Certainly Ends Stomach Misery

A Little Diapessin Cures Heartburn, Gas, Sourness and Indigestion in Five Minutes.

You can eat anything your stomach craves without fear of indigestion or Diapessin, or that your food will ferment or sour on your stomach. If you will take a little Diapessin occasionally.

Your meals will taste good, and anything you eat will be digested; nothing can ferment or turn into acid or poison or stomach gas, which causes belching, dizziness, a feeling of fullness after eating, nausea, indigestion (like a lump of lead in stomach), biliousness, heartburn, water brash, Pain in Stomach and Intestines or other symptoms.

Headaches from the stomach are absolutely unknown where this effective remedy is used. Diapessin really does all the work of a healthy stomach. It digests your meals when your stomach can't. A single dose will digest all the food you eat and leave nothing to ferment or sour and upset the stomach.

Get a large 50-cent case of Pape's Diapessin from your druggist and start taking now and in a little while you will actually brag about your healthy, strong stomach, for you then want without the slightest discomfort or misery, and every particle of impurity and gas that is in your stomach and intestines is going to be carried away without the use of laxatives or any other assistance.

Should you at this moment be suffering from indigestion or any stomach disorder, you can surely get relief within five minutes.

Dr. Heaton is well known in his profession and prominently connected in Georgia, and he has won for his bride a cultured and beautiful young woman, she being the daughter of the late Judge John Guy Maxwell of Georgia, also a sister of Mrs. Henry Wallace Moore of this city.

HEINEMANN DECEMBER 2.

On December 2 Charlotte is to be treated to one of the finest musical events that the season affords. Through the efforts of Mrs. Minnie Wrister Smith (Virginia Loyd) Alexander Heinemann has been secured to sing before a Charlotte audience. According to the arrangements now fixed he is to sing in the Academy of Music in this city on the 4th of December. Heinemann is one of the most noted singers in this country and it was only after repeated efforts that Mrs. Smith was able to get him to sing in this city. He will make a special trip to this city from New York for the recital and after his recital here will return to that city. Later in the year he will take a trip through the South and West and it is hoped that as he passes through this section of the country he may be persuaded to give recitals at some of the other towns in the state. Just at present the matter of a return to this section is uncertain and the safest plan for those who wish to hear this great baritone is for them to hear him on December 4th.

Mrs. Smith was a pupil of Heinemann, and it is only through her that he was secured at all. The price of the tickets will be $1.50, $1.75 and 500 cents.

WOMAN'S CLUB COLUMN.

This week in club circles is one that is unusual. Not a meeting scheduled, and this is as it should be. The social affairs attendant upon the Thanksgiving week, crowd other things, and the home duties for the housewife increase, and above all, club women are pain-taking house keepers, and the family should have the usual surfeit of good things to eat on Thanksgiving SHRD-gmen(roESTAOO Thursday is the one thing that must fill her time this week.

It seems to me that the club women of Charlotte have many things for which to be thankful. One thing is, that they are being better understood. We are getting the credit for having broad vision, as above and beyond the small criticism of individuals. It is understood we are working not for self but for the cause of many—and that our field is one of co-operation. We can't get into the streets and clean them up, but we can arouse such a sentiment among our citizens that our municipal house keepers will be clean as public health demands.

The fly exhibit which is being shown is the work of the health department. This band of energetic women have supplemented the exhibit sent by the National Civic Association—by pictures and material from local sources and have put before the Charlotte public in a most interesting and telling way a splendid exhibit, and like so many other things the Woman's Club has given to the public. It is free. Of course there is a "small box" where a silver offering can be placed to help the cause of public health. This is voluntary and the exhibit is free to the public.

The department of education inaugurated their work of the season by going with the first of its planned meetings of parents and teachers to the Fourth Ward school.

Mr. L. B. Myers of the associated Charities gave us the best that could be had along the line of thought, "compulsory education." Giving us many startling thoughts into the realization that this state must have a compulsory education law that does "compel." A resolution was passed that the secretary of this department should write to the North Carolina Teachers' Association which will convene in Raleigh Nov. 30th, endorsing the efforts of this body in the part along the line which they have worked toward securing such a law, and endeavoring to go on and assuring couraging them of the interest and help of the club women of Charlotte.

At a point of attendance and interest this was a banner meeting for this department and that we can go into our schools and there meet the teachers of our children in the school room, means that the interest of the parents will surely be aroused and stimulated in our schools, and the problems that are confronting our school board, and are confronting the people of Charlotte will be a mutual interest.

With the thoughtful heart that softens towards the sorrows and deprivations of others, and that goes out in charity toward all—and that looks to God with a larger faith, I bid you enjoy the blessings that are your portion this Thanksgiving. A CLUB WOMAN.

Mr. P. C. Cathran, of Raleigh, and Mr. F. H. Cathran, of Greenwood, S. C. met in this city on business yesterday.

RAPID TRANSIT LINE TO SOUTHERN STATION

Now comes the information that the miles of street railway in the Queen City are to be extended seven more. Announcement was made recently of the plans for the extension of the present electric railway line from Elizabeth campus to the intersection of the Providence and Belt roads east of the city and through the magnificent property of the Stephen's Land Company. In fact the survey for this extension has already been made and the work of grading is well under way.

