The University of North Carolina Press early next year will publish LeGette Blythe's GIFT FROM THE HILLS, Miss Lucy Morgan's account of her long career as founder and director of the internationally recognized Penland School of Handicrafts in the North Carolina Mountains.

Announcement of the forthcoming publication of Blythe's book, which was originally published by Bobbs-Merrill Company of Indianapolis and New York in 1958, was made by Matthew Hodgson of Chapel Hill, who recently succeeded Lambert Davis as Director of the Press. On a recent visit to Mr. Blythe, the new UNC Press director stopped off at UNCC and spoke briefly at the meeting of the faculty.

The new and updated edition of GIFT FROM THE HILLS, said Mr. Hodgson, will be published in both hard covers and paperback.

It will be the third Blythe title published by the press of his alma mater. The other two were BOLD GALILEAN, his first Biblical novel, and WILLIAM HENRY

BLEK: MERCHANT OF THE SOUTH, the story of the founder of the Belk family of stores. Together these books have sold more than 200,000 copies.

Ford offers grad grants

Ford comes through with a better idea once again.

The Ford Foundation has begun three doctoral Fellowship programs for 1971-72. The fellowships are available to American Indian, Black, and Mexican American and Puerto-Rican students.

Each program will support a full-time graduate student for up to five years if he continues to make satisfactory progress toward his doctoral degree.

Deadline for applicants is January 31, 1971. For further information, contact the financial aids office.

Stafford reads poetry November 9th

William E. Stafford, consultant in poetry to the Library of Congress, will give a public reading of his poetry at 8 p.m., November 9 at UNCC.

The reading in the Parquet Room of the University Center is sponsored by the Student Activities Board and the Dept. of English. Stafford will also talk with a creative-writing class.

At the Library of Congress, Stafford joins a distinguished series of poets who have held the post, including Robert Penn Warren, Allen Tate, Conrad Aiken, Elizabeth Bishop, James Dickey, Robert Frost, and Robert Lowell.

Stafford comes to the Library from a professorship of English at Lewis and Clark College in Portland, Oregon.

His volumes of poetry are "West of Your City", "Traveling Through the Dark", "The Rescued Year", and "Allegiances," published last spring by Harper and Row. His work has also appeared in a number of anthologies and journals.

In 1967 he held a Guggenheim Fellowship to devote the year to poetry. Other awards include the Shelley Memorial Award, Poetry Magazine Award, Yaddo Foundation Award, and the National Book Award, which he received in 1963 for "Traveling Through the Dark."

A native of Hutchinson, Kansas, he received a B.A. degree from the University of Kansas in 1937 and a M.A. degree in 1945. He received the Ph.D. degree from the State University of Iowa in 1955.

He will be in North Carolina under the auspices of the North Carolina Poetry Circuit.

SGA passes housing act

by Charlie Peek

The new housing act of UNCC, allowing dormitory students to regulate their own visitation policy, was the main order of business as the legislature met on Monday. Also a resolution regarding the now-controversial SAGA food service and a high ger debate on allocations to the Student Broadcasting Association kept the legislators alert.

The new Freshman officers and representatives were sworn in as the first order of business. Parks Warren was sworn in as class president, Willie Pinkney as vice president, and Robert Blue, Margaret Layman, and Clare Tausch as representatives.

Alan Hickok then announced that the Administration had reversed its policy of issuing multiple parking tickets for the same offense. He was promised that it would not happen again. Mr. Hickok also said that a new Food Service Committee had been appointed to study the problems of the cuisin on campus.

Next, the SGA president reported on the context of the campus president's meeting. Visitation policies were discussed including the recommended policy now being discussed in Chapel Hill. They are debating a Differential Housing Bill which would allow a House to set up its own rules regarding visitation providing the members of the House had Parental Permission. This set the stage on the floor for Hickok to present the new Housing Act of UNCC (S.L. Bill 70-71-6).

This bill provides that each residence hall be organized into five governmental bodies called houses. Each house would consist of the two floors that share a common lounge. Each house would also elect a slate of officers consisting of a president, a vice president from each floor, and a house secretary.

This president would represent the House in dealing with the administration, in sitting on the Residence Hall Council of his dormitory, and to see that the rules of his House were enforced. Secretaries would have the responsibility of posting all House and Dorm rules on the bulletin boards. All officers would be elected on a semester basis.

House Presidents and Chief Justices of each Residence Hall will compose a Residence Hall Council the duties of which would be to meet periodically to discuss problems common to the houses and to legislate rules and regulations for that dormitory in accordance with the Dean of students and the President of the Greek council formed

A Council of Presidents is being formed to give fraternities and sororities a sounding board for opinions they may care to convey to the administration.

Work has already begun on drafting the constitution for the council. The council hopes to establish cooperation and coordination between the fraternal groups on this campus, since pooling resources from all the organizations will permit activities to be held on a much larger scale. Officers of the Council are: Joey Howell (Theta Psi), chairman; Ron Foster (Chi Phi), vice-chairman; and Dorothy Conley (Soul phi Soul), secretary-treasurer.

student body. This would include all Visitation Policies as long as they were in accordance with the uniform policy of the Consolidated University of North Carolina.

Loan fund begun

The Marlin C. McCasland Emergency Loan Fund has been established at the University of North Carolina at Charlotte in memory of a student who was killed in September in a Charlotte automobile accident.

Forty persons contributed a total of $645 to establish the fund.

Chancellor D.W. Colvard said that the loss of the young man was keenly felt by many at the University and that a loan fund is an appropriate memorial to him.

Infirmary lives

Health Service is alive and thriving in the boy's dorm, 2nd floor Moore Hall. The service is maintained for all UNCC students, and is staffed with a nurse 24 hours a day.

The Health service hours are as follows, 8 a.m.-noon; 1 p.m.-5 p.m.; 6 p.m.-midnight; midnight-8 a.m. Breaks are scheduled for meals for the nurses, but students requiring emergency aid will be seen anytime.

All students getting allergy or penicillin shots should come between the hours of 8 a.m.-noon; 3 p.m. and 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, for no shots will be given on the weekend.

If a student feels he must see the doctor, he should see the nurse before 11 a.m. so a doctor's visit may be arranged.
