TRUST "BUSTING" MAYOR NOW SELLING POULTRY.

Indianapolis Executive Puts Milk-Fed Chickens and Turkeys on Market at Cost.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 27.—Milk-fed chickens and turkeys at cost proved a tempting offer to hundreds of Indianapolis people who lined up at the city market place to take advantage of Mayor Shank's latest move to reduce the cost of living. The Mayor had erected a large cage in front of the building in which the turkeys and milk-fed chickens were displayed for sale. The Mayor appeared at 8 o'clock to conduct the sale himself, but before that hour the sale birds had been sold. It seemed that every one wanted a chicken or a turkey.

The mayor had 500 birds ready for the experiment, and was doubtful whether they would sell in one day. The disappointing feature to the mayor and the public was that 500 were not sufficient to meet one-fourth of the demand. Milk-fed chickens sold at from 16 to 19 cents a pound. Ordinary corn-fed, but plump looking fowls, went at 14 to 15 cents a pound. Turkeys were sold at 18 cents a pound.

While the sale was going on, regular dealers on the market-place posted notices that they had reduced their prices to meet those of the municipal market stand. The mayor's experiment brought the prices down an average of 5 cents a pound. A delegation of poultry dealers waited on the mayor and tried to convince him that he was losing money, but he waved them aside.

"I guess I know whether or not this experiment is losing money," he said. In the crowd demanding the chickens and turkeys were scores of laboring men and women who have not been able to buy poultry because of the high prices. The mayor has gone so far with his experiment that he has been obliged to send out more scouts for turkeys and chickens for Thanksgiving. He took orders for several hundred birds to be provided at cost by Tuesday.

Death of Mr. Bigham -- Funeral To-day

Mr. J. Wallace Bigham died last night at 8:15 o'clock at his home, 1,014 North Davidson street, after an illness of two weeks from typhoid fever. He was 65 years old, and was born and reared in Berryhill township. He resided for many years in Sharon township, but came to Charlotte some eight or ten years ago and has made his home here since.

He is survived by four children, two sons and two daughters, who are Mr. James Bigham, of this city; Mr. Calvin Bigham, of Sumter, S. C.; Miss Florence Bigham, of this city, and Mrs. Robert Sparrow, of Steel Creek. He is also survived by two brothers, Messrs. Jasper and Hamilton Bigham, and by two sisters, Miss Martha Bigham and Mrs. T. J. Byrum, all of the county.

The funeral will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock at Mulberry Presbyterian church, several miles from the city and will be conducted by the pastor of the church. The interment will be in the churchyard at that place.

The deceased was a Confederate soldier, having gone out with the youthful volunteers who were enrolled at the close of the war. He was a man of excellent character, unassuming in manner, honest and upright in his dealings with his fellow man.

Stereoptican Lecture Enjoyed

The story of Jesus attracts a large audience in North Charlotte.

Mr. David L. Probert, of the Y. M. C. A., who gave his lecture and Bible reading at the North Charlotte Baptist church last night was greeted by a large attendance and the picture display and Bible readings was very greatly enjoyed. It was an innovation from the regular service and proved most instructive and helpful as a realistic exhibition of the scenes recorded in the life of Jesus. Some of the pictures are exceptionally fine and are most beautiful and pleasing to the eye. It was prophesied to the sight as well as to the ear.

All Presbyterians Hear Mr. Rolston

Last night at the First Presbyterian church all the Presbyterian churches of this city held a joint service in honor of Rev. D. R. Rolston. It has been their custom for years among the Presbyterian churches of this city that when a new Presbyterian pastor takes charge that all other Presbyterian churches shall adjourn to hear him preach on the evening of the first Sunday of his pastorate.

SOROSIS WITH MRS. HOOK.

The Sorosis will meet Thursday with Mrs. C. C. Hook at her home on East Morehead street at 3:30 o'clock.

Did Worlds Of Good

When Life was a Burden, This Woman's Friend Came to Give Her Prompt Relief.

Escondido, Ky.—Mrs. Frank L. Blake, of this place, says: "I was so weak from womanly troubles, that I couldn't do my work, or even walk around.

My back hurt so bad I could hardly be up, and I suffered with pains in my left side, most of the time. Nothing did me any good until I tried Cardui, the woman's tonic. I am certainly well pleased with what it has done for me.

