

AGRICULTURE AND HORTICULTURE AT 'FRISCO FAIR

The largest and most comprehensive display of agricultural and horticultural interests that the world has ever known will be one of the chief features of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, which will open at San Francisco on Saturday, Feb. 20, 1915, to commemorate the achievement of the Panama canal.

Under the classification of exhibits which has just been completed, the department of agriculture has been given ample space for a record-breaking display and the horticulture department with a building of its own, which has just been completed, the general effect of the exposition which, when completed, will present the appearance of a vast garden.

The allied departments of agriculture and horticulture at the Panama-Pacific Exposition will excel in their comprehensiveness anything that has ever been attempted at previous expositions. The displays and exhibits, covering an area of more than thirty acres, will include every possible phase of the agricultural and horticultural industry and will serve as a gigantic school to farmers, land owners, gardeners and mechanics as well as even to the laymen whose sole object in visiting the exposition is one of purely human interest.

More than forty acres of land on the exposition site will be occupied by agricultural, horticultural and live stock interests.

In addition to the multifarious attractions to the agriculturist from all parts of the world, a special feature of the exposition which will be of immense educational value to the farmer and land economist, will be the congresses and conventions which are being arranged for the discussion of agricultural and land problems.

An international congress on agricultural education has been suggested and will probably be followed by conferences on the preservation of human life and a country life conference which have already been assured from the department of agriculture at Washington.

Ten acres will be occupied by the palace of agriculture, the exhibits ranging over every possible department of the agricultural industry.

Of the most important transportation groups in the general agricultural classification, is that devoted to agricultural implements and farm machinery. No less than seven distinct classes will be required, for the exhibits relative to this subject will be displayed in the agricultural building instead of in a separate building as in previous expositions.

Food products, being placed naturally under the head of agriculture, will however have a separate exhibit on a splendid scale and in the group of animal food products, the dairy exhibits will play an important part.

There will be separate classes of milk and cream, fresh or condensed; sterilized milk butter and cheese in all forms, eggs, albuminoid food and preparations, dairy fittings and appliances for the preparation, transportation, preservation and distribution and delivery of milk for the supply of cities and towns.

Thirteen other groups, subdivided into many classes, complete the food products exhibit.

Twenty-one acres of the exposition site will be devoted to the live stock exhibit which will be conducted on a scale never before attempted in expositions. This section will have a peculiar interest to dairymen from all over the world, not only because of the international exhibits of thoroughbred cattle which are now being arranged for, but on account of the special features in breed milking contests.

The agricultural department of the Panama-Pacific Exposition has appropriated $175,000 for special trophies. The competitions will be open to the world and will take part in the rivalry for honors.

Additional prizes are offered by the various breeders' associations.

The horticulture exhibit will stand in the Panama-Pacific Exposition as something different from the place it has had in previous expositions because of the advantages offered by the wonderful climate of California which permits of perennial foliage and bloom.

The palace of horticulture, which will be surrounded by a glass dome, 150 feet higher, will occupy an area of about five acres. This crystal palace will contain an exhibit of the finest displays of newly created fruits, trees, flowers and shrubs, the planting of which is made possible all the year round in San Francisco.

Special accommodation is being made for the exhibit of tropical plants and side by side with that section of the horticultural exhibit there will be a display of temperate trees and fresh fruits, thus affording a comparison by which the visitor may be able to note the direct effect of soil, climate and altitude upon the size and flavor of most every variety of horticultural growth.

The practical application of preservation methods will be exhibited in the horticultural department. There will also be shown the latest mechanical devices, spraying, watering and heating apparatus, ladders, knives and pruners as well as the general architectural ornamentation of gardens and landscape gardening.

A trophy in the form of a beautiful cup, valued at $1,000 will be offered by the exposition board of directors to the creator of the finest rose exhibited in the exposition. The rose will be given a special name and will serve to commemorate the unusual and record-breaking display at San Francisco in 1915.

In addition to the actual horticultural display, the exposition grounds themselves will present in their entirety a vast garden of floral beauty.

BREATHE HYOMEI FOR CATARRH

What to Breathe. Hardly a day passes without confirmation of the old adage, "Man's Life is but a breath of air."

Dust laden with disease breeding germs is inhaled by all who use the streets, but disease is not developed unless the germs find conditions suitable for their lodgment and growth.

With people having catarrh there is an ideal culture medium for these germs. The irritated membrane and weakened tissues is a hot-bed where germs thrive and multiply.

