

Short-Led Bowlers Finish Season, Tourney

On March 5 the UNC-C bowling team journeyed to Charleston, S.C. for the DIAC bowling tournament, held at the Triangle Lanes. The College of Charleston was host for the affair.

The Forty Niners, hampered by the loss of one of their regular bowlers, finished fourth during the regular season DIAC competition.

The team was comprised of Jackie Haney, Janice Mitchell, Harry Griffin, Bob Schaeffer, Jim Short, and Mitch Borden the team captain. The Forty Niners are coached by Harvey Murphy.

Prior to the beginning of the tournament play awards, in the form of keys, were made to the top five bowlers in the conference. Jim Short, who has led the UNC-C team to some very impressive scores this season, led the entire conference this season with a hot 183 point per game average. Bob Schaeffer, second high averager on the team was fourth in the conference with a consistent 177 average.

Tourney team play began with a hot St. Andrew's team downing all opposition to take first place followed by the College of Charleston and UNC-C. In the doubles event St. Andrews again took first place by virtue of a 638 series thrown by Burchill. The Forty Niner team of Short and Schaeffer grabbed second place edging out the third place team, also from UNC-C, Janice Mitchell and Mitch Borden by a scant 8 pins. In the single's competition the best finish the forty niners could manage was Mitch Borden's third place.

The consistent bowling of Jim Short claimed for him the biggest trophy of the day — the All-Events. This is the highest individual award a bowler can earn during the tournament. Short maintained an impressive 193 average to beat out teammate Borden for the trophy.

Dean Donald Mackay, who has been the faculty advisor for the team this season, will be let with only three of the original seven starters for next year's team. Both Bob Schaeffer and Jim Short will graduate this spring, and Janice Mitchell will be moving to the west coast in the near future. Dean Mackay expressed his satisfaction with the team's performance during the year and looks forward to even better season next year despite the losses.

—Letters To The Editor— Support Asked For S.P.

Dear Editor:

At 11:45 a.m. this morning, the Student Party held its Spring Nominating Convention, to nominate officers of the Student Government of U.N.C.-C.

As Chairman of the Student Party, I called the convention to order and proceeded to call for old business. There was no old business, so we moved on to the new issues at hand. After much discussion, the Student Party adopted a platform, with only a small revision necessary. From this point on, we realized that we wouldn't have sufficient time to take care of all of the nominations at hand.

A motion was made to cancel all previous nominations to Class Officer positions, and proceed with the other business at hand. The motion was clearly passed, and plans were discussed for a future convention.

There seem to be many people who disagree with this policy. To you, I would like to ask that you make yourself heard, through

Big Time Athletics Needed Here

On Thursday of last week a group composed of students and professors, and administration people met in the Union to discuss "Big Time Athletics" and whether or not big time athletics was detrimental to the school and the educational program.

Accepting a definition of Big Time athletics by Dr. John Robbins as being an all out emphasis on recruiting top notch players, coaches, for one or more of the major sports such as basketball or football. The discussion group proceeded on an informal basis to investigate this area.

Points brought out during the discussion were that —Often big time athletics brings abuses which are detrimental to the educational program but that these are the exceptions rather than the rule.

—Basketball would be the easiest and cheapest program to start.

—Big time athletics would serve as a unifying element for the student body and would aid other activities in this respect.

—Since athletic budgets are separated from other general funds athletics would not drain money from the academic fields.

—To become a real participant in big time athletics a school would have to give athletic scholarships based on athletic needs.

—The object of any athletic program, big or small, is to win.

The discussion was informal and was attended by about a dozen students in addition to Dr.'s Witherspoon, Robbin, Elias, and Matthews, and Dean Mackay.

attendance and strong participation in the next Student Party Convention. You, the members of the Student Party, hold the future of our organization in your hands. Whatever the Party is, you made it so. Our new chairman, Mitch Borden, needs your support. Please do our school, and yourselves the favor of helping him with his job. Only through your support and cooperation, were we able to be as successful as we have been.

Let's continue the forward progress, and keep Student Government on the right track. The next Student Party Convention will be announced through the usual lines, by your new Chairman, and Vice Chairman, as soon as possible.

Thank you again for your support. Your continued cooperation will be greatly appreciated. I'll be looking forward to seeing the next Student Party Convention be the best yet.

Around The Campus

Dance In Library Friday Night

The Library Auditorium will be the scene of dancing feet Friday night as students rock to the music of the Shirelles and the Zodiacs.

The two vocal groups have something in common other than being well known rock and roll performers. Both groups were "discovered" at high school talent shows and launched successful careers as a result.

The Shirelles (Shirley Alston, Doris Kenner, Beverley Lee, and Micki Harris) have three records to their credit which have sold over one million each. The Zodiacs have one.

Admission for UNC-C students will be one dollar and for non-students two dollars. Dress will be casual.

A REPRESENTATIVE from the Balfour Company will be on Campus in the Bookstore from 9:00 to 2:00 on March 21. Students who have completed 75 hours may order a ring with a
