

Tennis Team Gets First Victory

The tennis team experienced the sweet taste of victory for the first time this year when it bested North Carolina Wesleyan 5 to 4 at Independence Park in Charlotte on Friday, April 15.

Jay Currin, Scott Treadwell, and Art Meyer formed the vanguard for the Forty-niners by winning their singles matches. Charlotte clicked in doubles matches as well with the teams of Art Meyer and Jay Currin and Robert Burns and Jim Crawford emerging victorious from the dusty clay courts.

On the following afternoon,

UNC-C plunged back into the depths of defeat, losing to Lynchburg College by a narrow margin of 5-4. Currin, Treadwell, and Meyer again sparked the locals by winning their singles matches. Treadwell and Meyer worked nicely as a team and came out ahead of their doubles opponents.

The tennis match against North Carolina Methodist scheduled for Thursday, April 21, in Fayetteville was cancelled due to rain.

Charlotte's weekend split made its overall record read one win against five losses.

Golfers Lose Twice In Rocky Mount Match

The Forty-niners fell to defeat twice in a triangle golf match at Rocky Mount Thursday, April 21. Charlotte lost to North Carolina Wesleyan 15½ to 2½ and to St. Andrews 11½-6½.

N.C. Wesleyan, playing on its home fairways, received a tremendous performance from its first five men. Their number two man fired a one under 71 and he was backed up by scores of 75, 76 and 77.

Charlotte, playing with alternates Jimmy James and Sam Rankin substituting for Rick Holt and Johnny Cole, was led by David Cotter against Wesleyan. Cotter captured two and one half points from his man.

Rush Shall paced the team in the St. Andrews match with three points. He was followed by Sam Rankin with ½ point.

The double loss brought the golf team's record to 4-3 in the DIAC and 5-5 overall.

HAVE FUN WORKING IN EUROPE

WORK IN EUROPE

Grand Duchy of Luxembourg, Adventurous students now have an opportunity to work in Europe and earn as much as $400 a month. Among thousands of available jobs, most of which require neither previous experience nor knowledge of a foreign language, are resort work, sales work, hospital work, farm work, and camp counseling.

Wages and working conditions are the same as those of the Europeans with whom the young Americans work. To encourage working in Europe the American Student Information Service (ASIS) is awarding travel grants ranging from $250 and up to all job applicants.

Interested students may obtain the ASIS 36-page booklet containing every job category available in Europe as well as wages, working conditions and photographs of Americans on the job in Europe by sending $2 (for the booklet, handling and air mail postage) to Dept. XI, ASIS, 22 Ave. de la Liberté, Luxembourg City, Grand Duchy of Luxembourg. The booklet also includes job and travel grant applications.

Baptist U. Plans Are Discussed

Representing UNC-C at the State Baptist Student Union Spring Convention at Gardner-Webb College April 15-17 were Paula Miller and Peggy Maynard.

At this convention, discussion sessions in which students discussed ways to form new campus Baptist Student Unions were held. From these sessions UNC-C representatives brought back some ideas concerning how a student religious group may be formed.

Interest concerning the formation of a Baptist Student Union on the UNC-C campus has been expressed. The second meeting to discuss the formation of such an organization is to be held on Wednesday, April 27 at 12:30 p.m. in U-209. All interested students should contact Dr. Witherspoon or Peggy Maynard, or attend this meeting.

Since students other than Baptists have expressed interest in the formation of some sort of religious organization on campus, anyone who has this interest is also urged to attend this meeting.

After organizing at the end of this school year, the Religious Organization on Campus hopes to begin Fall semester with a full schedule of activities planned.
