the attorney general said, but one prisoner had violated his parole. The 200 prisoners who were paroled from the time the law was put into effect in the autumn of 1910 to June 30 earned nearly $22,000, whereas, if they had remained in prison, the attorney general pointed out they would have been a charge on the

Even with advancing age it is an easy matter for women to quickly regain that charming smoothness and delightful tint and youthful bloom to their age-marged or furrowed cheeks. Merely dissolve a small package of mayatone in one-half pint of witch-hasel, then freely apply this lotion to the face, neck and arms, and massage lightly until it disappears.

Continued using will gradually banish wrinkles, sallowness and blotches and give to the skin a delightful smoothness. The mayatone lotion is secothing to tender skins, and its use discourages the growth of hair or furs, and removes pimples, blackbeads and other factal blemishes. Such delightful results follow the use of the mayatone lotion that artificial aids to beauty are not required.

Whethersham expressed the belief that the parole boards should be enlarged by adding two unomicial persons selected from among prominent citizens of the locality in which the prison is situated.
