Parking Lot Gets Confusion-Calmer

BY LIBBY HOLSHOUSER

A year ago, the parking lot was not paved. In the fall and early winter when the rains came, so did muddy tires and cars. Even shoes got muddy walking from the car to the school. Then the nice, new floors in the school got muddy.

In the later winter, the snows came and the parking lot became an accident trap. Cars skidded on the paved road, true; but, they stuck in the slush of an unpaved parking lot, too. Backs were sprained lifting cars out of that slush.

In the early spring the winds came and dried up the parking lot. Cars got dusty. Shoes got dusty--hard rocks in the lot tore into shoe soles.

In the late spring and summer, the hot sun came, and so did the heavy, noisy machines to pave the parking lot. Wet tar got on shoes and school floors and rugs, and furniture. Noise from machines pounded out the seconds of time to tests being given in C Building.

Today, the parking lot is not only paved, but marked with distinct parking lines, as well as arrows which denote a perimeter lane. New rules have been established regarding methods for parking a car. These rules are expected to keep traffic congestion and confusion to a minimum and also provide for a safer walk from the parking lot to the classroom buildings.

The area at the first lane serves as a traffic and parking lane. All

Low Enrollment Causes Money Shortage Ordeal

BY SALLY HAGOOD

The student Legislature is again faced with the ordeal of approving the budgets for the various organizations on campus. When the budgets were first approved last summer, the University expected an enrollment of 1,850. Now that the first tallies are in, we find ourselves with 1,678 students.

This means that the Student Government Association is short about $4,000 in Student Activities Fees. Each organization has been asked by Larry Garner, Finance Committee Chairman, to submit minimum budgets for the 1966-67 year. These budgets will be discussed at the September 19 meeting.

Mr. Britton notified the Legislature of the dates for the Freshman Elections. Nominations will be taken from October 12 through the 18th and the campaigning will run from the 19th to the 25th.

An assembly is scheduled for October 26 in the Union Ballroom to hear campaign speeches by the Freshmen running for Class Officers. The voting for Day Students will be on the 26th, 27th and the 28th. Night Students vote separately for eight Representatives on the nights of the 26th and 27th.

Students who wish to run for Night Representatives must have a 2.0 overall, be presently taking 3 hours and have already completed 3 hours at UNC-C. Those qualified to vote must be taking the majority of their classes after 6:00.

It was mentioned at the August 15 meeting that the Night Students were concerned over the lack of higher level courses offered at night. The President reported that this situation had been brought to the attention of Dr. Cone.

Larry Garner was officially recognized for his fine job of running FAC this year. He in turn thanked all the students, faculty and Administration helped to make registration so successful.

The next Student Legislature meeting will be held on September 19 at 7:45 and all students are welcome to attend.

Buses Travel To And From Campus

Public bus transportation to and from campus is again available to students with transportation problems, the office of student affairs has announced.

The route to and from campus is as follows:

From the intersection of Trade and Tryon Streets along East Trade Street and Elizabeth Avenue to the intersection of Elizabeth Avenue and Hawthorne Lane at Presbyterian Hospital; then over Hawthorne Lane to Central Avenue; up Central Avenue to The Plaza; then on The Plaza to 36th Street; from 36th Street to Highway 29; Highway 29 to N. C. Highway 49; and from Highway 49 to the campus.

The fare from Independence Square to the city limits is 20 cents and from the city limits to the campus it is an additional 10 cents. Thus the total cost from the square to the campus, one way, is 30 cents.

The charge for persons boarding a University bus between the city limits and the campus is 20 cents.

The bus schedule follows:

Buses will leave the square for the campus, Monday through Friday at 7:45 a.m. and 12:15 p.m. Monday through Thursday additional buses will depart from the same point at 3:45 p.m., 5:20 p.m., and at 6:50 p.m. In addition to these buses, on Fridays only there will be an extra departure at 3:15 p.m.

All buses will arrive on campus 30 minutes after the original departure from the square.

Buses will leave the campus for Independence Square, Monday through Friday, at 8:25 p.m. and 1:10 p.m. Additional buses on Monday through Thursday will leave the campus at 4:20 p.m., 6:10 p.m., and 7:35 p.m. The extra bus on Fridays will leave the campus at 4:05 p.m.

Youth Poetry Meeting Held

BY MARY MORGAN

The North Carolina Poetry Society Youth Division met on campus in the University Union, September 17. Main event of the meeting was a panel discussion on the composition of poetry and on poems submitted to the panel.

Panel members included Dr. Howard Hanson, Mrs. Sallie Nixon, President of the N. C. Poetry Society, Mrs. Emily Councilman of Burlington, and Professor Paul Newman of Queens College. Dr. Hanson also served as speaker for the event.

Following the morning meeting, a luncheon was served in the Union cafeteria.

The Youth Division is a section of the N. C. Poetry Society designed for interested students on the senior high school and college lines.

Journal Promotes "Name The Swans" Contest

During the recent "Open House" for freshmen and their relatives, somebody's sweet little sister gained command of the attention of the FAC member, who wishes to remain anonymous, by jumping up and down on his toes and jerking his tie until his face turned crimson.

"Hey Mr. Fac," she exclaimed, "You know those two big ol' swans down in that lake?"

The FAC man had to admit that he knew them when he saw them, although he had never met them.

"Well," she asked, "What's their names?"

The FAC member was stumped. Naturally, he gave her the famous Tonight-Show-shrug and mumbled, "I dunno."

He felt terrible about this. You know, here he was supposed to be helpful and answer all types of contrived questions that the sneaky tourers might ask, such as "How many square feet of space in the rest rooms?" and the like, and he wasn't even able to answer a little girl's innocent inquiry.

He felt so bad that he vowed he would punish himself by not attending the FAC party.

The JOURNAL heard of this and figured that was too much punishment for any man. We didn't know the names of the swans either, so we checked around and found out that they, indeed, do not have names as yet.

The FAC man felt alot better about the whole thing when he was told this fact. Just ask anybody at the party how much better he felt.

The JOURNAL decided not to let matters stand as they were, however. No sir, we're going to have a contest to name those swans.

Any student may enter the "Name The Swans" contest by filling out an official entry blank at the Union information desk and dropping it into the box which will be nearby. A student may enter as many times as he or she wishes.

According to reliable sources, the swans are supposed to be mates. That means that one is a male and one is a female, right? So keep that in mind when thinking of names.

The prize to be awarded to the winner of the "Name The Swans" contest is two free tickets to see the Bitter End Singers in Ovens Auditorium on Sunday, October 2.

Mr. Brenton Steele, Program Director of the Union will judge the contest since he is making the tickets available to the JOURNAL. Besides, he knows as much about the web-footed-friends as anybody.
