

THE CAROLINA JOURNAL

Student Publication Of The University Of North Carolina At Charlotte

Volume 1

CHARLOTTE, N. C., WEDNESDAY, MAY 4, 1966

Number 21

Officers Sworn In; 10 Students Honored

By PAT REID

Seven newly elected student officers were installed and ten students were honored at the annual Honor and Awards Convocation last Wednesday at 11:30 in the Atkins Library auditorium.

"I do solemnly swear that I will faithfully execute the duties of my office, and I will to the best of my ability, preserve, protect and abide by, the Constitution of the Student Government of the UNC-C."

This is the oath that our new Student Body and Union Officers took last Wednesday at the Honors and Awards Convention. In her opening remarks at the Convention, Bonnie Cone reminded us that "The first year for the University of North Carolina at Charlotte is drawing to a close. It has been a year of learning new ways to do things with a new constitution and new by-laws. We are indebted to Gus Psoadakakis who has led us in this most outstanding year."

As his last official act, Gus administered the oath of office to Tim Britton, our new President. Mr. Britton, upon accepting the Presidency, made a plea to the students to give the school the support and spirit it will need in the coming year to make it an even more successful one. If Bud Stokely, as Vice President, and Martha Caton as Secretary, and Sue Garrett as Treasurer get the support and help from the students in their work, this next year can be one of the best for the University.

Mr. Stovall administered the oath of office to Frank Jones (Chairman), Nelson Lemmond (Vice Chairman), Tish Schenck

(Secretary), and Phyllis Henline (Treasurer) — but not before he got them to promise three things. He made them promise to put their academics before their government work, should a conflict arise. Next he made them promise to involve as many of their peers in their work as possible, and last, he made them promise that come next spring, they would have some candidates lined up to run against them again.

Ten awards were won by members of our student body. Dawn Fisher won the Chemistry award; Trenton E. Wilson, the Math award; Van Wesley Bell, the Physics award; James L. Short, the James W. Grey award; Betty Ann Craig, the Charlotte Panhellenic award; Bill Billups, the Bonnie E. Cone award; Shirley Carpenter and Doris Weddington, the Education award; and Celia Meyer and Rosalie Shumate, the National Conference of Christians and Jews award. Also twenty-seven of our students have been selected to be named in Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

"How do you measure the
Continued On Page Four

The New Administration Building Is Now Completed
Photo By Robert Pliner

Administration's Home Is Finished

By SALLY HAGOOD

The administrative staff of UNC-C will finally have a permanent home. After using spare classrooms and empty high school offices for 17 years, their very own Administration Building will be opened on May 2.

The new building, designed by A. G. Odell, Jr. and Associates, cost approximately $575,000. The cost of the building was greatly reduced by recessing the lower floors and projecting the top floors on the extremely hilly site. The contour of the site also necessitated the "monumental steps" which connect the main campus and the parking area behind the Union.

Chancellor Colvard's office is one of the most impressive rooms in the building. Two walls are paneled, a third is covered by a natural color drape and the fourth wall is made of burlap-style vinyl. The carpet is a deep moss green tweed.

Dr. Colvard's suite contains his office, a conference room, a private rest room and a kitchenette.

Dr. Cone, Mr. Batchelor, and Dean Wahab will also have offices on the top floor. The business office will occupy the majority of the remaining space on this floor.

A very important bonus that comes with the new building is an up to date telephone system. The new switchboard will enable persons on campus to place outside calls and calls to other parts of the campus by dialing. Previously all calls had to go through the operator. The new system will also include direct lines to the Chapel Hill, Greensboro and Raleigh campuses.

Fred Wolfe Talks About Brother Tom

Fred Wolfe, last surviving member of North Carolina author Thomas Wolfe's immediate family, appeared with LeGette Blythe, writer in residence here, and talked about his brother, Thomas. The talk was in room C-220 of the Liberal Arts Complex at 11:30 a.m. Monday, May 2.

Mr. Wolfe and Mr. Blythe have appeared together at several campuses in the Carolinas. Mr. Wolfe helped Mr. Blythe with the writing of the book, Thomas Wolfe and His Family.

Mr. Blythe attended UNC-CH with Thomas Wolfe and says that Fred is the family member most like Thomas in manner and speech.

Fred Wolfe is a graduate of Georgia Tech and is a former district representative of Foremost Dairies. He is now retired and makes his home in Spartanburg.

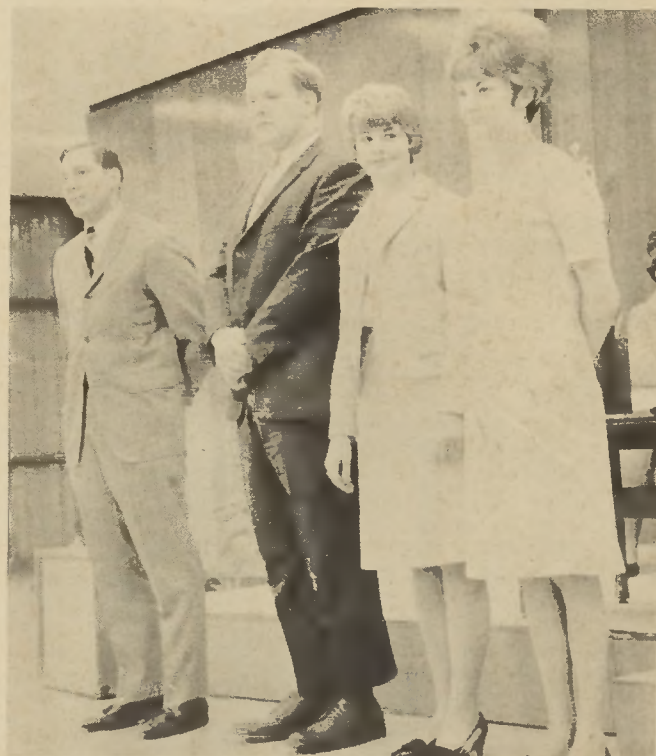

Fred has been identified as the character "Luke" in Look Homeward Angel.

FRED WOLFE

Jim Short Accepts One Of Two Awards Which He Received.
Photo By Robert Pliner

Union Officers (l to r) Frank Jones, Nelson Lemond, Tish Schenck, and Phyllis Henline. Line Up Before The Student Body.
Photo By Robert Pliner

Ibsen Play To Be Held At Davidson

Henrik Ibsen's angry play, AN ENEMY OF THE PEOPLE, will be the third and final production of the Davidson College Drama Department. The play adapted for the American Stage by Arthur Miller, who wrote DEATH OF A SALESMAN and AFTER THE FALL, will be presented Thursday and Friday, May 5 and 6, at 8:15 p.m. and Saturday, May 7, at 7:30 p.m. All three performances will be held in Hodson Hall, Cunningham Fine Arts Building, on the Davidson campus. The Box Office opens on May 2.

Although written in 1882, this play about a man who stands up against a whole community, for what he knows is right, is timely in a world constantly in controversy.

The production is under the direction of Rupert T. Barber Jr., Director of Drama at Davidson.

Reservations may be made for
Continued On Page Four