'Wee' Humor, Dance Show Today

Harvey E. Ritch

Campbell, Ritch To Perform Scottish Program Here

Harvey E. Ritch Pipe Major of the Charlotte Caledonian Pipe Band presents a variety of Scottish airs and marches along with some popular American tunes. Ritch also spices his program with some "wee" humor in a thick brogue. Miss Carolyn Campbell, Scottish highland dance expert will accompany the Pipe Major with some lively steps to the stirring sound of the great highland bagpipe.

Ritch has been playing the bagpipes only two years and learned, he says, after a fashion, here in Charlotte. Ritch and Miss Campbell have presented their unique program all over the state and even in Georgia receiving an enthusiastic reception each time.

Anyone interested in learning to play the bagpipe and joining the Charlotte Caledonian Pipe Band should contact Mr. Ritch at 366-7493. A new class for beginners will begin soon and Mr. Ritch said the band is interested in adding more members. There are currently 20 members in the band. Those interested in Scottish band drumming are welcome also.

The Charlotte Caledonian Pipe Band will be one of the three official bands at the Grandfather Mountain Highland Games this summer having played at the games for the first time last year. The band is made up of people from the Charlotte area, Concord, Rock Hill, Gastonia and one piper lives in Asheville. The first public performance of the band was in September 1966 and since then they have performed in many parades and on local television a number of times.

County, University May Jointly Build New Plant

The University has announced that it will put nearly $212,000 into a major sewage treatment plant proposed to be built as a joint effort of this campus and the county.

According to Public Relations Director Ken Sanford, the University must use this specifically appropriated funds in one of two ways: in a joint effort with the county as mentioned above, or in expansion of the present sewage treatment plant.

The two treatment plants now in use, which are owned by John Crosland Co. and the University, would more than likely continue to function if the proposed plant were to be built.

The entire $212,000 would not be available for use toward the plant as some of it will be necessary to build lines to whatever plant is decided upon.

"We are saying in effect to the county," says Ken Batchelor, University business manager, "please tell us what your plans are with respect to the timing and size of your facility, and we shall approach the Advisory Budget Commission to see if we could put part of our funds into the cooperative project."

According to Edgar Jones, engineer for A. G. Odell and Associates, the present treatment plant of 170,000 gallons would be overloaded when the dormitories are completed.

The proposed treatment plant would serve the University, the research park and residential areas in the Mallard Creek section.

Legislature Views New Mascot

by CAROL HAYWOOD

Three Senior Representative positions are vacant as a result of reports given at the January 29 Student Legislature meeting. Miss Sandra Brantley's position is vacant because she has completed her studies at UNC-C; Mrs. Dianne Hargett Robertson felt compelled to resign her position because of a last semester of student teaching. Miss Nita Brown did not enroll for the Spring Semester; therefore, her position is vacant.

The resignation of Mrs. Robertson also left the Chairmanship of the Ways and Means Committee vacant. Louise Napolitano was elected Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee.

John Gaither, President of the Student Body, showed the legislators a mascot for UNC-C designed by Jack Pentec.

Two Constitutions were approved by the Legislature. The Biology Club Constitution was granted a charter. The Constitution of the Eta Omega Chapter of the Alpha Kappa Psi Fraternity was granted full approval by the legislators.

Dean MacKay reported a significant step forward in faculty-student relations. He stated that the Student Activities Committee is ready for student members. Heretofore, no students have been included on faculty committees. The proposal of the Student Activities Committee calls for these three voting members: one person elected by the Publications Board, the Vice-Chairman of the Union, and the Chairman of the Student Affairs Committee.

month as the Green Garter presents The Grimm Brothers during the week of February 19-24.

Each of the performers in this unique trio contributes a fresh vitality as they aptly satirize many of America's institutions: presidents, vice-presidents, suburbs, and war. Their parodies range from movies and television to politics and music.

In 1959, the Grimm Brothers began performing at Grinnell College. After four years of campus entertaining, each of the three, John Karraker, Jim Hansen, and Jim Fisher, went on to graduate school.

However, all three maintained their interest in performing, and, in 1965, deaf to the dire warnings of family and friends, they decided to embark upon a professional career in entertainment. They opened with a two-week stand in Chicago at Mother Blue's - and were held over for six weeks. All Chicago reviewers and Variety predicted a promising future.

Since then, they have played numerous clubs and colleges, including the Checkmate (Detroit), It's Here (Chicago), the University of Illinois, and Cornell College.

This month's Green Garter promises a refreshing approach to American life and people. A combination of humor, good food, and unusual atmosphere awaits those who attend the February Green Garter.