If you have catarrh or any trouble of the breathing organs causing stopped-up head, sniffles or morning choking, you should use the easiest, simplest and quickest remedy, the direct method of Hyomei. This wonderful medication is taken in with the air you breathe, directly following and destroying all germs that have been inhaled, repairing any damage they may have worked and so healing and vitalizing the tissues as to render catarrh and germ infection no longer possible.

The unusual way in which druggists sell Hyomei dispel all doubt as to its curative properties. R. H. Jordan & Co. offers to refund the price to anyone whom it fails to benefit. You do not risk a cent in testing the healing virtues of this breath of life. Complete Outfit $1.00. Extra bottles of Hyomei Liquid if later needed 50 cents.

Blames Leisure For Life's Evils

A new theory of life as we find it and labor as it interweaves itself into and brightens our daily existence, was expressed by Dr. Jessica E. Peixoto, Ph.D., assistant professor of sociology of the University of California. In the auditorium of the Y. M. C. A. she delivered her unusually interesting lecture on "New Standards of Life and Labor," says the San Francisco Chronicle.

Bringing her arguments out clearly and forcibly, she impressed her listeners with the fact that we are treating most sociological problems with methods which have not changed in more than a hundred years—that in a roundabout way and with the expenditure of vast sums of money we are attaining results which by systematic work could be obtained far easier and cheaper.

In her opening remarks Dr. Peixoto touched lightly upon the various classes which make up our world—the pauper, the "decently prosperous" and those financially above them.

"Not more than 10 years ago," said the lecturer, "it was considered a great disadvantage to be wealthy. The poor man was the blessed, and the better poverty stricken he was the better satisfied he was with his advantage; here and in the hereafter. The wealthy man's chance, on the other hand, both in this world and the next, was considered most unstable."

"What we of the 20th century want in this world more than either poverty or wealth, I believe, is 'decent prosperity.' Labor and recreation then intermingle and we feel a real joy in life."

Labor was idealized by the speaker. Not only is it necessary for all of us, she said, but its value is coming to be recognized more and more each year. In this connection she said:

"Labor with us has become a creed, not alone as a moral but as a natural necessity, and just as naturally necessary as labor is leisure, properly applied."

"Generations ago the people were taught that to labor long and unceasingly was the only policy. Men and women labored throughout the day to keep away from temptation, and their leisure hours were passed in sleeping for the same purpose. One could not sin in sleep, they reasoned. They believed that with leisure came temptation, and they refrained from leisure, therefore, as dangerous to morals."

Diopeles Social System. "Today we are beginning to believe differently. We have come to recognize the true value of labor and we have organized and methodized it. And we are just beginning to organize the play hour also."

"The primitive impulses have heretofore shaped our play hour. We have passed it in overeating and overdrinking. We have lost sight almost entirely of the secondary though vital impulses of mimicry and laughter."

Digressing from the topic, Dr. Peixoto spoke of the pauper class and its extermination by the betterment of the condition of its members. She deplored the social system which filled orphan asylums with but a few real orphans.

"In our dreams of prosperity, development and right work for all, we must watch ourselves to see what we do not repeat our many misguided efforts of the past," she said. "We must watch our leisure hours; and above all must we watch labor, to treat as sick persons those who are undeveloped and lacking in the world's advantages."

COUGHS AND CONSUMPTION

Coughs and colds, when neglected, always lead to serious trouble of the lungs. The wisest thing to do when you have a cold that troubles you is to get a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery. You will get relief from the first dose, and finally the cough will disappear. O. H. Brown, of Muscadine, Ala., writes: "My wife was down in bed with an obstinate cough, and I honestly believe had it not been for Dr. King's New Discovery, she would not be living today." Known for forty-three years as the best remedy for coughs and colds. Price 50c and $1.00. Recommended by W. L. Hand & Co., Druggists.

HOME LIFE

This is the sweetest and the best. When we build homes we're creating happiness and a patriotic citizenship so essential to the stability of republican institutions.

THIS IS THE MISSION of the Mutual Building & Loan, and by the spirit and through channels of this type a magnificent population does credit to the Queen City.

WITH ALL HER FAULTS we love her still and more fondly as the days go by. I would not exchange our people for any other, even those of the proudest and wealthiest of our great cities.

THIS OLD SHIP is getting bigger and better and broader with each quarterly series, and I'm happy, yes very happy, that we can make it contribute to the joys and peace and brighter prospects of Mollie and little Sue. Let sunshine and good will fill your hearts and all will be well.

OUR APRIL SERIES extends a hearty hand and invites you into its happy family. Sunny Jim and bright-eyed Nell are members of our household. Join us and do it now.
