Social and Personal

By MRS. J. P. CALDWELL

THE DAY'S QUOTATIONS.

Scorn at first, makes after love the more. —Two Gentlemen of Verona. Where much is given, much shall be required. There are never privileges to enjoy without corresponding duties to fulfill in return. —Phillips Brooks. It is a comedy fashion to be glad! Joy is the grace we say to God. —Jean Ingelow.

Much of our strength of character lies in our ability to recognize our responsibilities and to meet them worthily. It is not enough to say that we let it go by default, and then to regret when our highest moral development to shoulder our responsibilities with a will and to press forward, not with the vain hope of shedding them when the opportunity offers, but with the one definite purpose of so developing our moral and physical strength as to carry them with greater ease. Then, and not until then, will we have learned something of the wonderful secret of God's wisdom in laying upon our shoulders the burdens He has chosen for us. —Charleston News and Courier.

BRILLIANT EVENT IN THE CAPITAL

Mr. William Alexander Graham, a son of Chief Justice Walter Clark, is to be married Wednesday to Miss Pearl Chadwick Heck. Of the union of these two prominent young people the News and Observer says: "A wedding that will be of great interest in North Carolina to a large circle of friends will take place in Raleigh on Wednesday evening in the First Baptist church at 9 o'clock when Mr. William Alexander Graham Clark of Washington, D. C., a son of Chief Justice Walter Clark, will receive as his bride Miss Pearl Chadwick Heck, daughter of Mrs. Jonathan McGee Heck of Raleigh. After the wedding there will be a reception given at the home of the bride's mother to the bridal party, relatives and immediate friends.

The out-of-town guests who arrive this week to be present at the wedding are: Mr. and Mrs. George C. Heck of New York; Miss Eugene Gray Heck and Mrs. C. Alphonse Smith of the University of Virginia; Miss Avis Grand of Richmond, Va.; Miss Mary Foy of Greensboro; Mrs. Lucius Cary of Richmond, Va.; Miss Carrie Graham, Mr. Ernest Erwin, Mr. Joe Boush B. Taylor, Miss Mattie Taylor, of Richmond, Va.; and Mrs. Ernest Erwin of Morganton. Already in the city are: Mr. and Mrs. Jones Fuller, Mr. John Clark of Durham, Mr. David Clark of Charlotte, Mr. Thorne Clark of South Carolina, Mr. Will Harris of Pawtucket, R. I.; Mr. David MacKenzie Clark, Mr. Joseph Graham, Mr. Erwin, and Mr. Joe Boushall. Mr. Thomas Boushall and others.

There have been a number of social events given in honor of Miss Heck by friends in this city in the past two weeks. On Tuesday afternoon Mrs. A. B. Andrews, Jr., will give a tea in honor of Miss Pearl C. Heck and Mrs. George C. Heck of New York. The groom is a brother of Mr. David Clark of this city. The latter will attend the wedding.

RETURNED YESTERDAY.

Mrs. T. H. Miller and children who have been visiting relatives in Monroe for the past week returned yesterday.

LITERATURE DEPARTMENT.

As noted in The Sunday News the literary Department of the Woman's Club will meet tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock with Mrs. E. L. Mason at her home on Elizabeth Heights.

MR. AND MRS. DULA RETURN.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dula returned yesterday morning for New York. Mrs. Dula spent about six weeks "in town" with her sister, Mrs. John C. Leslie. Mr. Dula joined her a week or ten days ago. Mr. and Mrs. Leslie have a beautiful home near Riverside Drive. Their lovely young daughter, Miss Emma Ross Leslie, will graduate in June, and the event is to be a memorable in the family circle. Miss Leslie has been attending a French school in New York.

SISTER ILL.

Mrs. W. E. Younts left this morning for Woodwards, S. C., to see her sister, Mrs. Mattie Brice, who is quite sick. Mrs. Brice is well known in Charlotte.

MR. AND MRS. CHATHAM HOME.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Chatham, of Elkin, who have been in New York for several weeks, returned home yesterday. Mr. Chatham is a brother of Mr. Paul Chatham, of this city.

BACK TO BROADWAY.

Mrs. Eldred Griffith has returned to New York after spending a month in the city.

MRS. LESTER IS HOME.

