

Kinsey SCL Hears Macy Report On France Trip

By FRANK SASSER

By RODNEY SMITH

Yes, the controversial Kinsey Report on American sexual behavior and attitudes has finally passed the popularity test -- someone has been kind enough to "requisition" the Atkins' Library's copy. Of course, we realize that one might simply wish to "borrow" such a volume without letting the world know just what he's reading, and we hope that this is the case here. It would not be very considerate for an individual to attempt to add this book to his own private collection. In any case, when you finish getting turned on, how about turning in the book.

WHO'S WHO Nominee

For the third year, the University has nominated candidates for inclusion in WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES, and in all cases the nominations of this University have been accepted by this publication.

The nominees are selected on basis of scholarship, citizenship, participation, and leadership in academic and extra-curricular activities, service to school and promise of future usefulness to society. Not every nominee excels in each area, but each taken into consideration.

October 25th-27th for all candidates. Freshman elections will begin at 1:00 p. m. on Wednesday 25th immediately following the campaign speeches, and the polls will close at 4:00 p.m. On Thursday 26th and Friday 27th the polls will be open from 8:30 a.m. until 4:00 p.m. Students will be able to vote at two different locations. One poll will be just inside the Union's main entrance.

Last Wednesday Dr. Macy, professor of French, spoke at the Senior Classical League meeting about his last summer's trip to France. In a carefully planned trip in which he and his wife promised not to get involved with relatives it was found that everything cannot be planned on. The weather is one thing that cannot be predicted. In a season when rain was expected there was no rain in Paris for a month.

After going through customs with no inspection Dr. Macy remarked to his wife, "Isn't it a pity we only brought two cartons of cigarettes."

The Macys had to readjust their eyes to smaller more economical cars zooming along the speed limitless streets. Another thing they had to get used to was the mini-skirted fashion-conscious Parisians. Young girls and even middle aged women were wearing miniskirts much shorter than they are worn here, and "... many of them did not have anything to brag about or display.

Dr. Macy reports that American tourism was down slightly in Western Europe last summer because of higher prices and a lack of congeniality in the hotels and dining rooms.

An ordered restoration of Paris is not taking place. Beautiful old buildings are getting a face lifting. This creates a contrast, however, with other old buildings. The owners of these buildings have been ordered to clean up their property to make it blend with the restored edifices.

Paris, with a population of almost 3,000,000 is confined to an area only nine miles wide in any direction. Satellite cities are being built to make more room for people. The limited amount of space causes difficulties. Now the American style of supermarket has been employed with one variation. Because only small amount of space can be used for the building, each department is often on a different floor. For example, a housewife may buy meats on the fourth floor and cereal on the first floor of a grocery store.

Dr. Macy recalled visiting the Louvre in the month in which 2,000,000 people visited it to see the exhibit of treasures from the tomb of Tutenhamen, a New Kingdom pharaoh of ancient Egypt.

Dr. Macy talked with some Frenchmen about DeGaulle and his wishes that French Quebec become independent.
