

Womens' Missionary Jubilee Opens

By Associated Press.
New Orleans, Nov. 3.—Many prominent women of the nation have arrived here to participate in the program of the Woman's Missionary Jubilee which begins here today. Among them are representatives of church denominations and missionary boards sent to carry on the work of inspiring the women of the home land. Those who arrived last night are Mrs. H. S. Prentiss Nichols, of Philadelphia, who is a native of Georgia; Mrs. Henry W. Peabody, of Beverly, Mass., who conceived the idea of a missionary jubilee; Miss Florence Miller, national secretary of the Christian woman's board of missions; Mrs. W. Eugene Sallee, a Baptist missionary to China; Miss Grace Lindley and Mrs. W. E. Norvell of the Episcopal Church; Miss Rider Journeaux, of the Southern Presbyterian Church and Miss Daisy Davis, of the Southern Methodist Church.

PET PIG INCITES FEUD

Police Chief Had to Exile It, But Politicians Step Lively Now.
Darby, Pa., Nov. 3.—War has been declared between Chief of Police Jack Quinn and the Board of Health. The entire borough is interested. It all happened about a pet pig, an 8-week-old porker, that Quinn had for several weeks—a patient of Quinn's veterinarian son, Dr. Thomas J. Quinn, who cured it of some serious infantile ailment akin to hog cholera. The elder Quinn then took charge of it, taught it several tricks and became so proud of its accomplishments that he exhibited the pig to his friends.
Now it happened that there is an ordinance against keeping pigs in the borough, which the Chief as Councilman well knew, having helped pass the measure. It is said that Chief Quinn brought the trouble on himself by challenging the Board of Health to prevent his keeping his pet.
At any rate a complaint was lodged with Charles H. Drewes, secretary of the board, and after due consideration the board decided that laws are laws and "pigs are pigs," and that no consideration should be shown to the chief of police over any ordinary citizen. An order was dispatched to Quinn by Constable Miller, ordering Quinn to get rid of the pig within five hours. A stormy scene followed between Quinn and Secretary Drewes.
Quinn gave the pig away, but last evening obtained some revenge by ordering Policeman Clark to keep cleared the post office corner at Ninth and Main streets, where the borough politicians talk things over after a hard day's work, and the corner was vacant for the first time in its history.

BANDITS HOLD UP HOTEL

Do Thorough "Wild West" Job at Sinking Springs and Escape.
Reading, Pa., Nov. 3.—In the most approved Wild West style armed bandits committed a robbery at Sinking Springs tonight and escaped.
About 5:15 o'clock two masked men entered the barroom two masked men entered the barroom of the Sinking Springs Hotel, and when Landlord J. W. Hainley leaped for a weapon instead of obeying the order "Hands up," he was knocked down. Jack Meyer was also felled when he resisted, and was robbed of $50, a gold watch and ring. Before Hainley recovered consciousness the cash drawer was robbed, and the bandits escaped on horseback, going toward Shillington. They are being pursued by State police.

WHIPPING COST SIX CENTS

Pittsburg, Nov. 3.—The jury in the case of Charles Ennis, who, through his father, James Ennis, entered a suit against Mrs. Ethel M. Curry, a school teacher of Duquesne, to recover $5,000 damages for injuries sustained when whipped, returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for 6 1/4 cents. The case was tried before Judge Cohen in common pleas court.
The Ennis boy was given a whipping by the teacher for disobedience, and some days later an abscess developed which kept him from school for a month. The parents of the boy alleged this was caused by the punishment, and the suit followed.

The Beard in Bed.
Former Senator Tom Carter, in the debate before the National Press Club, of Washington, as to whether a beard or a bald head was the greater disadvantage to a man, claimed that a beard was a wonderful help. Carter, by the way, has a beard which would make an alfalfa field look like an arid and dusty desert.
Soon after the debate, he received from one of his Montana friends, this communication:
"Dear Tom: Your speech on whippers seemed to settle all the disputed points except one. What we can't decide out here, and what we want you to tell us, is: When a man goes to bed ought he to put his beard under the covers or leave it outside?"—The Twice-a-month Popular Magazine.