Mrs. W. P. Lester returned yesterday from Atlanta, where she has been for a month with relatives. Mrs. Lester is the wife of Mr. Lester, city ticket agent for the Southern Railroad.

MEET TONIGHT.

The Young People's Missionary Society of Tryon Street Methodist church will meet this evening at 8 o'clock in the primary Sunday school room. Officers will be elected for the year. Miss Muri Pickard is one of the leading spirits in the society.

MRS. TILLET HOSTESS.

Mrs. C. W. Tillet entertained very delightfully Saturday at a sewing party complimentary to Miss Effie McRae, of Laurinburg. A four-course lunch was served.

TODAY'S VISITORS.

Mesdames C. E. Adams, S. H. Clinton and E. W. Gillam, of Gastonia, are spending the day in the city shopping.

BRIEFS.

Cold as Christmas today. —Heinemann concert at Academy tonight. —Mr. Egbert Shaw, who has spent the Thanksgiving holidays with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. A. R. Shaw, returned to Davidson this morning. —Mr. J. M. Harry has returned to the Selwyn from the Sanatorium. He has been ill for several weeks, but has convalesced so far as to warrant his leaving the hospital. —Judge Adams and Solicitor Wilson returned to the city last night. They are at the Central hotel—their usual stopping place. —The "Beauregard," the new boarding house conducted by Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Summerrow, on North Church street, opened today most auspiciously. —Miss Mamie Bays left this morning for Winston-Salem, where she will attend the Baptist State Convention to be held in that city this week. She will report the proceedings for several daily papers. —Prof. W. B. Adams, one of the foremost colored editors of the South, will speak at the A. M. E. church on South Brevard street tonight at 8:30 o'clock. His subject will be "The Future of the Negro Youth." Prof. Adams is editor of the Brunswick Appeal, of Brunswick, Ga.

Old Books To Read

Mr. J. Glenn Smith, of the Co-Operative Press, has on display on West Trade street a collection of some of the rarest books. He has one book, the second edition of MacLavel's "T. Livius" and "Prince," printed in London in 1674. Mr. Smith has also a very interesting old medical book, "Anatomy of the Human Body," by James Kiell, M. D., printed in London in 1771. This is a copy of the 15th edition and printed in Latin. He also has a collection of rare North Carolina books that are very interesting.

Women's Jubilee of Foreign Missions

Celebration of the 50th Anniversary of Organized Work, by Women, for Foreign Missions to Be Held Here on The 13th. The churchmen women of the city who are interested in missions, and therefore in the Woman's Jubilee of Foreign Missions, which is being celebrated this year, have arranged an interesting program for the local celebration of the great event, which the jubilee commemorates. Attractive speakers have been secured, and the day will be one for which, metaphorically speaking, the white stone will be erected in commemoration. It is fifty years ago this year since the first woman's society for foreign missions was organized. The jubilee in commemoration of this event, which marked an epoch in the religious world, was thought of by Mrs. Peabody. She is attending the jubilee celebrations whenever possible. It is hoped she will be able to attend the Charlotte jubilee. The program that will commemorate in Charlotte, the 50-years-of work by women in this great cause, which obeys the divine command, "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel," is as follows: Woman's Jubilee of Foreign Missions, December 13th. Morning, 11 o'clock, at First Presbyterian church. Devotional exercises led by Mrs. E. P. Allan. Address of welcome, by Rev. D. H. Roilston. Worker's Conference, address by Miss Davis, of Asheville, and Miss Miller, of Louisville, Ky. Luncheon at Masonic Temple. Invocation by Miss Lily Long. Toast mistress, Mrs. Harris Lalinckrodt. Toasts. "The Woman of Yesterday"—Mrs. E. P. Allan. "The Woman of Tomorrow"—Mrs.

Mr. Carson's Suffering Relieved

Judge Armistead Burwell has returned from Wilmington, where he went to see his son-in-law, Mr. R. C. Carson, who was accidentally shot by a small boy while out turkey hunting. Mr. Carson is suffering with a pain in his right cheek, an abscess having formed. The knife had been used, and Mr. Carson had been relieved of pain. He was shot in the face, and not in the back of his head and neck, as reported. It is more than probable that he and Mrs. Carson will return home as soon as he is able to travel.

Mr. Stanton on Golden Wedding Day Sets Genealogists Busy.