I have taken three bottles, and it has done me worlds of good. Cardui has strengthened me, and made me feel better in every way. I can do my work with perfect ease. I sincerely believe if other suffering women will only give Cardui a trial, it will help them as it helped me. I know by experience that it is the best remedy for sick and run-down women."

There is a reason why Cardui has been so uniformly successful, during the past fifty years, in relieving all forms of womanly weakness and disease. It acts with Nature—not against her. Cardui goes to the weak spots, and helps to make them strong, thus hastening a cure, in a natural, easy way. Try it.

which was granted to the enemies of religion in Rome, especially the iniquitous body, as he refers to them, which opposed the existence of God and the Christian order.

Plus X then dealt with persecution of the church in Portugal by the same body and expressed the hope that the Portuguese nation, boasting of centuries of attachment to the church, would react against her enemy.

The evils of modernism and nationalism were counterbalanced the Pope continued, everywhere by the love of the holy eucharist as were proved by the congresses held in Cologne, London, Montreal and Madrid. Spain especially had, he said, demonstrated her true religious sentiment. He ended with the hope that God would preserve the Pope from the evil threatening her peace and happiness.

The creation of the cardinals and the confirmation by his holiness of the archbishops and bishops already appointed by brief followed. In all instances the procedure was the same. "The name of each chosen for honor was read, the Pope inquiring of the cardinals in turn whether they approved the nomination. Assent was given by raising their red skull caps.

Her Hair Grew

That's Why a Thankful Woman Recommends Parisian Sage. R. H. Jordan & Co. will sell you a fifty-cent bottle of PARISIAN SAGE and guarantee it to banish dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp, or money back. It's a delightful hair dressing that makes hair lustrous and fascinating.

"In the spring I was recovering from a severe case of erysipelas, which left me virtually bald on the front of my head and next to my ears. The hair kept coming out rapidly and nothing I used stopped my getting entirely bald, until I used two bottles of PARISIAN SAGE. This tonic made my hair start to growing, and in fact, it has a good fair amount of hair, falling out.

It is with pleasure that I give a public recommendation to PARISIAN SAGE, which I know is a wonder." Mrs. Ella Gilchrist, W. Pitt St., Bedford, Pa.

Civics Department Provides Rest Room

The civics department of the Woman's Club has secured the use of the vacant store room at No. 203 West Trade street and during the month of December, and probably longer, it will be used as a "rest room." It will be thoroughly renovated and made attractive and cozy. It is the purpose to provide a place where visitors in the city and particularly country people, can drop in and rest a while free from molestation as they go on their rounds shopping.

The room has been secured by the civics department through the kindness of the members of the board of trustees of the Masonic Temple Association. The need of such an institution is recognized by everyone who knows conditions in the city and has given the matter any thought, and this step by the civics department will meet with universal recommendation.

Joint Thanksgiving Services. It was announced yesterday that joint services of the First and Second Presbyterian churches will be held on Thanksgiving morning at the Second church. The services will begin at 11 o'clock.

DOROTHY MAXINE CAMPBELL.

We learn this morning with unrelieved sorrow that the happy home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Campbell has been invaded by the dread summons that awaits us all, and their beautiful little daughter of six summers has been snatched from the arms that ached to hold her. In the home, little Dorothy was a model child, in the Sunday school the leader of her class, in the hearts of those who knew her the idol of their dreams, and many were the tear-dimmed eyes that followed her to her long rest beneath the willow.

Little Dorothy would have celebrated her sixth birthday on the 13th of December had it not been Divine decree that her sun should set sooner; but the freshly blown flowers beneath which we lay her to sleep, ere the first frost, are autumn's solemn sigh. In the unfaded beauty of her young girlhood, she was called for the Garden of God. There are songs of sorrow, breaking hearts, and gloomy graves, only that the Master may give a new song, a new heart, and an everlasting life; and when the twilight shall come to us all, as come it must, and the evening song, and the evening star,—when the dark vessel whose sails are filling for each one of us, shall cross the bar, I ask no more than we may meet her where she is. A FRIEND. Sunday, Nov. 26, 1911.

FIRE-YELLING PARROT RIGHT.

But Its Cry Had Been Wrong So Often That It Perished. Pittsburgh, Nov. 27.—"Fire, fire, fire!" yelled the parrot of Carl Bittner, on the North Side. The alarm was heard by persons passing; but the parrot had often yelled "fire" when there were no flames in sight. Finally, smoke was seen coming from the house, and an alarm was sent in. The firemen found the parrot dead, suffocated by smoke.