Water Board Talks of Right of Way

At the regular weekly meeting of the water board the business of the evening was a discussion of the right-of-way for the pipe line that is to supply Charlotte with water from the Catawba river 12 miles away. In the majority of the cases, the demands of the landholders whose property the line is to cross are reasonable, only a sufficient amount being demanded to cover the loss of the crop from this strip of land for one season, and the privilege to make connections with the pipe line. Such demands as these the board did not object to.

In several cases the work is stopped on account of minor heirs to the property who have no power to act. The clerk of the court will be asked to appoint a guardian for the minors within the next few days that the work may go on or the difficulty will be overcome through a friendly suit for the privilege. No great difficulty is expected through this phase of the matter.

The trouble that will amount to something is that caused by an attempted holdup of the water board by a refusal to sell without an exorbitant figure. Some refuse to make a proposition and demand that the board make their proposition but make their price so high that it is out of all reason and is not considered by the water board at all.

In such cases the land will be condemned and the work will proceed. The condemnation proceedings will begin at once but the property holders have the right to carry the matter to the highest court in the land and such cases have precedence over all others. None of the property holders are expected to carry matter so far.

Mr. C. C. Moore, clerk of the court, will be asked by the board to appoint a committee of five appraisers from a list of the citizens of Mecklenburg to value the land.

The matter is to be rushed through as soon as possible that the work may begin as soon as the pipe will arrive in a few days and work is to begin as soon as possible.

The only other business of any importance was the privilege granted to the Stevens Land Company to tap the lines of the Charlotte waterworks to supply Myers Park with water. This new line is to tap an 8-inch line is not to be less than an 8-inch pipe.

The Stevens Land Company is to go ahead with the work under the supervision of the city engineer and is to pay for the work out of their own pocket, the city to reimburse them, with no interest, with the water rentals received from this new line. At the end of the payments the city will own the line.

COLLEGE STRIKE COLLAPSES.

Soph. Told by Father to Husk Corn, Hustles Back to Books.
Allentown, Pa., Nov. 3.—The strike of the Muhlenberg College sophomores is broken. Ten members went back to their studies and there is every indication that the others will speedily turn in under the wings of alma mater.

It was a sensible farmer who did more than anybody to break the strike, which started when the sophomores declined punishment for hazing the freshmen. One of the strikers went to the home of his parents in the upper end of the county and told the father, "if your sense of honor impels you to leave school, well and good, but you are not going to loaf. If you want to stay at home jump into your overalls quick and start husking corn. Unless you work, you shall not eat."

The young man did not relish tackling a 20-acre corn field and returned to Allentown and reported to the rest of the lass members that he was going to beg the faculty's pardon for his foolishness.

Among the strikers were two or three football stars, and they thought the coach and faculty, rather than see the team crippled, would back water. Instead, Coach Kelly put some new men into the positions of the strikers, whose work has been so excellent that they may be retained on the team.

FROM JOLLYTY TO SUICIDE

Woman Masher Quarrels With Young Man and Leaps into Lehigh.
—South Bethlehem, Pa., Nov. 3.—Florence Vogel, of Allentown, committed suicide by drowning in the Lehigh river here, following two unsuccessful attempts to take her life under a train. The deed is said to have followed a quarrel with Emmet McBride, of this place.

With a girl companion, named Leh, from East Catawauqua, Miss Vogel, who was 29 years of age, masqueraded last evening attired in a suit belonging to McBride. McBride was at work at the Bethlehem Steel Works and Miss Vogel called to see him last night. It was then the quarrel occurred.

After leaving McBride, the girl twice tried to throw herself under a train at Broadhead avenue, but was prevented from doing so by two young men. She then ran to the Lehigh river bridge and leaped off, 50 feet into the blackness of the night. A crew is still searching for the body.

Little Surprises.

From the Chicago Tribune.
"Mr. Swafford, here's the umbrella I borrowed of you a week or two ago."
"Yes, Mr. Rivers; this is the office. We discovered that awful mistake in the bailey. You can go back to bed."

"In cleaning up your desk this morning, Mr. Brooks, I found that diamond stickpin you lost six years ago."
"Dear Madam: Your late husband had insured his life for $5,000, but he didn't wish you to know it. Check for the amount is awaiting you at our office."

"Jack, I dreamed last night that you had overcome your bashfulness and asked me to name the day."
"Maw, I wish you'd cut my hair; I don't like the way the barber does it."

"In view of the lateness of the hour, gentlemen, there will be no more speeches."
