Guy & Weston Vie For Frosh Top Job

BY SANDY CAUDLE

Two candidates are contending for the office of President of the Freshman Class. David Guy represents the University Party, and running independently is Bucky Weston.

David Guy, born in Long Island, New York, now makes his home in Bear Poplar, North Carolina. While attending West Rowan High School David won many honors. He received a West Point nomination, a Ford Foundation award for imaginative and creative work in chemistry, and the Curtiss Magazine Salesmanship Award for initiative. David was also a member of the Audio-Visual and Science Clubs. In addition, he was the treasurer of his church youth group.

David, whose major is mechanical engineering, had very definite reasons for applying to UNC-C. He explained, "UNC-C is a new university with new ideas. It already has a fine reputation in the state, as well as great potential for the future."

Between school and a part-time job, David still tries to find time for sports. He enjoys hunting, fishing, boxing, and physical fitness training.

In high school, David had a

Rotarian Club First Of Its Kind In World

A service club connected with the Rotarians, the first of its type on the campus of a four-year campus, is forming here. It stems from the Interact Clubs in various high schools in this area.

The club now has a membership of approximately 16 male students and Rotarian Charles Grier of Charlotte is working with the boys to help get started.

According to Rotarians, it is hoped that other similar college and university clubs will spring out of the experiment here. Rotarians would like someday to have an international organization of such service clubs.

Club member Joe Biron said the club's constitution has been submitted to the legislature and its passage is pending.

The club will meet today to elect officers.

"The club needs members," said Biron, "And all interested males are invited to attend the meeting."

complete course in Parliamentary procedure, a requirement for anyone wishing to run for a political office there. Furthermore, he has always taken an interest in politics and current events.

David states his reasons for running for President of the Freshman Class as follows.

"I believe that every student should take an active part in the student government at one time or another in his university career. I am interested in student government and politics in general, and so when approached by some of my friends to run for president, I agreed. And - well - here I am."

Bucky Weston (a psychology major) is also a candidate for the presidency, but without any party affiliation.

Although born in Charleston, South Carolina, Bucky feels that New Orleans, Louisiana is his home. There he attended East Jefferson High School, whose student body consisted of 1900 boys. Bucky participated in both basketball and football. (Now he is a member of UNC-C's varsity basketball team.) He was secretary of the Delta Alpha Kappa Fraternity, and was voted the most athletic in the fraternity. Bucky also attended Pelican Boys State.

Vice president of the Chess Club, Bucky is an outstanding chess player. He was not only Number 1 on his team at East Jefferson, but he also ranked fourth in the city of New Orleans.

Last February, Bucky moved to Charlotte and attended West Mecklenburg for one semester. He had originally planned to go to either Louisiana State University or Tulane University; however, the move led him to decide on UNC-C.

Bucky, a Lutheran, has held several offices in his Church youth groups. Among these are vice president and Social Actions Chairman.

When asked why he is running for President of the Freshman Class, Bucky replied, "I feel that many aspects of the University could be improved, and I want to have a part in making UNC-C a better university."

Both presidential candidates and the vice-presidential candidate, Charlie Brown, will speak during the Freshman Assembly at 11:30 a. m., Wednesday, October 26, in the University Ballroom.

Commissioners Pledge Campus To Get Water

BY GAYLE WATTS

Mecklenburg County Commissioners have assured that UNC-C will get city water, regardless of the success of failure of a $5 million bond election, planned for January.

These bonds would be self-liquidating since they would be paid for by the users. "They would not cost the tax payers anything," Chairman Sam T. Atkinson Jr. said.

"Even if we have to put a line out to the University with tax money, we're going to have to do it," said Mr. Atkinson.

The commissioners' sense of urgency is two-fold. They feel that, without city water running to the campus, UNC-C has little hope of getting a $20 million capital improvement program through the legislature. Also, a city water line along U. S. 29 is desired for industrial purposes, particularly for a proposed management center for the Collins and Aikman textile firm, which will border University property.

Of the three proposals originally reported to the City Council by W. M. Franklin, superintendent of the Water Department, plans have been adopted for a 20" main along Highway 29 from Owen Blvd.

Careers Meet To Be At UNC

"Careers for Carolina", a conference on public service career opportunities in federal, state, and local government, sponsored by the student government of UNC - CH and The Institute of Government, will be held on the UNC - CH campus, October 28, starting at 1:30 p.m.

By hearing and questioning career public servants, students participating in the program may gain insight into job opportunities open to him.

Students interested are asked to contact Dean MacKay immediately.

On October 17, the City Council authorized the extension of a city water main from Eastway Drive down Highway 29 to Owen Blvd., outside city limits. This 24" main would be 1.5 miles long, and the cost is estimated at $168,000. It would end at the water tank where the county's 20" line would join it and take water along Highway 29 to the University.

United Appeal Day Marked By Ellis

BY SALLY HAGOOD

Dr. Ellis addressed the Legislature on Monday, October 17, concerning the United Appeal. He has been appointed the U. A. representative for this campus to the community. Dr. Ellis mentioned that 43 charitable organizations are maintained by U. A. and that 97¢ of every dollar collected is turned over to these organizations. October 26 will be United Appeal Day on campus.

Dr. Ellis also explained that the new committee consisting of the Class Presidents, Student Body President, Dean Wahab and himself would be concerned only with academic problems of the students.

Mr. Britton reported that the Consolidated Universities were taking a united stand for exams before Christmas. This idea was rejected last year by the Board of Trustees. There has also been proposed action against resuming classes on January 2.

Carolina has passed legislation allowing all students of the Consolidated University System to use their I. D.'s as admission to all Graham Memorial events. Student I. D.'s will not be honored for athletic events.

The Annual Constitution was approved and the Pep Club Constitution was presented for consideration. This constitution will be voted on at the next meeting on October 31, 1966.

Marilyn Pearce is one of the nurses who will be wearing her green uniform while collecting for the United Appeal.

Fabulous 5 Will Emit Tones

BY CAROL HAYWOOD

Bob Collins and the Fabulous Five have appeared before student bodies at Chapel Hill, Raleigh, and Greensboro. Now they are about to emit their musical tones for the students here.

Sally Hagood's Social Committee has big plans for the Halloween Dance in the cafeteria on Friday, October 28. Tickets for this dance will be $1.00 for UNC-C couples and $3.00 for outside couples.

Admission tokens will not only allow the students to hear and dance to the music of the Fabulous Five, but will also permit the students to view the art handiwork of the Social Committee in their efforts to turn the cafeteria into a Halloween fantasy.

By the way, members of the Social Committee at the door who are checking student identification cards will not expect to see ghosts and goblins appear, but students in casual dress.

All students are expected to make a showing sometime between 9 and 1 for the Halloween Dance with the Fabulous Five, because the insurance of future dances depends on the success of every dance held.
