Financial Aid Available To Students

Students from low-income background may now have a chance at financial aid, according to Miss Mildred English, Director of Student Affairs. The University has been granted $7,682 for use during the fall semester by the College Work Study Program under the Economic Opportunity Grant.

Employment opportunities on and off campus are provided for deserving students through this program. Students are allowed to work 15 hours per week during school terms and 40 hours per week during the summer vacation. Most of the jobs available would be in the Atkins Library or in the Charlotte Public Library.

At the present time, five students are taking part in the program. Miss English states that there are sufficient funds for 37 additional persons.

There is still time to receive aid for the fall semester. Any student carrying at least 12 semester hours and who is in good standing may apply by contacting Miss English and filling out a Financial Aid Application.

Married students qualify only if their parents and the parents of their spouses are considered to be included in the low-income bracket.

Lemmon's Acting Saves Flick

Take a hero so heroic that his teeth and eyes sparkle in the sunlight. Add a most dastardly, scheming villain with a curling mustache. Throw in a pinch of beauty, a sweet innocent leading lady. Combine in a old-time comedy with lots of slapstick and scenes of derring-do. What do you come up with? "The Great Race," starring Tony Curtis, Natalie Wood, and Jack Lemmon, currently playing at the Park Terrace.

This satire sometimes does not succeed through the fault of overexaggeration. However, Jack Lemmon's acting saves the movie in the few spots where it slips into utter banality. Lemmon's acting throughout the whole picture is superb characterization and reaches heights of grandeur in the scenes where he also plays the tipsy, effeminate, crown prince of a mythical country in Europe.

The Great Leslie (Tony Curtis), Professor Fate (Jack Lemmon) and Maggie DuBois (Natalie Wood) are engaged in a car race from New York to Paris. Sound impossible? Nothing is impossible in this movie. Wait until you see their method for crossing over to Siberia. This is perhaps the funniest episode of the picture.

Next in preference I would take the pie-throwing episode a la Soupy Sales. This is a bit overplayed but nonetheless good for quite a few belly laughs.

Miss Wood's dresses are worth the price of admission alone, at least for the women. The other actors are dressed according to their nature. Mr. Curtis never wears anything but spotless white, whereas, Mr. Lemmon, arch-villain that he is, is always in black.

Peter Falk, Jack Lemmon's second banana deserves a good deal of praise. He is a very capable actor and plays his part of dummy to the hilt. His facial expressions, as he nonchalantly wrecks havoc on Lemmon, are priceless.

Gilliam, McGinty Will Lead Cage Team

By JIMMY PRICE

With four returnees from last seasons Dixie Intercollegiate Conference champions, the Forty-niners appear to be in good shape to strike gold again during the 1965-66 season.

Leading the returnees will be two starters from last year's team — Tommy Gilliam, a sophomore forward (6'5") who averaged 15 points per game and was voted "rookie of the year" in the DIAC, and Wally McGinty, a 6'4" forward who averaged 12 points per game during last season. Also returning will be Robbie Snipes who saw action as a reserve last year.

The Forty-niners will be hampered somewhat by the first semester intelligibility of Bobby Lemmonds, a 6'7" center whom they were depending on for rebounding strength this year.

Coach Harvey Murphy who replaces Irv Edelman, last year's DIAC "coach of the year," feels that the conference will be much stronger this year with Lynchburg College and St. Andrews very much improved.

"We have got a good chance of repeating as conference champions, the speed is there, and the shooting is pretty good," Murphy said. "The boys have been working very hard, but defense is our biggest question mark."

Among the new faces Murphy is counting on are Jerry Anthony, Ronnie Payne, Jerry Lawrence, and Greg Canady. Lawrence, a 6'2" guard was voted most valuable player at Belmont High School last year and promises to be an outstanding college performer.

McGINTY GILLIAM

With only two starters from last season's team, and a group of unproved freshmen, Murphy feels that there may be some early season depth and experience problems. Probable starters this year will be McGinty, Gilliam, Anthony, Lawrence, and Snipes.

The Forty-niners open the season in the Tip-Off Classic Tournament in St. Petersburg, Florida November 26-27 where they will be seeking to regain the title that they lost last season to the host team, Florida Presbyterian College.