Plainfield, Conn., Dec. 24.—The golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Avery A. Stanton at Eiken Hill, town of Sterling, was celebrated recently. Mr. Stanton, who was born in Preston seventy-nine years ago, is a direct descendant of Gen. Thomas Stanton, who came here from England in the early seventies and through the work of professional genealogists can directly trace more than 6,000 relatives. Avery Stanton married Caroline Gallop of Voluntown, Dec. 1, fifty years ago. They have lived all the time in Sterling, where Mr. Stanton has held every office in the gift of his townsmen. Mr. and Mrs. Stanton received hundreds of friends and many valuable presents.

He Obeyed the Order.

"Look here, what are you doing there?" The man who had asked the question seemed excited; but the man to whom it was addressed was not disturbed in the least. He was dumping a load of dirt in a vacant lot. This was perfectly apparent to the questioner, too. So that the question was clearly unnecessary as a means of obtaining information. This idea must have impressed itself upon the man at work for he went on with his task. The other man became more excited at this non-attention and asked the question again in a louder tone than before. Then the workman replied: "I am unloading some dirt, sir." "But don't you see that sign?" demanded the angry man, pointing to a notice on a post not ten feet away. "Yes, sir." "What does it say?" "It says, 'Place no dirt here by order of John Smith.' read the man. "Well, sir," the angry man went on, "I am John Smith, the owner of that lot." "Glad to know you, sir." "None of your imprudence, sir, or I will have you arrested. Now, I wish to know why you dump dirt on my lot where there is a notice distinctly forbidding it." "I beg your pardon, Mr. Smith, but that notice does not forbid me from dumping dirt there." "I don't see it? What does it say, then? I'd like to know, sir." "Well, Mr. Smith, I've read it to you once; but I will read it again if you wish. It says, 'Place no dirt here by order of John Smith,' and I have placed none there by order of John Smith. I work for a man named Robinson." At this the man mounted his cart and drove away, leaving Mr. Smith very thoughtful. The next day the sign was properly punctuated.—Detroit Free Press.

Mr. Thos. Gaither III

The many friends of Mr. Thos. Gaither will regret to know that he is confined to bed. He is at his home on West Fifth street. Mr. Gaither recently had a severe tiege with a carbuncle on his face. He underwent an operation, and was able to be on the street, and was hopeful of being entirely relieved of his trouble. He is now suffering with his throat—is scarcely able to swallow. His daughter, Mrs. Robt. Anderson, has come to be with him.

Ellen Terry Dramatic Club of Eliz. College

The Ellen Terry Dramatic Club of Elizabeth College, have announced as their annual play this year "Mr. Bob." This organization is composed of those members of the student body who are interested in dramatics and elocution. For past several years the club has given a play annually. It has always been well seen. This year the club promises to give the public a play which will surpass in excellence that of any previous year. The play this year will be given December 11th at 8:30 p. m., in the college auditorium. The play is given under the auspices of the Diatolean Literary Society.

Xmas Box For Orphan Children

Tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock the ladies of the Home Mission and Pastors' Aid Society of the Second Presbyterian church will pack a Christmas box for the orphans of the mountain school at Cranberry, N. C. As there are children of all ages, any articles of clothing as well as candy, nuts and toys will be appreciated. Any who may wish to contribute to this cause will send packages to the church not later than 10 o'clock tomorrow.

Xmas Holiday Rates and Days of Sale

Out-of-town folks who are wanting to do their Christmas shopping in Charlotte are not waiting for the special rates on the railways, judging from the number of them on the streets and in the stores. They may be interested, however, to know that the Christmas holiday rates on the Southern will be effective on the following dates: December 15, 16 and 17; December 20 to 25; December 30 and 31. The Christmas rate will be 4 cents a mile for the round trip.

Associated Charities Report For Nov.

The monthly report of the secretary of the Associated Charities shows 85 families under care during November. Of these 65 were old cases and 19 new ones. Twenty-four of these families needed material assistance. Most of the others needed various kinds of help more than money. Of nine homeless men found begging on the street and sent to the office, only one was found to be in need of financial assistance. He was helped to reach his wife and sick child at Columbia. The other eight were offered work which in seven cases was refused. The eighth case has not been heard from yet. In addition to this the tuberculosis nurse has had 35 cases of tuberculosis under care. In a great many of these cases medicine and disinfectants have been supplied. Milk and eggs have been supplied in two cases.
