WEATHER BUREAU.

WILLIS L. MOORE Chief

Observations taken at 8 a.m. 75th meridian time. Isotherms or continuous lines, pass through points of equal air pressure. Isotherms, or dotted lines, pass through points of equal temperature; they will be drawn only for zero, freezing, 90 degrees and 100 degrees. Symbols indicate state of weather: ☉ clear; ☁ partly cloudy; ☂ cloudy; ☔ rain; ☎ snow; ☐ report missing. Arrows fly with the wind. First figure, minimum temperature for past 12 hours; second, 24-hour rainfall, if it equals .01 inch; third, wind velocity of 10 miles per hour or more.

THE WEATHER.

For North Carolina.

Fair and slightly colder tonight; Friday, increasing cloudiness, probably followed by rain and warmer in west portion. Northerly winds, becoming variable.

Weather Conditions.

Generally fair, and cool weather prevails over the Southern states and in the Ohio valley, as the result of high pressure over the north central states. A barometric depression is located over the eastern slope of the Rocky mountains, and is giving to that section considerably higher temperatures.

A few places in the far Northwest report wet weather, and freezing weather prevails over a large portion of the northern part of the country. Small areas of precipitation, a greater part of which have been covered by snowfall, will be noticed in the northeast, and in the northwest. The indications for Charlotte and vicinity are for fair weather tonight with slightly colder. Friday, increasing cloudiness, probably followed by rain and warmer.

The appearance of brilliant Venus together with the moon caused quite a stir in the business district of Charlotte. For the time being business was suspended and protruding heads from many office windows were "stargazing." We are informed that on account of the clearness of the Mecklenburg atmosphere that Charlotte alone was favored with this phenomenon. We certainly have a glorious country. We may be prejudiced in the matter but we are of the opinion that this beautiful Venus favored "Elizabeth Heights" with her morning smile.
