

Spotlighting...

By LARRY McAFEE

Marty Fleming and Mike Ridge comprise the UNC-C mile and two mile team. Both have been performing well in practice and should be the leaders of a fine UNC-C distance team.

Marty, a sophomore History major, was the top runner for the cross-country team and holds most of the course records in the DIAC. He finished first in the DIAC championship meet this fall. Marty has been elected to serve as co-captain by his teammates.

Mike, a sophomore History major, finished consistently in the top five runners on the cross-country team. He was also one of the members of last year's strong distance team.

Both should perform well this season and could sweep top honors for both events in most of the meets. They exemplify the desire, determination, and spirit necessary to make a team great.

We salute them for their efforts and team leadership.

Track Team Opens Season Against Catawba College

The track team opens its season this Friday against Catawba College in Salisbury. Last year Catawba dealt the harriers their worst defeat; however, only nine 49'ers competed in this meet. With the added strength and depth of this year's team, the 49'ers are hopeful of pulling an upset. Tuesday, the harriers take on St. Andrews College in the first conference meet of this season. This will also be the first home meet and will be held at Garinger High School at 3:00 p.m. Hopefully, this will be the team's first step towards the DIAC championship. Unlike last year's third place team, this team has balance in most events.

The 49'ers are expected to be strongest in the distance runs, relays, hurdles, and most field events.

Journal Readers Will Get Chance To Voice Opinion

Next week's Carolina Journal will feature an opinion poll which will give the readers an opportunity to voice their views on this year's edition of the newspaper. The poll is being prepared by Journal feature Editor Rodney Smity, and will be along the lines of the Union opinion poll that appeared last semester, giving the students a chance to make comments on each individual facet of the paper. The poll will appear in circular form within each copy of the Journal and there will be boxes placed in the cafeteria and behind the Union information desk for the collection of the completed forms. The poll will also serve as a recruiting device for next year's Journal staff.

Volunteers From Student Body Will Aid In Reworking Annual

charge would be involved as well. Kimbrell indicated a four-page addition might well be needed to provide extra space for the divisions but assured the group she would try to avoid this possibility.

The only other penalty involved, according to Edwards, is a later than planned delivery date for the finished "Rogues 'n Rascals". He said final delivery will be one day late for each day the classes section is held past the deadline.

Kimbrell told the group the annuals were to have arrived on campus ready for distribution September 6.

Student body Vice-President Bill Billups said he didn't think there would be any problem involved with getting the Student Legislature to foot the bill for the total late penalties which might run as high as $108.40.

Kimbrell asked that volunteers from the student body be found to aid the annual staff in reworking the class section. She said this reworking process which could begin Monday, March 18, an estimated 20 hours' toil by students working in teams of three.

It was agreed in the meeting that two other suggestions made by the Senior Class having to do with larger pictures for the Seniors and lists of each the Seniors and lists of each Senior's activities be dropped.

In an interesting sidelight, Kit Ward, representing the Freshman Class at the meeting, asked Kimbrell why she had decided upon grouping all students in alphabetical order without regard to class standing.

"I felt the trend is eventually coming to this," she answered. "I can show you many books with this type of layout."

Furthermore, she said since just slightly over 600 students here sat for annual pictures this year each class section would appear unrepresentatively small. Students present at the meeting included John Gaither, student body president; Bill Billups, vice-president of the student body; Candy Kimbrell, "Rogues 'n Rascals" editor; Cindy Trexler, student body treasurer and annual heir apparent; Jim Price, Senior Class representative and Publication Board member; Ellison Clary, Senior Class representative and Pub Board member; Phil Wilson, Junior Class president; and Kit Ward representing the Freshman Class.