The latest, however, is that the Charlotte Rapid Transit Company, which has just completed and begun the operation of its line to the Country Club, Elizabeth College, will extend that line to the Southern station by way of Fourth street, the purpose being to follow that thoroughfare the entire distance from Elizabeth College to the Southern passenger station.

While the active contract for the work has not been signed as yet, it is learned on the best of authority that the Charlotte Transit Company is figuring with several contractors now, and it is expected that the contract will be let right away.

This will be a two-mile extension of the Rapid Transit line and will make, when completed, a line of six miles, extending from the Southern Passenger station directly to the Country Club. This will constitute a great improvement to the street railway system of the city. The line from Elizabeth College to the Country Club, a distance of four miles through some of the most beautiful landscape anywhere about the city, is already completed and the new type of storage-battery car has already been in operation for some time. Another car of the same type has been ordered, is on the way and will be here the first of the week. A 30-minute schedule will be maintained when the second car is put on a cash fare of five cents, paid on an Elizabeth-bound car, entitles the passenger to a transfer to the Rapid Transit line at Elizabeth without extra charge.

The distance from the end of the Chadwick-Hoskins line to the Country Club via the Southern Power Company's and the Rapid Transit system is about nine miles and daily it happens that a passenger makes the trip just for the sake of the ride. The spin from one of the points mentioned to the other constitutes a joy-ride that is bound to prove popular in the summer when the soda fountain loses its charm by reason of its situation within the hot, dust-laden city and the city dweller longs for a bit of fresh air. The extension of the new line to the Country Club has already been responsible for a marked increase in real estate values between the line and that point and these who watch Charlotte grow are confidently expecting that it will continue to grow in the direction of the Country Club.

The extension of the Rapid Transit line from Elizabeth to the Southern station will be made by bringing the new line into East Fourth street at or about the intersection of the Providence road and Crescent Drive. The company has already secured the franchise for the entire distance of Fourth street to the Southern station.

Mrs. J. P. Caldwell and daughter, Adelaide Pearson Caldwell, arrived home last night from Morganton, to which place they returned after the funeral of Mr. Caldwell, at Statesville. Mrs. Caldwell left Charlotte four weeks ago on her usual monthly visit to Mr. Caldwell. She did not know on leaving here that his condition had become serious, a letter notifying her of the fact having miscarried. She was at Mr. Caldwell's bedside day and night, and was with him when he passed away. Messages of condolence have come to Mrs. Caldwell from scores of friends of hers and Mr. Caldwell's throughout North Carolina and other states, each expressing tender sympathy for her and admiration for her lamented husband.

Mrs. Caldwell, who is city editor of The News, will resume her work next week.

Interurban Wants Terminal Site

(From Spartanburg Journal.)

Z. V. Taylor, president of the Charlotte Electric Railway Company, president of the Greenville Traction Company, president of the lighting companies in each of these cities and assistant to the president of the Greenville, Spartanburg & Anderson Railway, arrived in Spartanburg this morning in a private car, accompanied by his wife. He will remain in this city for week or more on important business connected with the interurban.

When seen at the office of Aug. W. Smith, one of the local directors of the Greenville, Spartanburg & Anderson Railway Mr. Taylor, talked with vigor, interest and emphasis, relative to the interurban railway.

Wants Terminal Sites. "My object here," he said, "is to secure 90-day options on terminal sites for the G. S. & A. railroad. In this connection I might say that there is more than one site, several in fact, that would prove acceptable. The question simply resolves itself into whether or not the property owners will be reasonable in their propositions to the company.

"I would be pleased to meet and confer with the property owners. I shall be in Spartanburg for a week or more, and during that time I will secure the facts and data for a complete report of the situation as to terminals and rights of way, the cost of same, etc., and will be ready to make a concise, definite report to the directors of the G. S. & A. road directly after leaving this city. The promoters of this interurban road want Spartanburg; they want come here and operate the line through the city. Of course, I could not say off-hand that the interurban was coming to Spartanburg sure thing; but the people who are promoting it are not in business for pleasure, and if my report meets with the approval of the directors, after I have made a careful study of the Spartanburg situation and submitted to the future will speak for itself."

The Road is Coming. Considerable local interest attaches to this official visit of one of the leading officials of the interurban to Spartanburg. The fact that the road has sent Mr. Taylor here to secure 90-day options for terminal sites, of itself, gives sound basis to the general belief that this city will get the interurban.

The new city council, which went into office last week, at its first meeting passed an ordinance very favorable to the railroad, and the people of Spartanburg believe that the company will accept the terms of this ordinance, which grants the company a 50-year franchise, with the condition that construction work begin within a period of 12 months' time.

The reasonable certainty that the interurban will now come will be hailed with satisfaction by the people of this city. There has been a long season of slow and inactive business, but an enterprise stupendous and colossal in its scope will quickly reinvigorate the arteries of the trade and business to a high plane.

Mr. M. O. Stiles, of Davidson College, was registered at the Central Hotel Saturday.

Mr. R. H. Williams, of Dunn, N. C., was in the city yesterday for a few hours.

Mr. G. H. Hasting, of Winston-Salem, spent several hours here yesterday.
