

Original Prints For Sale Feb. 29

Interested area residents will have an opportunity to examine and purchase original prints by modern and old master artists next Thursday. A sales representative from the Ferdinand Roten Galleries of Baltimore, Maryland, Mr. Anthony G. Marsiglia, will be at UNC at Charlotte-Union from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Thursday, February 29, 1968.

500 original etchings, lithographs and woodcuts by such artists as Picasso, Chagall, Lautrec, Renoir, Roualt, Goya, Piranesi, Beskin, and many others. There will also be a selection of outstanding manuscript pages from works of the 13th-15th centuries.

Established in 1932 and now one of the largest American print dealers, Roten Galleries has been sending representatives to show their original graphic art collections to museums, colleges, and collectors for many years.

One of the Gallery's special interests is the work of Kaethe Kollwitz (1867-1945), widely regarded as art history's most accomplished woman artist. The collection to be shown here next Thursday, includes many examples of her restrikes of the artist's early etchings.

Original prints are impressions on fine paper taken from plates, woodblocks or lithograph stones prepared by the artist and hand-printed by him or under his supervision. No photo-mechanical process is employed as in reproductions of paintings, etc. Original prints are usually limited in number and often the modern print is signed by the artist. Prices for items of the collection to be displayed range from $5.00 to $2,000 with the majority in the under-$100 range. All works are for sale and purchases may be charged or paid for over a three-month period. However, visitors to the exhibition are under no obligation to purchase any of the works to be shown.

New Constitution Reduces Number Of Representatives From Five To Three

writing a new one was to eliminate patchwork which several years of amendments have made of the old one.

Billups explained, "We realize that the coming of dormitories and other circumstances may change things but until that time we need a workable constitution."

There are, however, a few major changes in the proposed document. They include the limiting of the number of representatives from each class from five to three and making the positions of secretary and treasurer of the student body appointive rather than elective.

Gus Psomodakis, former student body president and present judicial committee chairman, explained the changes with aid from Billups.

Psomodakis gave two reasons for reducing the representative number from five to three. "First," he said, "five is too much because several from each class are lost often due to low grades."

"The smaller number makes positions more competitive, as well," he said. "When fewer positions are at stake, people running will be more qualified," he added.

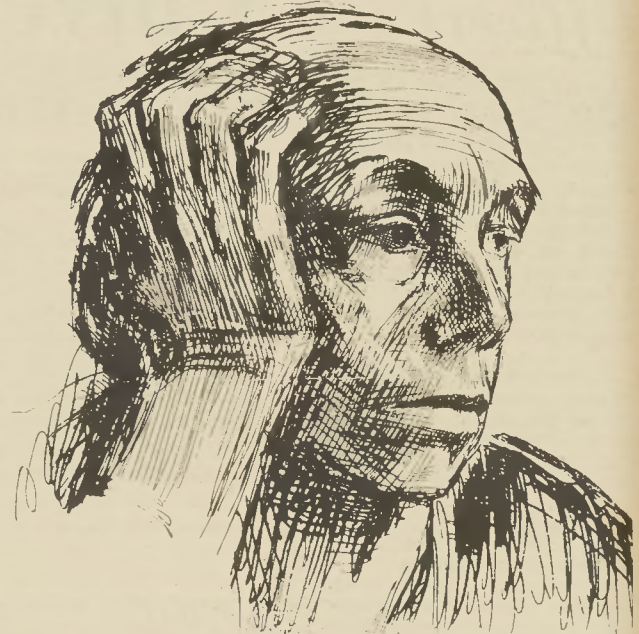

In regard to the section which makes secretary and treasurer non-elective positions, Psomodakis remarked, "These are really not elective positions when you think about the kind of jobs they do. These people need to work with the president," he added. "Just compare it to the national scale."

Billups said this would just "give more responsibility to the president who actually has it anyway."

In addition to these major changes in the proposed constitution, Billups said a minor change gives the president the power "to convene the newly elected and appointed judges of the Student Court". There was no procedure for this earlier, he said.

A major change in the by-laws section has to do with new hour requirement for offices. For Senior office, the minimum hour requirement for office has been changed from 70 to 72, for Junior office from a minimum of 43 to 40 and from a maximum of 69 to 71, for Sophomore office from a minimum of 15 to 19 and from a maximum of 42 to 39, and for Freshmen office from a maximum of 14 to 18.

Copies of the proposed constitution will be on display in the union throughout the week.

Student Ct. Revises Act

The Student Court is in the process of revising the judicial act under which the court now functions.

Perry Moser, Lieutenant Justice, states that there is a strong possibility that the new act will provide for several standing court committees made up of both faculty members and student court judges.

A traffic committee, academic disciplinary committee, and voting misconduct committee are only three of the possibilities open.

The court, which consists of Sam Scott (Chief Justice), Perry Moser (Lt. Justice), Vince Batts, Frank Crooks, Susan Allen, Bud Stokely, and Rod Smith, has not had a case since last summer.

Paul A. Miller Speaks At Education And World Affairs Conference

Dr. Paul A. Miller, assistant secretary for Education of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare will be among the nationally prominent speakers on campus this week.

Dr. Miller will speak at an open meeting at 8 p.m., Thursday, February 29 as a participant in a conference sponsored by Education and World Affairs and the University.

Dr. Miller will arrive by plane in Charlotte at 10 a.m. Thursday and will hold a press conference at 11:30 a.m. on campus. He will deliver a statement at that time which is expected to be of national significance. His statement will be of interest because of developments in his department in light of the recent resignation of John Gardner as Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare.

Dr. Miller is a former president of the University of West Virginia.

The conference will bring approximately 175 educators from 10

Southern states and Puerto Rico to Charlotte to discuss the roles of the following professional areas in world affairs: business administration and public administration, education, medicine and public health, engineering, law, and agriculture.

Education and World Affairs is a private, nonprofit educational organization founded in 1962. Its purpose is to assist in strengthening the performance of American higher educational institutions in world affairs. Its basic support comes from grants from the Ford Foundation and the Carnegie Corporation.

In addition to Dr. Miller, the president of Education and World Affairs, Dr. William W. Marvel, is on the program. He will speak at the opening session at 2 p.m., February 28 in the Barringer Inn. Since 1965 Dr. Marvel has been concerned with the federal government's international education program. He was a member of the President's Task Force on International Education and special advisor to its chairman, Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

Other speakers will be Chancellor John T. Caldwell of N. C. State University at 7 p.m., February 28; and Dr. Irwin T. Sanders, study director and vice president of Education and World Affairs, at 3:15 p.m., February 29.
