The programs I have selected will be perfect to ease the tension of this dreadful exam week.

Monday, April 29

8:00 a.m. New Zoo Revue. Today's segment deals with the cross breeding of a goat from the hills of Tibet with a toad. Channel 9.

11:30 a.m. Movie: Nights in Black Leather. Peter Burian stars in this sequel to Knights in White Satin. It's the same old whips and chains ordeal, only with a more gruesome slant. A cameo appearance is made by Henry Kissinger. Channel 36.

7:00 p.m. The Munsters. Grandpa robs the local blood bank. Channel 18.

8:00 p.m. The Rookies. Tonight's thrilling episode deals with a mad scientist that transplants the brain of a lesbian into a man who works for the telephone company. Channel 9.

Tuesday, April 30

4:00 p.m. Batman. Dame Edith Evans is today's guest villainess.

5:00 p.m. Movie: Desire Under the Elms. This is a somewhat sordid account of Faye Dunaway's menage a trois with Rex Reed and Otto Preminger. Dyan Cannon, Joe Hunter, and Mr. Ed star.

Wednesday, May 1

Since it's May day, all programs have been cancelled. So, go out and purchase a bottle of Longhorn wine and cavort around the lake.

Thursday, May 2

8:30 a.m. Captain Kangaroo. In today's segment, Mr. Greenjeans takes Dancing Bear to a gay bar.

10:00 a.m. Let's Make A Deal. President Nixon and Judge Sirica will be bidding for the big deal today which is worth ----???

12 noon. Face the Nation. Walter Slezak and Maria Montez are the scheduled guests.

1:29 p.m. Big Wally breaks his nose trying to run through a wall.

4:00 p.m. The Flying Nun. Sister Bertrelle gets mistaken for a mallard and is seriously injured in a hunting accident.

5:00 p.m. I Spy. Today's episode deals with the life of Lester Maddox.

6:30 p.m. CBS News. Walter Cronkite forms a nude conga line in the CBS studios to march down to the 55th Street Playhouse to see Sexual Freedom in Denmark.

10:00 p.m. Police Story. A sex-crazed chihuahua terrorizes the streets of San Francisco. Lassie, Francis the Mule, Rin Tin Tin, Dick Dastardly and Mutley, the Cheshire Cat, and Bonzo star.

Friday, May 3

Who cares what's on tonight. There's a party going on at my place.

Saturday, May 4

12 noon-3:00 p.m. Recover from the ghastly hangover you must have from my party.

4:00 p.m. Movie: Greek

Lightening. This is a somewhat humorous tale about the illicit relationship between a cobra and a rattlesnake. The symbolism is very intense. Bette Davis and Paul Lynde star. Francois Truffaut directed.

6:30 p.m. Local News. A Mazola party heads today's news items.

8:30 p.m. Emergency. Tonight's disaster deals with a satanically possessed rabbi. Mercedes McCambridge, Bebe Rebozo, and Jack Benny star.

9:30 p.m. Movie: The Night Before. This is a sequel to the bestselling novel and motion pic The Morning After. The plot is a thinly disguised fictional account of the life of Adolph Hitler. The film depicts Hitler as a fun loving little boy who only wanted to operate a fried pie stand. Skillfully directed by Werner Klemper. Starring Marlene Dietrich, Elke Sommer, Stella Stevens, Tallulah Bankhead (in drag as Hitler), and Sporko the Wonder horse. A special appearance is made by Martin Boorman.

Sunday, May 5

9:30 a.m. Ted Armstrong. Devil worship and how to practice black magic are today's topics.

11:30 a.m. This is Your Life. Mike Bryan is the scheduled guest.

7 p.m. Wonderful World of Color. Ed Sullivan does a striptease in tonight's pulsating saga.

Midnight. A champagne party at Grant's tomb. Everyone is invited.

The Doctor's Bag

Address questions to Dr. Arnold Werner, c/o Michigan State University, East Lansing, Mich.

Q: I always had a very satisfactory sexual relationship with my former girlfriend. But, I cannot warm up to my present girl although I like her very much.

What are the reasons? Is there a difference in the chemistry of our bodies that prevents me from getting sexually aroused by her?

A: Our relationships with all people are multifaceted. The type of friendship or closeness we have with a particular person is obviously determined by personality factors, but may also be affected by such things as common interests, physical or sexual appeal, necessity, need and convenience. Like you, I too am puzzled why some relationships just don't seem to go even though all the apparent elements of success are present. Equally as confusing, but more fun to contemplate and be involved in, are the relationships that seem to start with an instantaneous closeness and understanding, almost as if there is some sort of chemical or physical reaction between the people involved. If there is any chemistry in all of this, it is hormonal, not under voluntary control and not related to chemical differences between you and your friend.

Warmth, closeness and a satisfactory sexual relationship usually takes some time to develop but, at times it never develops; this leads to a tricky situation. I have become convinced that a lot of unmarried people hang in with relationships which have serious defects along one dimension or another. Rather than accept the fact that a relationship with a particular person might have a serious defect in one area even though worthwhile in other areas, people hold together in the hope or belief that eventually the relationship will become more complete. When the missing factor is something as basic as sexual feelings or involves personality styles, a couple might be better off either terminating the relationship or maintaining it as one that will not lead to any permanent arrangement.

Many people I have spoken to who have become divorced cite serious and obvious defects in the relationship that existed before marriage and which both parties hoped would disappear. It is my own opinion that people who take advantage of the time they are single to become involved in multiple relationships and feel free to find out who they are and what they need, have a much more likely chance of eventually marrying someone compatible with them. To remain involved in a serious relationship in which one cannot feel sexually close to one's partner is destined for trouble.

Q: With food prices skyrocketing my roommate and I have sought various means of reducing food bills. Can humans eat dried dog food and is it good for you? Not being gourmets we are willing to try anything once. Also, do you have a brand which you particularly prefer? By the way, keep on printing the truth, but don't try to convince me "it" doesn't cause hair to grow on your palms.

A: How discouraging, how absolutely discouraging. I sympathize completely with the difficulty of dealing with rising food prices, but to have to point out to me that you are not a gourmet while asking me about eating dried dog food, is too much. And then, you compound the insult by asking me if there is a brand that I personally prefer! Dog biscuits with a glass of milk when you return from class I could understand, but dog food for dinner, never!

There are no federal standards of purity for animal foods as there are for human foods. Therefore, the likelihood of contamination with bacteria is higher. Much of the contamination occurs after the food is processed, since the processing itself has sterilizing effects. Canned dog food is probably cleaner than the dried stuff. Dog food is also made from parts of animals considered at least esthetically unpleasant to contemplate eating, such as eyes, snouts, udders and intestines. Some of the animals used in feed have died of natural causes rather than having been slaughtered while healthy.

Nutritionally, dog food may be better than some terribly deficient human diets, but by no means would it be considered really adequate. The taste is also undesirable by most human standards, so by the time you doctored it up to make it palatable and nutritious, I doubt if you'd be saving any money. You would be better off using one of the many available cook books featuring inexpensive menus. Sources of free information about food are: Cooperative Extension Services from your local Agricultural college and Office of Information, U.S. Dept. of Agriculture, Wash., D. C. 20250.

If I take your last comment literally, it's less a matter of masturbation causing hair to grow on your palms than it is a matter of not doing "it" leading one to eat dog food.
